KING GEORGE ILL AT WINDSOR CASTLE

WOMEN POLL BIG VOTE IN BRITISH ELECTION

Keenest Interest Is Displayed By Feminine Voters

Reports From Number of Polling Booths in Britain Tell of More Women Voting Than Men; Campaign Managers Expect Seventy Per Cent of Country's Total 28,000,000 Votes to Be Cast.

London, May 30 (Canadian Press Cable)—Campaign managers estimated to-day that the vote being polled throughout Great Britain in the general election probably would be about seventy per cent of the total of 28,000,000, as compared with eighty per cent in 1924, when there were 6,000,000 fewer votes.

London, May 30 (Canadian Press Cable)—Eve is going to the polls throughout London, and for that matter throughout Great Britain, to-day. Even before breakfast time women in hundreds had put their crosses on ballot papers and placed them in the boxes.

Domestic servants in the residential districts slipped out of their kitchens as soon as the booths were opened and then hurried back to prepare the morning meals and scrub the doorsteps.

An early morning semi-tragedy occurred at Kensington, where a woman had come specially from Hampstead. She recorded her vote and might have been happy still if she had not insisted on talking to a policeman after leaving the booth. She mentioned she had put her initials on the ballot.

"I am one of the few who know how to do it properly," she said, but the policeman convinced her that by installing the form she had spotted the ballot and therefore lost her vote. She was on the verge of tears.

DRIVE AUTOS

Women motorists were more active than men in taking voters to the polls, especially in the suburbs of London. The enthusiasm and keenness of the feminine electorate was noticeable everywhere. One woman who had brought a party of girls to the polling booth in her car said she was not voting merely because she had studied the views of all three parties. She disagreed with them all.

The seriousness with which the women are taking the election is shown by the heavy poll they cast. In Westminster it was stated three women had voted to every man before noon. In Hampstead, where the women outnumbered the men on the voters' list, there was a steady stream of feminine voters at the polls until well after the lunch hour. 607 DIVISIONS VOTE

London, May 30—Balloting is in progress in England, Wales, Scotland and Ulster to-day in the general election to fill 607 of the 615 seats in the House of Commons.

The seven acclamations on nomination day, May 29, resulted in the return of four Conservatives and three Nationalist candidates unopposed. In Rugby, Warwickshire, the election has been postponed until June 13, owing to the death of the Labor candidate, H. Yates, two days before the election.

The result in 222 constituencies will be known to-night or early to-morrow, but the great majority of the remainder will not be announced until after midnight, London time, on Friday, including those of the three party leaders, Premier Stanley Baldwin, Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal, and Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor.

Results in most of the dozen university seats will not be announced until June 3 or 4, with the results of the three seats of the Scottish combined universities possibly being deferred until June 10.

ELECTION STOCK SHOWS SWINGS

London, May 30—Last-hour transactions were heavy and consequently wide fluctuations in prices were registered in the Stock Exchange market for "election majorities." The Conservative "stock" closed two points higher at 270-74 after fluctuating as low as 263, while Labor finished three points down at 244-48, after reaching 250. The Liberals were two points lower at 98-100.

LEADERS LEAVE CLOSING WORDS WITH ELECTORS

Lloyd George, Just Before British Polling, Says Conservatism Being Ousted

London, May 30—"I venture to say that the election will witness a national revival of Liberal strength and vitality throughout the whole of these islands," said Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George in his closing statement before the polling. "A prediction I will make is that this Government is going to have the most tremendous smash any government has had in this country. It is time they went, for nobody has a good word for them."

When he made these remarks the Liberal leader was addressing, in Welsh, a meeting last night at Carnarvon. "Whatever the verdict I shall accept it cheerfully," said Premier Baldwin at Preston, Lancashire, yesterday.

Both Mr. Lloyd George and Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, spent the day before the election in their own constituencies.

MACDONALD'S POSITION

At Shotton Colliery, a centre of the Durham coal mining area, Mr. MacDonald repudiated communism.

"I am not a communist," he declared. "I never was. I don't believe in them. I don't believe they will serve you well and I don't want to hide my opinion. I have said for years" (Concluded on page 17)

Ottawa, May 30—A proposal by A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, regarding the personnel of the Canadian section of the international board contemplated by the Canada-United States Sockeye Salmon Treaty was defeated by a large majority on a call for "ayes" and "nays" in the marine and fisheries committee of the House to-day. Mr. Neill proposed that the committee recommend to the House that the Canadian commissioners should be W. A. Found, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, a nominee of the fisheries interests and a nominee of the canny concerns.

The report of the committee approving the pact will be submitted to the House to-morrow.

First Election Returns In Great Britain

London, May 30 (Canadian Press Cable)—At 10:45 p.m. the Canadian Press reported the election of thirteen out of 615, distributed by parties as follows: Conservatives 7, Independents 3, Labor 2, Liberals 1.

A Liberal gain from Conservatives was reported in Great Yarmouth, where Arthur Harbord captured the seat from Sir P. Meyer.

Harbord polled 13,147 votes, against 11,570 for the Conservative candidate and 5,346 for the Laborite, G. F. Johnson. Harbord received more votes than his competitors had received in 1924.

Aston-under-Lyne, Barnsley and Cheltenham were unchanged.

A. Bellamy, Labor, and J. Potts, Labor, were re-elected in Ashton and Barnsley, respectively, while in Cheltenham Sir Walter Preston, Conservative, also was re-elected.

London, May 30—The first return announced in the British general election to-day was Oxford City, where Captain R. C. Bourne, Conservative, was re-elected.

Captain Bourne, a member of the last House, received 14,638 votes to 8,951 for the Liberal candidate, and 4,694 for the Labor candidate.

Captain Bourne received 2,000 more votes this year than in 1924.

BURY RESULT

The Conservatives registered another victory on the second result announced. Lieut.-Colonel C. Ainsworth, Conservative, was re-elected in Bury.

LIBRARY CUTS SAANICH OUT

Book Supply to Cease To-morrow, Commissioners Rule

Saanich residents will be denied use of the library facilities of Victoria after to-morrow evening, as a result of acceptance yesterday evening, by the Board of Library Commissioners, of advice to cease service to Saanich residents, tendered by the Saanich council last week.

Advised by City Solicitor H. S. Pringle that the Saanich council error in its view that no contract exists with Saanich, the commission found no optional course to cessation of service, in view of the information tendered by the Saanich council to terminate a service that body considered unauthorized.

THOUSAND LOSE

Over one thousand Saanich residents of the Victoria Public Library, as compared with about 300 last year, Saanich residents have this year been accorded the convenience of registration, without fees, at the library. This service is the basis of contest with the Saanich council, which has waived fees but desires to control registration from the Municipal Hall e Royal Oak.

LIBRARY TAX MOOTED

It is probable that a plebiscite upon the library facilities will be placed before the voters of Saanich this fall or at the annual elections. Members of the council are considering submission of a by-law establishing a small rate to raise about $8,000 annually for library facilities.

One of the factors in this aspect of library service is the allocation of $250,000 recently made to British Columbia by the Carnegie Institute for experimental establishment of a rural traveling library system with maintenance for a term of five years. It is the belief of members of the Saanich council that an offer of a municipal contribution annually would secure the experimental library service for Saanich and other lower Vancouver Island communities.

ONLY FOR DEFENCE

"If this declaration really represents the aspirations of peoples; if this covenant be genuine proof that the world has renounced war as an instrument of national policy," he asserted, "it means at once an abandonment of the aggressive use of arms by every signatory nation and becomes a sincere declaration that all armaments hereafter shall be used only for defence."

"Consequently, if we are honest we must consider our own naval armaments and the armaments of the world in the light of their defensive and not their aggressive use."

Expressing regret that despite the Kellogg-Briand treaty the world still was borne on the tide of competitive building, Mr. Hoover warned that "fear and suspicion will never slacken unless we can halt competitive construction of arms."

VICTIM OF AUTO RACE ACCIDENT

LATE WILLIAM SPENCE

AUTO RACER LOSES LIFE

W. Spence Killed When Car Turns Over in Contest at Indianapolis

Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind., May 30—William Spence of Los Angeles was killed to-day racing in the 500-mile International Motor Race at the Indianapolis Speedway.

Spence, one of thirty-three crack drivers of the world competing in the event, turned over on a southeast turn of the two and a half mile brick course, suffering a fracture of the skull. He was rushed to the track hospital, but died on the way.

Spence, twenty-four, was married. He was a relief driver for William Arnold in the race last year and finished seventh. Spence was a newcomer in major race competition. He had driven about forty miles over the perilously bumpy brick track when his car tipped over, planning him beneath it.

Cliff Woodbury was forced out of the race almost at the start when his car crashed into the wall as he was turning into the stretch at the northwest end of the track. Woodbury miraculously escaped death. His car was wrecked.

Jules Moriceau, of Paris, one of the two foreign drivers in the race, turned over coming into the stretch just before the 100-mile mark was reached. His car was smashed, but he escaped death.

Ralph Hepburn and Peter de Paolo were forced out of the race, both by broken steering gears, near the end of the 100-mile mark.

RACE WON BY KEECH'S CAR

Louis Meyer Second in 500-Mile Auto Event at Indianapolis

Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind., May 30—Ray Keesh of Philadelphia, driving twenty-eight-year-old driver, won the 500-mile motor race and prize of $100,000 at the Indianapolis Speedway to-day while a record breaking crowd of 160,000 looked on.

The race resulted in the death of William Spence, Los Angeles driver, and the narrow escapes of five others. Thirteen of the original thirty-three starters finished.

Keesh, going into the lead at 392 miles, reeled off the distance in 5:07.25.42, an average of 97.59 miles an hour.

Louis Meyer of Los Angeles, winner of the 1928 race, finished second, about seven and a half miles behind Keesh.

Meyer's time was 5:13.49.21, an average of 95.96 miles an hour.

GLEASON THIRD

Jimmy Gleason of Philadelphia finished third.

Lou Moore, who appeared certain to win second place, had the misfortune to burn out a bearing, with only five miles to go and was forced out.

Carl Marchese of Milwaukee finished fourth. It was his first test in major competition.

Gleason's time for the third place was 5:20.10.46, an average of 93.99 miles an hour.

ESQUIMALT WATERWORKS RESISTS TAX

Appeal Entered Against the Fixation of Levy By Provincial Court of Revision

Twenty-two appeals are set down down for hearing at the Victoria sittings of the Appeal Court, to open here on Tuesday at 11 a.m.

The hearings will include an appeal by agents of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company against the 1929 assessment of the company's assets made by the Provincial Court of Revision, under which a tax of $2,879 was fixed on an income placed at $35,988.

The company is appealing on the ground that the $35,988 was the payment of part of a capital sum, and being neither interest nor profit, could not be taxed.

H. A. Maclean, K.C., will appear for the agents of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company in the hearing, and W. H. Bullock-Webster, for the Provincial Assessor, T. H. Leeming.

Another Victoria appeal is that Nicholas Lerik, appealing from a ruling of Mr. Justice Murphy who dismissed a $5,000 claim for damages preferred by the appellant against James Zaferis, V. Paul, and Amelia Zaferis in an action for breach of covenant. Frank Higgins, K.C., will appear for the appellant, and D. S. Tait for the defendants respondent.

ISLAND MAY NOT GET NEW SMELTER

SALMON BOAT SEIZED OFF B.C.

U.S. Craft Mary C. Fisher Taken to Prince Rupert

Prince Rupert, May 30—The United States salmon trolling boat Mary C. Fisher has been brought into port here by the Canadian patrol boat Rivides after seizure off Tow Hill, Graham Island for violation of Canadian fishing regulations.

While officials of the company declined to make known their plans for the use of these powers, it was believed they are sought to operate a coast copper smelter. Lois River, which is a tributary of the Gordon River, could provide sufficient power for this purpose, it is understood.

Announcement of the company's application caused some surprise as it had been understood it planned to buy power from any company which secured the right to harness Campbell River on Vancouver Island. Whether the application for the Lois River powers means that the company's proposed smelter will be located on the Mainland instead of Vancouver Island could not be ascertained. Mr. Campbell, who acts for the Consolidated, left the city last night for the interior before announcement of the application was made to-day.

HERBERT MANSON WON HONOR WITH GREAT ADDRESS

Victoria High School Student Shares National Oratory Contest

Notable Oration at Toronto Finals Wins Honorable Mention; Returns To-day

Herbert Manson, champion boy orator of British Columbia, returned this afternoon from Toronto, where he was one of the leading contestants in the National Boys' Oratorical Competition sponsored by The Toronto Star.

Herbert Manson is eighteen years of age and a student at the Victoria High School. His address, "The Unification of Canada," which won him the championship of British Columbia at Vancouver, and was accorded honorable mention in the finals at Toronto, was as follows:

"The future of Canada is determined by the first, greatest and most comprehensive of all public interests—national unity. A unification which will be expressed not only in a bond of provinces under one name, but in the national sentiment of a people. "Canada stands to-day with an immense view of what is and what is past. The dawn of her history centered around the enterprise of a few heroic people—the persistent advance of their settlement slowly but surely conquering the wilderness, acquiring the vast territories that were later to call for union—their struggle to achieve freedom in the transition from non-representative to responsible government is essential as unity itself. From that image of progress to the force which united the scattered provinces, extended our borders from ocean to ocean, gave us a country and a name—Confederation."

"The tread of pioneers Of nations yet to be. The first slow wash of waves where soon Shall roll a human sea."

UNITY IDEAL BUILT NATIONS
"A century ago this land was a vast and lone wilderness. To-day, bounded by three oceans, with 3,690,000 square miles of territory, inhabited by a rich, vigorous and spirited nation of 9,000,000 people, one in its physical unity, one in its allegiance to the British Crown, stands a new Dominion. Could this have been possible without the compelling ideal of union? We cannot think so. Nor was Canada alone to benefit from that ideal, for her unity was instrumental in changing the old colonial imperialism, and chafed out of that change grew the establishment of the British Empire on a basis of democracy! Three great commonwealths have since risen, each with its patriotic devotion to a national ideal, each with its faith in Empire solidarity! Can you doubt the influence of Confederation here?"

"There is nothing in Canada more vitally significant, more worthy of public attention than the advancement of our national consciousness. There is no nobler aspiration than to create in all things Canadian profounder national unity. "Visualize, then, a country of four distinct settlements separated by rugged natural barriers and subject to the influx of diverse races. Herein lies the danger of sectionalism, the conflicting ideals which would retard Canadian development. We admit that danger is lessened in the political and economic union effected by transcontinental railroads, that it yields slowly to the amazing versatility of our material growth. Yet we cannot believe that these are influences enough to make a single national life. It is public spirit which can alone make Canada safe and secure, renowned in the richness of true unification."

"Historic causes, the clash between two long-established cultures, Anglo-Saxon and Latin, have disturbed our racial tranquility. These are no longer evident; but to-day we have two races, and two languages, and an almost equal division of the people between two great systems of religion demanding a finer synthesis of union. This diversity of race constitutes a problem much more national than provincial, and it is our duty to establish the basis of a common understanding."

EATS CABBAGE, FRIED POTATOES—NO GAS NOW

"Now I eat cabbage, fried potatoes, doughnuts and other foods I like. Adierka has ended distress after eating."—Mrs. O. E. Hytton. Adierka relieves stomach gas and sourness in TEN minutes. Acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel, it removes old waste matter you never thought was in your system. Let Adierka give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing and see how much better you feel. It will surprise you! At leading druggists. (Adv.)

standing, that we may find a new interpretation of the vital and inseparable dependence between French and English, that we may blend the culture of two great races into a corporate Canadianism, that we may bring forth the greatest voice in our national life—harmony in diversity!

MUCH DEMANDED

"Fifty years ago a Canadian statesman said to his country, 'Shall we live apart? Will we be content to preserve a mere provincial existence when united we may become a great nation?' What has justified the clearer vision of that man? What will justify still more his searching challenge to nationhood—but a unity cultivated in the mind and soul of the people. Such unification has need of more than material greatness, the interchange of provincial leaders and the intercourse of provincial peoples. It demands a specific culture in harmony with a spiritual elevation, that by a virtuous genius in Canadian art, literature and science, we may exalt Canadian nationality; that by the supremacy of those moral and intellectual faculties, this northern half of the American continent shall lose its sectional, racial and religious difficulties in a vaster conception of interdependence, in a Canadianism, worthy of such a country."

BUILDS ROAD TO DESTINY

"Canada's supreme achievement? Is it told by constitutional advancement, by intimate alliance with the Empire, by representation in the Assembly of Nations and clearer conception of international relationships? Is it complete in her social and intellectual foundation, in the principles of civil and religious liberty, in the unbroken, enduring heritage of British traditions, in her gift of opportunity to every Canadian? Is her destiny all fulfilled? "Ladies and gentlemen, we are in the very morning of our country's life, the greatness of Canada's sixty years is but the rudiment of an evergrowing great-

ONTARIO DEATH Conservative member of Parliament for Hastings-Peterborough, died here yesterday.
Ottawa, May 30.—Mrs. A. T. Embury.

M'GILL HONORS PREMIER KING

University Graduates' Opportunities Topic of Leader's Address in Montreal

Montreal, May 30.—The power and influence of the universities in the public life of the country, the opportunities of the university graduates in sharing that life and in guiding it along beneficial channels and a general survey of Canada's position in relation to other countries featured an address delivered by Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, before students of McGill University here yesterday. The occasion was the conferment on the Prime Minister of an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Touching on Canada's expansion, the Premier said there was a new field of opportunity for men of university training. There was a time when foreign countries were treated like strangers. Canada must now accept them as neighbors and be guided by a code of neighborliness in mutual dealings.

London, May 30.—A Jerusalem dispatch to The London Daily Express says desert runners brought to Beirut word that 2,000 Arabs had been slain at El Sarar, Nejd, in a battle between the Ajmann and Jawsah tribes. The fight was attributed to a breach of desert hospitality.

The Sheikh of Ajmann visited and was entertained by the Sheikh of Jawsah, but no sooner had he left the tent of his host than he was attacked. The Ajmann tribesmen promptly retaliated and in the following conflict both chiefs and a thousand tribesmen on each side were reported to have been killed.

NEW PLAN FOR REPARATIONS IS APPROVED

Paris, May 30.—The reparations experts at a session here to-day grappled with a number of knotty points among the German conditions and Allied reservations, any one of which if not satisfactorily disposed of might make final agreement impossible.

The discussion followed announcement last night that the German experts and the creditors had come to an agreement on reparations. The annuities as agreed upon average 2,050,000,000 gold marks (about $492,000,000) for thirty-seven years; 1,700,000,000 marks ($408,000,000) for twenty-one years; and 900,000,000 marks ($210,000,000) for the final year.

Under the agreement as concluded, these annuities will run from September next, instead of from April 1 last as originally calculated. The Dawes plan of payments will meanwhile continue in force.

The situation was explained last night by Thomas W. Lamont, United States alternative representative, as follows: "Both the creditors and German experts have declared themselves willing to accept the annuity figures of 2,050,000,000 marks, as suggested by the chairman although a difference existed on the question of interpretation."

This difference has now been removed and a common basis of interpretation acceptable to both the creditors and to Germany has been found. They still have, however, to agree on some conditions which still remain for discussion and settlement."

It was further explained this agreement was no one victory, for both Germany and the creditors had given way to make it possible.

NEW SOLO FLIGHT RECORD IS MADE

Los Angeles, May 30.—Herbert J. Fahy, test pilot for the Lockheed Aircraft Company, landed his Lockheed monoplane, the Metropolitan, at here, at 5:39 a.m. yesterday after breaking all official and unofficial solo endurance flight records with a continuous flight of 36 hours 56 minutes and 36 seconds.

The flier had started his record-breaking attempt Tuesday at 4:43 a.m. At 4:33:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon the break, by the required one hour, the official record of 34 hours, 53 minutes, made by the late Royal Thomas, United States army officer, a year ago this month. Fahy's record of nearly thirty-seven hours in the air surpassed that of Thomas by a little more than two hours.

The unofficial solo flight record of Martin Jensen was surpassed by Fahy by 1 hour, 23 minutes and 15 seconds. Three gallons of gasoline were in the Lockheed plane's tanks when it landed. Fahy said he came down rather than take a chance of being forced to land in the dark with a dead stick due to lack of fuel.

CONSULATES RAIDED Tokyo, May 30.—Press dispatches from Harbin, Manchuria, said Chinese authorities had raided the Soviet consulates at Fushan and Manchow in addition to those at Harbin and Suifu on Tuesday. It was said it had been established reliably that the Chinese Nationalist Government at Nanking had ordered the raids, hoping to uncover a definite connection of the Soviet Government with the Feng Yuxiang, who is leading a revolt in Central China.

PENSIONS ARE VOTED BY M.P.'S

National Health Estimates Also Approved By House of Commons

Ottawa, May 30.—All estimates of the Department of Pensions and National Health, with three small exceptions, were passed by the Commons last night in a vote of 249 to 10, totaling upwards of $80,000,000.

A sum of $42,000,000 is provided for Great War and active militia pensions. An item of $194,930 for civil government in connection with the department is included.

RESULTS OF WAR The difficulty of deciding whether a returned man's illness was due to war service or was contracted afterwards took up a great deal of the discussion on the pensions vote. Case after case was related where men, coming back from the World War, anxious to get home, were found to have contracted illness which might be difficult to prove attributable to the war, but nevertheless they really were. That these men should be entitled to be classed as suffering disabilities contracted in the war was the contention which came from various parts of the House.

Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Pensions and National Health, told the House his department had this matter under consideration and already had made considerable progress in meeting the situations described by various members.

RADIUM SUPPLY The nationalizing of the radium supply in this country was urged by Dr. I. D. Cotnam, Conservative, North Renfrew, Ont., when the health estimates were before the House. He explained that the supply of radium in this country was owned for the most part by private persons. He suggested the Government take over the supply and place it in convenient centres, with the change of experts where more sufferers could go for treatment.

ESTIMATES INTRODUCED After the pensions vote Hon. W. D. Miller, Minister of National Revenue, introduced his estimates, but no progress was made before adjournment. Yesterday afternoon the House gave first reading to a measure amending the Dominion Elections Act and third reading to the Supreme Court Act. The House yesterday afternoon passed remaining estimates of the Immigration Department to the amount of $82,900, leaving the vote of the soldiers' land settlement board over for further consideration.

SEA WATER IS TO BE USED AS BROMINE SOURCE

New York, May 30.—A secret voyage of the steamship Ethyl, a huge floating laboratory equipped to produce bromine from sea water, has been revealed in an announcement from the American Chemical Society.

The announcement says the voyage was a success and the recovery of bromine "is quite feasible." The motoring public supplied the commercial need that inspired the unusual sea trip, for bromine is an important factor with tetraethyl lead in making anti-knock gasoline. Exhaustion of the known sources was considered possible and as in the United States these were hitherto, the sea water research was undertaken.

The results are described by Charles H. A. Stine, chemical director of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company. This company, with others, including the General Motors research laboratories participated in the development. The Ethyl, a lake-type cargo steamer, was converted into a floating chemical plant at the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation's Wilmington plant. Pumps were installed to suck up 7,000 gallons of sea water each minute and tanks of acid were arranged for extremely fast mixing of this great stream. Compressed air supplied the energy.

It had been established before the trip, said Dr. Stine, that sea water contained the bromine, but the roving laboratory was needed to discover whether the concentration was sufficiently uniform throughout the ocean. It is uniform, he said, to the extent of about sixty to seventy parts in one million, which means that a plant "producing 100,000 gallons of bromine per month would require 392 years to exhaust the bromine available in one cubic mile of sea water."

Now it is proposed to recover the sea bromine by "a continuous pipeline process, pumping huge volumes of water through the system at high velocities."

British Labor Leader Did Not Smoke For Month

Durham, Eng., May 30.—Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, chief of the Labor Party of Great Britain, smoked again in peace last night after a month of abstinence from tobacco, as his co-horts prepared for the final struggle of the general election campaign.

AMBASSADOR KILLED Constantinople, May 30.—Authoritative information has reached Ankara from Afghanistan stating Afghan rebels captured and killed Ghuham Djelani Bey, Afghan Ambassador to Turkey, who was recalled by former King Amanullah to aid in the fight against the rebels. TOLL IS TAKEN BY FOREST FIRES

Unknown Number of Deaths on Southern Part of Saghalien Island

Tokio, May 30.—A pall of smoke last night covered scores of square miles of the southern part of Saghalien Island, where huge forest fires had destroyed several villages and taken an unaccounted toll of human life. Forty children were known to have died in their burning school at Esitor, where 700 houses were consumed by flames Tuesday. Seven bodies were recovered from the ruins of a nearby village and four other villages were in flames last night. While the roaring wall of flame was believed to have cut off the escape of the villagers, the actual number of casualties at these points was unknown.

TANLAC SAVED HER FROM INDIGESTION

Gripping pain, blinding headaches, twitching nerves, sleepless nights, steady loss of weight and strength—this was the unhappy life of Mrs. Elizabeth Dubry, 129 Windsor Ave., Windsor, Ont., until "a druggist advised me to try TANLAC. By the time the first bottle was empty, I had a good appetite, my stomach did not pain, and my nerves had quieted so that I could sleep at night. After the second bottle of TANLAC I had gained eleven pounds and felt like a new person. This was two years ago, and I have never had a sick day since."

AN AGREEMENT ON REPARATIONS

AFTER ABOUT SIXTEEN WEEKS OF discussion, the Allied and German reparations experts appear to have reached a conclusion in regard to what the debtor nation shall pay and how she shall pay it. The annuity for thirty-seven years will be $492,000,000; for twenty-one years it will be $408,000,000; and for the last year it will be $216,000,000. The total is $25,988,000,000.

The reparations experts of the Allied nations seem to be well satisfied with their lengthy deliberations. At times it looked as if deadlock after deadlock would produce complete disagreement and create a condition which would embarrass creditors and debtor alike. It was a foregone conclusion when the conference opened that Germany would use every device in her power to ease the burden which the Dawes plan imposed upon her. Her propagandists had been preparing the background for her case. The press had assisted in the development of a firm conviction in the public mind that nothing but irreparable disaster would overcome the country unless substantial reductions should be made.

In this mood her delegation, headed by Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, went to Paris. Nor was the atmosphere unsuitable for the purpose of the role it wanted to assume. The representatives of the Allies were divided on the amount and the manner of its payment. It required a good deal of tact to persuade France to retreat from the somewhat arbitrary position which she quite naturally had taken. While this atmosphere prevailed, Dr. Schacht and his colleagues were content to be patient listeners. It did not seem necessary for them to make any offers; nor did they make any. When proposals from the Allies came, therefore, they merely replied that the amounts and terms mentioned were wholly unsuitable. That attitude, of course, could be maintained only for a time. The day of reckoning had to come; but there have been a number of tense moments between the first meeting of the experts and the reaching of the agreement now announced.

It is an agreement, by the way, which once again reminds us how impossible it is to pay for a modern war of large proportions. Ten years ago we were hearing of reparations of $300,000,000,000 and $200,000,000,000. The present agreement of $25,988,000,000 is a far cry from these amounts.

AN AWFUL TOLL

ACCORDING TO STATISTICS PUBLISHED by the National Safety Council of the United States, 27,500 persons were killed in automobile accidents in the neighboring republic last year. This represents a total which is 6.3 per cent higher than in the preceding twelve months.

No doubt the accident toll will grow from year to year because of the increasing number of people who will be driving cars. Nor does there seem to be any way of cutting down the percentage save by continually preaching the gospel of "safety first." Propaganda no doubt is having its effect; but the craving for speed in this age of rush is difficult to deal with.

It would seem to the uninitiated that a time will come when some restriction will have to be placed upon the construction of engines so that they will develop a certain speed and no more. At present the main idea appears to be to turn out a machine and advertise its speed possibilities. If its limit shall be seventy miles an hour, we may be sure that, when he thinks it is safe, the owner will try to get that speed out of it. He may do it and not come to grief. But danger lurks in unexpected quarters. The slightest miscalculation, the development of the slightest mechanical defect, and one of a dozen things might happen.

The proper place for a speeding automobile is on a racetrack. The racer takes his own risk with his eyes open. He is not a menace to the public there.

THE SOCKEYE TREATY

INTIMATION COMES FROM WASHINGTON to the effect that the United States Senate may not ratify the Sockeye Salmon Treaty at this session of Congress because there is some dissatisfaction with certain provisions of the agreement. No doubt some of the senators are of the opinion that Canada would obtain greater benefits from its operation than the State of Washington would. But it was hardly to be expected that the Senate would deal with the matter at this session, since Congress was especially called to deal only with farm relief and other urgent domestic matters. At its regular session next September the agreement no doubt will be approved.

Such objection to the treaty as has developed at Washington, however, puts its opponents at Ottawa in an anomalous position. Their opposition, as far as they have made it public, is that the United States would not only get much the best of the bargain, but also that its operation would be tantamount to a surrender of certain rights by Canada to an international commission, obviously a wholly misleading interpretation—as all who have read the provisions of the pact clearly realize—and, of course, it is not the real basis of their antagonism.

The morning paper returns to a discussion of the subject with the statement that "twelve out of the fourteen members of Parliament for British Columbia at Ottawa are opposed to the treaty," and that "the people of this Province are with their members at Ottawa in their fight to have the treaty amended." This must sound strange to the readers of our morning contemporary, which repeatedly has told us that the Talmie Government, by virtue of the support its policies received at the polls, none the less by reason of its understanding of what is in the best interests of the Province, must now be recognized as the mouthpiece of the people of British Columbia.

In this matter of the Sockeye Salmon Treaty the Talmie Government speaks for the people of this Province. It is thoroughly familiar with the situation in the Fraser River system. It has accepted responsibility for the general formula embodied in the treaty under discussion. The Prime Minister himself has publicly announced his complete agreement with its provisions in a considered statement recently published. His Government commended the Government at Ottawa for authorizing Canada's signature of the pact. It has done all this in the interests of the people of British Columbia, with the full consent and approval of the fishermen and provincial canneries; but it has been confronted by the opposition of certain canneries stockholders in the east, who appear to have the Conservative members from British Columbia at Ottawa by the nose—whose one and only consideration is immediate profits at the expense of the future of a great industry.

In contrast with the attitude of The Colonist, however, is that of The Vancouver Daily Province, a newspaper enjoying by far the largest circulation in British Columbia, which notes that the restoration of the sockeye run to the Fraser River system to normal proportions should give this Province an annual revenue of $30,000,000, observing also "that the sooner this treaty is in operation, the better the people of British Columbia will like it."

EMPIRE'S CAR CENTRE

THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY IN Canada is comparatively young, but has developed in a remarkable manner. According to the last official return, it ranked fifth among Dominion industrial activities, and may now be fourth. At the time of this return there were eleven companies producing cars and trucks, all located in Ontario, the capital employed by these concerns being $88,831,668, and their production value $128,700,514. These figures have been steadily rising for some years and are without doubt higher to-day. The industry has expanded, largely under the stimulus of United States capital, which amounts to more than three-quarters of the total, to meet the rapidly increasing demands of the Canadian field, where the automobile has come to enter intimately into every phase of the nation's life, and also to engage in an ever-expanding export trade for which Canada possesses special advantages.

Canadian automobiles have found favor in practically every corner of the globe, and it is difficult to name a country to which some variety does not go. In particular, Canada has become the manufacturing centre for the outlying sections of the British Empire. Last year there was a substantial increase in the export of freight autos of one ton or less capacity, the principal customer for which is British India. About eight times as many freight trucks of more than one ton capacity were exported as in the previous year, these being widely distributed. Autos valued at $500 or less more than doubled in shipment, Australia being the first customer for these, followed by British India, New Zealand, Egypt, Argentina and British West Africa. There was a small increase in the export of automobiles worth between $500 and $1,000, the United Kingdom being first customer for these, followed by New Zealand, Australia, Ceylon and Argentina. Cars worth more than $1,000 were shipped to a smaller extent than in the previous year, the United Kingdom being the principal importer. The sale of auto parts showed a decline, these going mainly to Australia, New Zealand, British India and British South Africa.

In many ways the automobile industry occupies an important place in Canadian life such as it does in few other countries. Based on the increases of previous years, there must have been well over 1,000,000 automobiles owned in Canada in 1928, a high figure among a population of less than 10,000,000. Vigorously carried out programmes of good road construction in all parts of the country have made the automobile a vehicle of utility and pleasure to all classes. In particular it has revolutionized farm life in western Canada, facilitating farm operation and adding immeasurably to the recreation of farm dwellers. The wave of prosperity which has swept over the agricultural west has been attended by wholesale buying, not alone of automobiles, but trucks, which are coming into ever more general use for the transport of grain. In no country in the world is the automobile and auto truck in more general use than in Canada, while the Dominion is aiding in bringing about somewhat similar situations in other parts of the Empire.

Loose Ends

A Presidential idol shows his feet of clay—together with eight millions—while the critics of civilization are confounded by the epic of the buffalo—and the tragic history of the caterpillar.

By H. B. W.

IT IS all very well for our neighbors to hail Mr. Hoover as a superhero. It is all very well for papers like The New York Times, ardently Democratic at the last election, to turn about suddenly and find that Mr. Hoover is the prophet of a new era; but there has come from Washington this last week news that none of them can explain away. Mind you, it does not surprise me. Ever since the day when I saw a photo of Mr. Hoover on a fishing trip out west, in a white stiff collar, I had lost my faith in the man. Even the persistent reports of his week-ends down in Virginia and the eight trout he caught a week ago Sunday did not fool me. I suspected there would be worse things than the white collar before his term was finished. Well, there are. Mr. Hoover has established a permanent fishing camp down in Virginia and the white collar he has added electric lighting in his tent.

IT IS quite proper for the President of the world's richest nation to have electric lighting in his tent if he wants to, but only as a mere president. Not as a fisherman. There is no use him posing as a fisherman before the admiring people of the United States while he backs up nervously in an electrically-lighted camp. Every fisherman knows that you can't make a fishing camp unless you are dependent on an inch of wax candle which blows out in the wind. Nor can you go fishing unless generous proportions of sand and gravel get the frying pan while nameless hogs swim in the coffee, the bacon is burned to a black powder, and you are soothed to sleep by the mosquito's fierce lullaby.

IT IS no wonder Mr. Hoover returns to Washington after a week-end in his electrically-lighted camp, in his white stiff collar, and has to admit that his luck wasn't with him. It is no wonder that he is photographed with eight youthful minnows after two days in the woods. You can't take civilization into the woods and bring back the treasures which it reserves only for the uncivilized. You can't catch trout in a white collar, and you must cook your fish on the end of a stick before a smoky fire, not on an electric range. Mr. Hoover may be a great President, but as a fisherman he comes at the bottom of the poll. And what's the use of being a great president, if the trout disdain your fly?

I HAVE no patience for those who are forever deifying our civilization and casting doubt upon the progress of the human family. Almost every day comes some fresh evidence to confound them and prove that we are getting on. Recent additions to our magnificent zoological gardens at Beacon Hill Park serve as the latest witnesses to our moral growth. What a splendid chapter in our history do the newly-arrived buffaloes recall! We found the buffalo roaming the great plains of the prairies in stark ignorance and brutality. They served no useful purpose. They had no better feelings. They only roamed and ate. Were we content to let them go on in their abandoned ways? Heaven forbid. We put an end to their misery. We slaughtered them down to a few which somehow escaped our Christian zeal; we fed our railway builders on their flesh; we turned their useless hides into excellent fur coats and their bleached bones provided freight for the C.P.R. while it was waiting for the prairies to produce wheat. Then we found that a few of these unhappy creatures had escaped our kindly ministrations and were living in their original barbarity down in Montana. We had no use down in Montana. We had no use for buffalo coats, meat or bones at that time, so we took these survivors and put them in a great park around Wainwright and there we started to rebuild the race we had all but destroyed.

NOW, AS a final act of brotherly service to the species which we have rescued from its original misery, we place them in happy pairs in our public parks where they may bask in the smiles of admiring visitors all day long and never worry where their next meal is coming from. And so remarkably successful has this splendid campaign been from the beginning that the buffalo now has become a refined and civilized being who never bothers anyone, but basks at the pop-eyed visitor without brutality, without embarrassment, without the slightest interest in life whatever.

WHEN YOU read this epic story and when you think how we have taken Ursus Kermodei, the little white bear, away from his brutal companions and put him all by himself in a cement cell, where he may contemplate the eternal verities all day long, then you appreciate how human nature is improving.

THESE THINGS make it all the more remarkable that the kindly heart of man seems to turn to stone when caterpillar season arrives. Earnest correspondents of this newspaper have been writing feverish exhortations to our citizenry to arise and smite the gentle caterpillar; or he leaves its ancestral tent to nourish itself on the leaves which Nature has provided for its enjoyment. The fierce arrogance of these people almost makes one doubt the lesson of the buffalo. One gentleman writes to this column to state in language of cold, calculating ferocity, that the proper way to attack the caterpillar is to wait until he has gone unsuspectingly to bed in the evening, to crawl up on him in the dark and then to cremate him with a gasoline-soaked rag on the end of a stick. Another proposes that the embittered backyard gardeners of the city march forth in battalions, pluck the

The Victoria Daily Times, May 30, 1904

Nanaimo, May 30.—Fire last night destroyed No. 1 pit head, the property of the Western Fuel Company of San Francisco, the finest and most modern equipped on the Pacific Coast. The loss amounted to $80,000, partly covered by insurance.

Victoria and Vicinity—Moderate to fresh winds, generally fair, and not much change in temperature.

The first Sunday senior baseball game played in Victoria yesterday was won by the local team when it defeated the Manuel Lopez nine by 8 to 5 runs.

To-day the Sisterhood of St. Ann's Convent and St. Joseph's Hospital mourn the loss of Sister Mary Providence, who passed away shortly after 11 o'clock last evening.

The Victoria Sailing Company has received advice that the schooner E. B. Marvin, one of the Victoria seafarers sent to the Falkland Islands, has arrived at Halifax, N.S., with a catch of something like 900 skinks, taken on the southern hunting grounds. The schooner reports all well.

A sailing voyage, replete with thrilling adventure, was ended by the schooner Umbra, Captain Blackstad, which arrived home on Saturday evening, after a season that will never be forgotten by the skipper or any of his faithful crew.

CHAPTER PRESENTS
LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Mrs. A. E. Beck of Vancouver Honored By I.O.D.E. Yesterday

Presentation of a national life membership to Mrs. A. E. Beck of Vancouver in recognition of her years of splendid leadership at the head of the Connaught Chapter of that city, and ratification of life memberships given to Mrs. D. M. Balfour of St. John's, Saskatchewan, Mrs. J. M. C. Muir, Montreal, and Miss F. E. Currie of Montreal, formed an interesting feature of yesterday afternoon's session of the National Chapter I.O.D.E.

The bestowal of the life membership on Mrs. Beck by Mrs. J. A. Stewart was accompanied by a beautiful basket of flowers, the gift of the Connaught Chapter with which Mrs. Beck has been for so long associated. Mrs. Beck has also been on the provincial executive for a number of years.

The chapter also moved a vote of appreciation to Miss A. Stewart, Galt of Toronto for her excellent organization of the tour of the English schoolgirls, and the chapter will present her with a national life membership as a token of appreciation.

SCHOOL GIRLS' TOUR

The report of the schoolgirls' tour, presented by Miss Joan Arnold, led to an interesting discussion in which the resolution from the Ganges Chapter, Salt Spring Island, was brought to the attention of the meeting. This chapter suggested the arranging of reciprocal tours of Canadian schoolgirls to Great Britain, a suggestion which was enthusiastically endorsed by the meeting. The matter will be looked into and a later report, presented to the chapters.

Mrs. H. F. Griffin presented the provincial report for Ontario, which comprises 270 chapters. Saskatchewan's activities were reviewed in detail by Mrs. J. H. Holmes, provincial president. She spoke of the problem of Canadianizing the children of the foreign-born population, particularly in those districts where British-born settlers are very few.

DELEGATES FROM FAR-AWAY YUKON

Mrs. Isaac Taylor, Mrs. Galpin, Mrs. C. J. McLennan and Mrs. W. C. Copland who are representing I.O.D.E. chapters in the Yukon at the National Chapter meeting here. They were photographed at the Empress Hotel yesterday. Mrs. Taylor presented the report of the Yukon Chapters at this morning's session, showing the wonderful spirit of service of these women of the far north.

SIR PERCY LAKE TELLS AIMS OF SERVICE LEAGUE

National I.O.D.E. Hear Comprehensive Review of Ex-Service Men's Organization

Something of the vision of the British Empire Service League, the world-wide organization of ex-service men, was brought to the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire by Sir Percy Lake, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., in an address given at the Empress Hotel last evening.

The members of the Provincial Chapter of British Columbia were the hostesses, and the guests included the officers and delegates of the National Chapter, other distinguished guests included Sir Percy and Lady Lake, Premier Tolmie and Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mayor Anscomb and Mrs. Anscomb, and Frederick Brand, the first recipient in British Columbia of the I.O.D.E. scholarship.

FLORAL REPLICA OF BADGE

Mrs. Curtis Sampson, provincial president, presided at the gathering in the Empress Hotel. A brilliant note of color was struck by the presence at the back of the president's chair of a very beautiful replica of the badge of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, carried out in flowers in the exact tones of the emblem with scarlet and white rhododendron blossoms, blue violets, white lilacs and golden calliolas. This charming decoration, the design and handwork of Mrs. L. A. Genge, municipal vice-regent of Victoria and her able committee, was flanked on either side by the silken standards of the National and Provincial Chapters. Mrs. Genge's committee included Mrs. P. E. Corby, Mrs. W. Ellis, Mrs. H. P. Bagley, Mrs. G. Lillie, Mrs. Musket and Miss Pitts.

After the toast to the King and Queen, Mrs. J. A. Stewart, national president, proposed the toast to "The Empire." The toast to "Our Guests," was briefly spoken to by Mrs. M. S. Morrow for Nova Scotia; Mrs. McLeod, New Brunswick; Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, for Quebec; Mrs. A. J. Hughes, Manitoba; Mrs. W. R. Holmes, Saskatchewan; Mrs. E. C. Marshall, Alberta; Mrs. Waylor, Yukon Territory; Miss Nita Hensley for Prince Edward Island. Mrs. Curtis Sampson acknowledging the joint meetings on behalf of British Columbia.

MRS. STEWART SPEAKS

Mrs. Stewart, in her address, outlined the growth of the British Empire from the earliest days when men sought new lands in the search for religious and political freedom, when adventures, voyaging across the largely unknown seas, discovered new lands and added them to British territory. The Empire had grown in stumbling fashion, almost without conscious planning.

As a brilliant Scandinavian had remarked: "British statesmen had no aims, but they generally had principles." Cabot, Sir Humphrey Gilbert, Sir Walter Raleigh, Vancouver, MacKenzie and others of the early adventurers and colonizers who came to this continent were recalled. It was only when they lost the United States that the British sought to add these more northern lands, so that they might have someone to govern and defend. Reference was also made to the beginnings of New Zealand, Australia, Cape Colony, and other parts of the Empire.

SIR PERCY LAKE

Sir Percy Lake recalled that the British Empire Service League was intended as a great unifying organization aimed at the uniting into one great comradeship for maintenance of Empire of ex-service men and women throughout the Empire—men and women who had served and done their duty in the forces of the Empire in war or peace.

Its ideals were summed up in those of the Canadian Legion, the Dominion branch of the league, namely, loyalty, comradeship and peace. Loyalty to King, country and Empire, "recognizing duties to be performed as well as rights to be maintained; to stand up for honor, duty and public service; for a united national spirit and good government in Canada, for the bringing up of our children as good citizens and upholders of the principles for which the recognition by our country that our fathers fought, and lastly for it must take its full share in the responsibilities of Empire."

ATTITUDE TOWARDS PEACE

After reviewing the steps leading to the formation of the league, Sir Percy defined its attitude towards peace. "The British Empire Service League is not for peace at any price. Where we have pledged our national honor to defend the weak or protect minorities we are bound to keep our word. Some of our pacifist peace-at-any-price friends are insistent for immediate total disarmament. They forget, or conveniently ignore, such facts as that India has tribes on her frontier, whose warriors number hundreds of thousands, who are only kept from raising the peaceful peasants on the plains by the ability of the Indian army to maintain the Pax Britannica; or again, that we are pledged to defend Palestine and Iraq until they can undertake their own defence. On the ocean, too, pirates still exist and ply their trade, and only need immunity to multiply. Instances can be easily multiplied to demonstrate that total disarmament can at present be only a dream."

REHABILITATION WORK

The speaker also told of the rehabilitation work of the league, of its care for disabled ex-service men and for the dependents of fallen and ex-service men. The part of the league in watching the administration of pensions was also touched upon. While guarding the interest of the ex-service man they tried to see that the interests of the state did not suffer.

Mrs. Graham Thompson of Toronto and Hon. S. F. Tolmie voiced the thanks of the gathering to Sir Percy Lake. During the dinner Mrs. A. F. Griffith, on behalf of the provincial executive of the order, presented Mrs. Sampson with a beautiful colonial head table also received a charming Mortimer Appleby, Mrs. Haddow and Mrs. S. Wood, and a place card in the shape of a colored totem pole, made by Mrs. L. A. Genge.

Considerate "I want," said the house-hunter, "a house in an isolated position—at least five miles from any other house." "I see," said the agent, with an understanding smile, "you want to practice the simple life?" "No," answered the house-hunter, grimly, "I want to practice the cornet."

Your Baby and Mine

DAILY AIRINGS AN INSURANCE AGAINST ILLNESS

This is the time of year when pale and puny little houseplants are set out in the sun and show clearly the effects of their long months in warm and badly-aired rooms. There is a daily plaint from mothers that marks their recognition of the effects of the babies' long session indoors, and they should realize that about all that is necessary to recede that pasty skin, start Patty's hair to growing and cure Bud of his inclination to take cold each time he gets a sniff of fresh air, is to give over-doses of just this same air and sun.

DAILY AIRING ESSENTIAL

Now that conditions are favorable for daily airing for babies past two weeks of age, mothers should make it a stern and unalterable duty to get out for at least two hours every day. No, it isn't a bit of fun to wheel a baby out in the sun. The housework is bound to suffer. But just putting him in a well-aired room isn't quite enough. And sometimes putting him out in front of the house, if he has to close to the street and sleep in dust and motor car fumes, isn't enough either. He needs to be directly in the sun and breathe fresh, clean air. One young mother said to me, "Oh, I hate this daily parade of baby carriages and dragging the child to the park." Well, it just has to be done. It's part of the duty of caring for a baby in the proper manner. Sunlight and fresh air are, next to food, the most important part of the daily routine.

LET DIET FURNISH TONIC

The older child needs it just as surely. The little runabout who can't be trusted to stay in the yard needs his daily airing as surely as his baby sister. Spring used to mean doses of thick, pasty sulphur and molasses, or worm medicines, or cream of tartar to thin the blood! Mother felt that housecleaning wasn't finished until the family had been housecleaned, too. Now we furnish the children with red blood that puts color in their cheeks and deposits bundles of oxygen in every cell in their bodies by the much more agreeable method of tarring their plates with every kind of vegetable, using stewed or raw fruit for their desserts and sending them out in the sun to draw their spring tonic from its rays.

These are such pleasant tonics that mothers can't possibly believe them even more efficacious than the old-time nostrums. If vegetable and fruit juices came in expensive bottles and tasted just a bit nasty, mothers would feel so much more as if they were really spring tonics.

So we have to conscientiously administer the vegetables, milk and fruits and the daily airing and sunning as though they were in truth medicines. They are the children's positive insurance against summer illnesses, for there are no more perfect seasons for building bodies than these bright, spring months.

SPEARMINT
TOOTH PASTE

No OTHER DENTIFRICE so entirely deserves your preference. It is compounded with scientific accuracy. It cleans the teeth thoroughly without the destructive action of abrasives. You'll enjoy the cooling, antiseptic spearmint flavor. Tests show 92 3/10% of people do.

Spearmint Tooth Paste is the most economical dentifrice. Pure alcohol takes the place of useless water in the formula—giving this dentifrice an important stimulating and antiseptic character.

Spearmint Tooth Paste lasts four times as long as any other. One-quarter inch, laid across the brush, is sufficient for a thorough cleansing. Use Spearmint Tooth Paste and you will save three-fourths of the money you now spend for dentifrices.

Pirates Subdue Cubs In First Clash For Lead

Pittsburgh Continues Great Pace in National League by Victory Over Chicago to Take League Leadership; Cubs Must Win Two Remaining Games of Series to Get Back on to Even Terms; New York Giants' Winning Streak Broken by Brooklyn; Washington Takes Yankees Into Camp.

The Pittsburgh Pirate charge has broken through into open territory with nothing to halt it. General McCarthy reformed broken Chicago Cub lines near Forbes Field today for a rearguard action designed to prevent the Pirates from maintaining their advanced position, but the Chicago forces faced the necessity of winning both battles if they were to hurl back the troops of Donie Bush.

The last Cub line gave way at Pittsburgh yesterday under the pressure of Pirate bats, and the blinding crossfire of Young Steve Swetonic.

The Pirates won by 7-2, thereby moving into the league leadership by margin of one game. The defeat pushed the Cubs back into a tie with the St. Louis Cardinals, who were unkind enough to snatch two games from the Cincinnati Reds at St. Louis, 4-3 and 6-2.

Dudley broke the winning streak of the New York Giants when Brooklyn won by 4-1.

The Phillies incurably addicted to the habit of mistreating the Boston Braves, repeated yesterday by 12-2. The Washington Senators' record was looking up again yesterday when Washington won easily by 8-3 over the New York Yankees.

The Philadelphia Athletics won over the Boston Red Sox 7-1, behind Earnshaw's smart pitching.

The Detroit Tigers were thoughtful enough to halt the St. Louis Browns by 7-6. George Uhl hung up his ninth successive victory of the season.

FISH'S GOAL GIVES BAYS SOCCER TITLE

Defeat Rennie's 1-0 in Deciding Match For Wednesday League Honors

Teams Put Up Great Exhibition; Bakers Have Held Title For Three Years

Don Fish's fast ground shot to the corner of the nets, half-way through the first half spell victory to the fast-moving Hudson's Bay over their old rivals, the Rennie and Taylor team, in the finals of the Wednesday League football played at Beacon Hill Park yesterday.

Both teams played good football and it was only an excellent piece of combination work by the Bay forwards that enabled Fish to score what proved to be the winning goal. A strong wind blowing across the field made it difficult for the Rennie to handle, but, apart from this, the conditions were ideal and the large crowd that was present were treated to a real exhibition of soccer.

Rennie's kick-off, but the ball was immediately blocked by the Bay halves and a combined attack started on the Rennie's goal. The fullbacks were safe and play stayed in center and Rennie had a good chance to score, but over-eagerness spoiled it. McKinnon broke up a dangerous rush and then Obee had the first shot on goal for the Bays when he just skimmed the post with a shot that had Geddes beaten all the way.

The resulting goal kick, Rennie's pressed, but Shrimpton was safe and handled everything that came his way. Play hovered between the two goals with both teams playing the "kick and run" game. The Bays were the first to steady down, and on a combined rush Obee nearly fooled Geddes with a high one that the wind carried outside.

RAY'S SCORE The Bays were having the edge of the play and were awarded a foul play outside the penalty area. Kerbin's kick was perfect and Hamer tried hard to reach the ball to prevent a goal, but could not quite make it. The Bays were not to be daunted, however, and another forward rush, Addie sent across a perfect center to Hamer who in turn passed to Fish, who made no mistake when he beat Geddes for the only goal of the match.

Following the center Rennie's tried hard, but the Bays were out to win and were letting nothing slip by with their straight play. Up till this period most of the game had been played outside the field, only two corners having been awarded. The bakers tried and then Geddes saved a beauty from Obee. Obee and Hamer both had shots on goal, but Geddes was right on to his job and let nothing by. Tuppman cleared a dangerous rush, and right after that the whistle for half-time blew.

On resumption of play Rennie's seemed a new team. Wright had a good chance, but headed over the bar. Shrimpton saved two hot ones from the goal line and played like a sure goal. Woodley took a free kick and placed the ball right in the goal mouth.

George Davis just missed the goal with a sizzler. Rennie's tried and Purdy, youthful forward of the Rennie's, put in a shot that just sailed over the bar with Percy Shrimpton. Then Geddes saved a beauty from Obee. Obee and Hamer both had shots on goal, but Geddes was right on to his job and let nothing by. Tuppman cleared a dangerous rush, and right after that the whistle for half-time blew.

Hard Slugging Champ By Jimmy Thompson

Malcolm Matheson is the newest fistic sensation in the Canadian amateur field. Malcolm first jumped into the limelight by beating Hutchinson for the Ontario amateur title and topped off this feat by capturing the Dominion title at Winnipeg this spring.

In a recent bout in the Queen City under the direction of Charles Ring, he showed up as one of the greatest fistic sensations to enter the ring in this country in a long while.

The boy makes good use of both his hands and has a fine variety of punches. He seems to have plenty of ability and when he gets to work again this autumn he should give the fans thrills without the frills.

LAWN BOWLERS TO MAKE TOUR Canadian Party Will Leave Vancouver in December to Visit New Zealand

Arrangements have been completed for a party of Canadian lawn bowlers to make a tour of New Zealand and Australia, according to word received in the city this morning by David Dewar, secretary of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club. The party will sail on the B.M.S. Aorangi from Vancouver on December 11.

The tour is being arranged under the auspices of the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association. A. Langford of London, Ont., is in charge of all arrangements. Secretaries of all local clubs are requested to forward the names of any members of their clubs who would like to make the trip, to the secretary of the British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association.

After short stops at Honolulu and Suva the party will land at Auckland on December 30. The tour will start from there, a visit being paid to all important points in the Dominion. This tour will continue until early in February when the party will divide, those who desire will continue on to Australia for a month's tour, while those who cannot extend their holiday will return home.

Local bowlers will recall with a great deal of pleasure the visit here a year ago of the lawn bowlers from New Zealand. They proved to be excellent players and no doubt a great number of players throughout Canada will take advantage of the opportunity of paying a return visit.

VICTORIA LOSES FIRST RANKING SWIMMING STAR

T. Wellburn, B.C. and Canadian Record Holder Will Leave City For Up-island

Has Been Winning Championships Since 1922; Helped Develop Aquatic Sports Here

Tom Wellburn, Victoria's premier swimmer, holder of British Columbia and Canadian championship records and present president of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, will leave his familiar haunts, the Crystal Garden and the Gorge, to take up his residence near Shawnigan Lake on Monday.

With Tom's leaving, Victoria will lose the second of the city's two swimmers who were able to defend their laurels against outside competition so successfully. Audrey Griffin, the outstanding local swimmer, succumbed to Dan Cupid's bow two months ago and left for Calgary. Although Wellburn will not be absolutely separated from Victoria, he will be able to come down only for the more important meets.

Tom first broke into the swimming world about ten years ago, when he successfully competed with the best talent the Province could send against him. Since then he has been swimming for the V.A.S.C. and has added laurel after laurel to his collection. Now he has a box full of medals that number well over half a hundred.

For many years he has been one of the foremost competitors in The Times Through-Victoria Swim and last summer led a fast field over the course to capture the long swim trophy. Fifty yards to 500 are his specialties. Last year he established a Canadian record for the former distance and has frequently come within split seconds of others.

HELPER DEVELOP CLUB Although not one of the founders of the club, Tom has played a big part in the development of the V.A.S.C. and has been one of the foremost to encourage young swimmers.

He was a constant thorn in the flesh to Vancouver aquatic stars, who could not meet him in the pool for this distance. He has gained sufficient speed to meet any man in British Columbia in sprints and in distance races.

ALL Wellburn's achievements in the swimming world are purely the result of his own initiative. He has trained himself, and without the aid of a coach has gained sufficient speed to meet any man in British Columbia in sprints and in distance races.

HEENEY IS WINNER IN SLOW BOUT

Awarded Decision Over Elsear Rioux of Montreal in Eighth on a Foul

Canadian Fighter Holds and Clinches; Tom Does All the Leading

Montreal, May 30.—Tom Heene, New Zealand heavyweight, defeated Elsear Rioux, Montreal heavyweight, here last night in the eighth round of their scheduled ten-round bout, when Rioux was disqualified for striking a foul blow.

It was an unsatisfactory match throughout, Rioux's holding tactics and low blows marring the fight.

Heene did all the leading, but found trouble in getting at close quarters with Rioux, owing to the latter's long arms and holding in the clinches. In addition, Rioux hit more than ten low blows during the fight, but Referee McPartland let these pass unnoticed because they were of the light variety and mostly harmless. The New York referee warned Rioux upon four occasions to go in and help Heene, but Rioux would not like the looks of the latter, and kept as far away from him as he could. Finally, in the eighth round, McPartland caught Rioux hitting another of his low blows during one of the numerous clinches, and immediately waved the Montrealer to his corner and awarded the fight to Heene.

McPartland's action was popular with the vast majority of the crowd of 10,000 persons that witnessed the fight. Following the bout, one judge declared that he had scored fifteen fouls against Rioux, while the other judge stated that he had counted eleven foul blows against the former lumberjack.

With the exception of the first round, which showed both fighters at poor advantage and which was about even, Heene won every one of the remaining rounds. He was the aggressor throughout, and the times that he did break through Rioux's armour, he made things uncomfortable for his opponent.

Rioux seldom did anything but attempt to keep out of Tom's way, and struck only about four or five clean blows in the eight rounds.

Rioux, in addition to being disqualified, lost part of his stipulated prize. The Montreal Athletic Commission decided that, in view of his striking $700 would be deducted from the $3,500 that he was to have received as his share of the bout.

Heene had a weight advantage, weighing 208, and Rioux 178½ pounds.

Canaan, Five-year-old From Lamar Stock Farm, Wins at Washington Park

Jockey R. Russell Rides Three Winners in Succession at Churchill

New York, May 30.—Canaan, the five-year-old runner from the Lamar Stock Farm, has been endeavoring to win a race since last October, and yesterday he finally succeeded in the Dearborn Purse at Washington Park.

The aging son of Hourglass won his last race October 20, 1928, at Latonia. Since that time he has campaigned at Bowie, Lexington and Churchill Downs, but with no luck. Yesterday was his fourth time out this season, and the first time he has finished in the money.

Over a fast mile track the Lamar Stock Farm color-bearer whipped a field of seven-year-olds, All leading the Royal Stable's four-year-old Bleasfield to the wire by a length and a half. J. J. Greeley's Devon was third, closing up a big gap in the stretch run. Canaan's time for the mile was 1:30.

The Sagamore Stable Color Collector, backed down from ten to one to nine to one, was an easy winner of the Harlequin Claiming Stakes, a mile gallop for three-year-olds and up at Belmont Park. Sun Forward, carrying the colors of Mrs. V. Emanuel, got a poor ride from A. McKechnie, but managed to get the place with S. Ross's Verdi third.

Sanford and Juggler, which were coupled as the Rosedale Stable entries and the favorites, finished at the end of the field. Corn Collector jumped away to the lead, stepping the first six furlongs in 1.11, with the result the field had to drive hard to keep within striking distance. All chance of the stretch Robertson, who had the mount looked back at the field, easing up near the finish in going under the wire. The winner wound up two lengths ahead.

WISDOM WINNER R. S. Clark's Wisdom was first home in the feature at Churchill Downs—the Argonne Hotel Handicap—four honors of the day went to Jockey R. Russell, who rode three winners in succession. He was up astride Colature in the second, Polly Wog in the third and Virago in the fourth. He was astride Marconi in the feature event, the best topper of the day. M. Goldblatt's seven-year-old horse was third.

Emery, the nine-year-old runner from the Lamar Stock Farm, finished second to Wisdom in the handicap. The Audley Farm scored another victory at Fairmount as the four-year-old filly by Man o' War—Sister Ship—won the first of two stakes races. Card—W. J. Henfling sent out the place winner, False Pride, while D. L. Kelfer's Ben Marshall took down the dirt of the purse. Sister Ship's time for the five and one-half furlongs was 1:06 3-5.

CHEMAINUS TO PERFORM HERE

Will Oppose Victoria Capitals in Island League Ball Game Saturday

Victoria Capitals, champions of the Vancouver Island Baseball League, will seek revenge for their defeat at Chemainus last Sunday when they oppose the Up-Islanders in a league game at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon. The game is expected to get under way at 6 o'clock. Allie McGregor and Frank Moore will be the umpires.

Norm Forbes will most likely take the mound for the Caps, while Tommy Bowden will complete the battery. Chemainus, the out-of-town team, who turned back the Caps with only five hits in Chemainus, will occupy the mound for them. Out of their three games played the Caps have won two and lost one and are in the second section, although Duncan are close behind.

The Capitals will hold a general meeting to-night at the Y.M.C.A., commencing at 8 o'clock. All players and officials of the club are asked to be in attendance.

Old Country Cricket

London, May 30.—Terrific scoring took place in three English county cricket matches yesterday. Playing against Middlesex, Essex made 211 for seven wickets. Warwickshire put together, by a coincidence, the same total against Kent, while the champion county, Lancashire, piled up 481 for only two wickets, against Worcester. A great stand was made for the second wicket for Lancashire, Watson scored 297 and Tyldesley 155, not out. Cambridge University failed badly against South Africa, Merkel and Oches, the tourists bowlers, dismissing the students for 98 in their first innings.

Scores at close of play yesterday: Surrey 197, Northants 128 for three wickets. Essex vs. Middlesex, at Leyton—Essex 421 for seven wickets. Warwick vs. Kent, at Birmingham—Warwick 421. Hampshire 62, Derbyshire 247 for four wickets. Notts 255, Somerset 33 for five wickets.

Lancashire vs. Worcester, at Worcester—Lancashire 481 for two wickets. Cambridge University 98, South Africa 238 for five wickets. Leicester vs. Oxford University, at Oxford—Leicester 347 for eight wickets.

GAVUZZI BACK IN LEAD AGAIN

Overcomes Salo's Lead By Winning Lap From Las Cruces to Deming

Deming, N.M., May 30.—Pete Gavuzzi, bewiskered Italian, of Southampton, England, stepped back into his former position as leader of C. C. Pyle's "bunion derby" yesterday, when he sped sixty-three miles over the desert country in the sixtieth lap of the "bunion" derby between Las Cruces, N.M., and Deming, N.M., in 8:14.30. The Italian overcame the lead of 42 minutes and 30 seconds, held by Johnny Salo, and stepped to the front by 21 minutes and 10 seconds. Salo was third yesterday in 9:18.10, 1 hour 3 minutes and 40 seconds behind Gavuzzi.

Giusto Umek of Trieste, Italy, third in elapsed time, finished second in the lap in 8:43.20, and added almost two hours to his margin over Sam Richmond, New York Legionnaire, who holds fourth place. Richmond finished in a triple tie for fifth place yesterday, with Phillip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., and M. B. McNamara of Australia. Herbert Hedeman of New York, oldest man in the field, was fourth.

Brentwood First Team Wins From University Boys

Overwhelming University School with a 146-48 score, Brentwood College first cricket eleven carried off senior honors in the inter-school cricket match yesterday. University School second team came back strong in their division to defeat Brentwood juniors with five wickets to spare.

Hambury and Robertson, both of Brentwood, were high scorers in the senior match, the former carrying his bat for fifty-two runs, while the latter made fifty-five.

Hambury and Senkler, with scores of fourteen and fifteen respectively, led the University batsmen.

Mitchell bowled in excellent form for the College. He took eight wickets for only twenty-one runs.

In the second team match, University School established such a commanding lead in the first innings that its batters were able to retire with only five wickets gone in the second inning and still win the encounter.

Star First Baseman a Real Clown

CHARLEY GRIMM

THEY HAVEN'T SEEN A BETTER FIELDING FIRST SAGNER SINCE HAL CHASE

One of the men upon whom Joe McCarthy is placing a hope that his Chicago Cubs will win the pennant is Charley Grimm, who is regarded by his ball players as the best fielding first baseman since the days of Hal Chase. Grimm always has been a fine fielder. In fact, it was his skill on the defensive that kept him with the Pittsburgh Pirates when his hitting wasn't the size of his hat. But in recent years he has become a hitter. He hasn't led the league or anything like that, but he is respected by all the opposing pitchers as a dangerous batter in a pinch.

Early in his career Grimm was light-hearted and gay. He was a clown and he didn't take his baseball seriously. It has been said that he and Rabbit Maranville laughed the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the National League pennant in 1924, and Barney Dreyfuss, the Pirate chief, sent him on to the Cubs.

Grimm is still somewhat of a clown on the ball field, but he has learned when to do his clowning. Off the field he is the life of the Cub family. He has a $400 banjo and he can play it. He also plays the harmonica, the trombone, the mandolin, the guitar, the piano and the xylophone. He is a swell singer in a quartette and an amateur magician of ability. He carries a magician's outfit around with him and can pull rabbits out of a hat or eggs from under the lapel of your coat. He talks German fluently and knows all the German folk songs and dances. And he can tear off a wicked sock shoe tap dance. And during the winter he makes toys in his home for the kids.

FAVORED STARS ARE DEFEATED

Dark Horses Come Through in Opening Round of California Golf Play

Del Monte, May 30.—In a first round marked by several up-endings of favorites, amateur golf stars of California started their quest yesterday for the state championship. While the easy victory of John McHugh, defending titlist from San Francisco, was worthy of more than passing comment, a large share of the spotlight was focused on William Krynock of Del Monte, a dark horse, whose spectacular play forced Danny Sangster, young Los Angeles star, out of the championship picture. McHugh had no difficulty in disposing of Winston Fuller, 6-5, and doing so he put himself in line for a hard battle to-day with John DePaolo, Bakersfield, furnishing the opposition.

De Paolo eliminated Warren Johnson, Los Angeles, 4-2. The victory of Krynock was unexpected as it was thrilling. To beat Sangster he shot the difficult first nine of Pebble Beach. Where the national amateur was played in September, in thirty-five figures were one under par. Krynock earned his way into the second round with a score that included five birdies on the out-going stretch.

Other favorites in the championship list who were unceremoniously dumped by short-enders were Warren Edmonds of San Diego and Ralph Hoffman of Oakland. Jack Neville, four times winner of the state championships, advanced at the expense of Claire Griswold, San Francisco, who succumbed 3-2.

One-time Playboy Plays Star Role With Lowly Phils

Philadelphia—It now seems that "Lefty" O'Doul is beginning to take his baseball seriously.

When O'Doul first arrived in the big leagues as a member of the New York Yankees his playboy antics soon won him a ticket back to the minors.

He was a pitcher then, but he turned to outfielding and returned to the big leagues as a member of the New York Giants. McGraw, however, couldn't stand the way he had to wind up every time he threw a ball from the outfield and traded him during the winter to the Phillies.

As a member of the Phillies this season O'Doul is earning his spurs as a star in the majors. His hitting has been one of the sensations of the season so far.

This poor duffer politely went up and held the pin for his partner, who was in the trap short of the green—and see what happened? Now what is the rule? What's the penalty, if any—and who receives it?

The rulings are rather involved, but this: "In stroke competition, when a ball lying within twenty yards (sixty feet) of the hole is layed, and strikes, or is stopped by the flag stick or the person standing at the hole, the penalty shall be two strokes. In match play the penalty is the loss of the hole. If the distance is greater than twenty yards there shall be no penalty."

If the ball hits your caddy or your partner in match play the penalty stands, but if it should hit your opponent's caddy that is just a rub of the green. The reason for this is that it is within the realm of possibility that your caddy might purposely allow himself to be hit to cause the ball to stop near the pin.

The ramifications of the rule make it seem rather involved and hard to understand, but it should be rather easy to remember the simple rule. It means if the ball hits the flag stick from within twenty yards there is a penalty of two strokes in medal play and loss of the hole in match play.

If you are called upon to make an explosion shot within twenty yards of the pin, send the caddy up to take the pin out and then have him get off the green and out of the way, so that if the ball is hit too hard and goes sailing across the green there will be no one standing by the pin to get hit.

DEEP SEA, COASTWISE SHIPPING AND RAILROAD NEWS

Big Liners Here To-day On Long Ocean Voyages

Motorship Aorangi Cleared at 4 o'clock This Afternoon for Three-week Trip to Sydney; Empress of Russia to Get Away To-night for Nine-day Crossing to Yokohama; Ruth Alexander Expected To-night From California Ports; Glamorganshire Here This Morning With Freight.

After her longest sojourn in Victoria since being commissioned to the service more than five years ago, the Canadian-Australasian motor liner Aorangi was scheduled to sail from the Rithet piers here this afternoon at 4 o'clock for Honolulu, Suva, Auckland and Sydney.

She arrived here from Vancouver yesterday evening about 6 o'clock, her enforced lay over being necessary on account of a shipment of delayed mail from eastern Canada and the United Kingdom. The mail arrived from Vancouver at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and as soon as the large consignment of 1,800 bags was safely stowed aboard, the big liner was expected to clear for the seven-day voyage to Honolulu, the first port of call on the three-week trip to Sydney. It is thought that she will be able to make up for lost time during the run to the Hawaiian Islands port.

The Aorangi took out 430 passengers in all classes when she sailed this afternoon. Of these 150 were in the first cabin, 220 in the second and 160 in the third. Included in the second cabin list were 160 members of the Young Australian League, returning to their homes "down under" after a six-month tour of Canada and the United States.

RUSSIA OUT

Shortly after the Aorangi backed out and turned her bow towards Race Rocks, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia hove in sight from Vancouver, and was scheduled to tie up at the Rithet piers about 5:30 o'clock en route to ports in China, Japan and the Philippine Islands. After taking on local cargo, passengers and mails, local agents expect to clear the big white liner for Yokohama about 7 o'clock this evening. She will take out a heavy passenger list for this season of the year and a capacity cargo of northwest products and overland freight. Capt. A. J. Hosken, R.N.R., will be on the bridge of the steamer when she leaves for the Orient to-night.

RUTH COMING

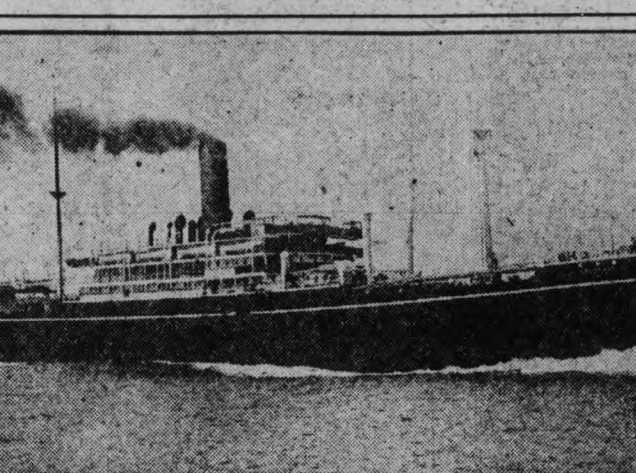

Between 10 and 11 o'clock this evening the Pacific Steamship Company's coastwise passenger liner Ruth Alexander is expected here from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco with sixty passengers and 135 tons of general cargo for discharge at this port. She will berth at Pier 1, and will leave for Seattle about midnight. She will sail for the south again from this port on Sunday morning.

From ports in Europe, by way of the Panama Canal and California, the liner Glamorganshire, in the joint service of the Holland-America line and the Royal Mail Steam Packet line, docked at the Rithet piers this morning shortly after 10 o'clock. She was posted to clear for Vancouver after discharging 100 tons of general cargo here.

WEST COAST SERVICE

The steamer will leave for Port Alsea and way points on the 11th and 21st of the month.

EXPECTED FROM ORIENT EARLY TO-MORROW

SS. MISHIMA MARU which is expected to arrive at the William Head Quarantine Station to-morrow morning at 5 o'clock from ports in China and Japan, on her second trip here since being commissioned to the Victoria-Seattle-Orient service of the N.Y.K. She will dock at the Rithet piers to-morrow morning about 6:30 o'clock to discharge cargo and disembark passengers before proceeding to Seattle with a heavy general cargo, including 3,200 bales of raw silk and fifty-seven cases of the manufactured goods.

BALLOTING TO-MORROW ON BUFFALOES' NAMES

Suggestions Fly Thick and Fast as Finish of Times Contest Approaches; "Gog" and "Magog" Appear on the Scene in Far Cry From Guildhall of London; Schoolgirl Gives Her Reasons for "Chief" and "Princess."

Two colossal wooden statues which stood in the Guildhall, London, for many years were called Gog and Magog. They formed the basis for many weird stories and legends and the names are familiar to most people. That is one reason why Mrs. F. S. Ford, 3248 Rutledge Street suggests these names as titles for Victoria's two buffaloes at Beacon Hill.

Mrs. Ford encloses with her suggestion a clipping dealing with the origin of these two names. Originally, it is thought, these renowned figures were connected with Corineus and Gotmagot of the Armorian Chronicle. The former name sank into oblivion, however, and the latter was split by popular corruption to do duty for both. Got and Magot thus became Gog and Magog, both of which names appear in the Bible.

LAST CHANCE TO-DAY

With to-morrow as the last day on which name suggestions for balloting will be received, ideas are still flowing through the mail bag to The Times Office. "Buff" and "Fio," "Sioux" and "Cree," "Taurus" and "Tauris," "Nick" and "Norah," "Lizzie" and "Lindy" and so on the suggested names run while one contributor submits a series of ideas in which the names of several prairie towns are shortened to the buffaloes with suitable titles. Calgary and Winnipeg are abbreviated to "Cal" and "Peg."

GIRLS' ESSAY

Following are the ideas of May Edge, a Sir James Douglas School, student on the matter: "I think that the names should have something to do with the Indians who lived in the prairie provinces with the buffaloes as their best friends. The Indians were so proud of their buffalo friends that they were glad to be named after them; for example Chief 'Buffalo White Tail'."

"The Indians depended on the buffalo for their food but they never killed more than they needed. When the white men slaughtered the buffaloes for their hides, the Indians became angry for they knew that when the buffaloes were gone they would have to surrender to the white people for want of food. The Indians used the buffalo furs for robes and for leather for moccasins. For this reason I think the male buffalo should be called 'Chief'."

"The Indian women also were associated with the buffalo; for when the men killed the buffaloes the women dried the meat and then pounded it to make pemmican for their winter food. They also had to prepare the hides and sew the moccasins, so if the male buffalo should be named 'Chief' I think the female should be named 'Princess' for the Indian chiefs usually chose princesses for their wives."

LIKES HIS COFFEE

Winston Maynard, 922 Park Boulevard, must like his morning coffee, for he wants to call the buffaloes "Mocha" and "Java." Veronica Stevenson, of 526 Queen's Avenue, has a selection of three from which to pick—"Puzzy" and "Wuzzy," "Darby and Joan" and "Rex" and "Belle." To-morrow's ballot bearing some of the best suggestions received to date will be published and all those who wish to do so may vote on the names they think most apt.

Palatial Yacht Aquilo Visitor From Seattle

The magnificent steam yacht Aquilo, owned jointly by H. F. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship Company, and J. Eddy of Skinner & Eddy, well-known shipbuilders of Seattle, was in port to-day on her first visit of the summer season. She tied up at the float in front of the Empress Hotel while the party aboard proceeded to play golf on the Oak Bay links.

The Aquilo is a frequent visitor here during the summer months, making the trip from Seattle on an average of once a week. She is one of the most beautiful yachts in the northwest and always attracts a good deal of attention as she rides at anchor in the harbor.

INSURANCE MEN MEET AT JASPER

Every City in Western Canada Represented By Gathering at National Park

Jasper, Alta., May 30.—Every city in western Canada and a number of rural districts are represented at the annual meeting of the Canadian Life Western Central Club, which is being held at Jasper Park Lodge this week. The thirty delegates are from Vancouver, Victoria, Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon, Regina, Brandon, Winnipeg and other points. One man is from Seattle.

N. J. Trenouth is western supervisor Toronto, and is presiding at the business meetings, and two other officers here from Toronto are S. G. MacDonald, assistant superintendent, and C. C. Beatty, assistant secretary. Business meetings are few, however, since the gathering is really a reward for the insurance men making the $100,000 mark, and the delegates are spending their three or four days here playing golf, taking motor trips and riding ponies. R. H. Knight, superintendent of Jasper National Park, welcomed the visitors.

FIRE IN HOLD DAMAGES LINER AT SAN PEDRO

San Pedro, Cal., May 30.—Fire in the hold of the Shinyo Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Line yesterday caused damage of $3,000. Firemen believed a lighted cigarette had been dropped through an open hatchway while the ship was loading cotton.

Rochelle Sailor Believed Drowned

Vancouver, May 30.—Finding of the cap of Robert Miller, forty years of age, sailor on the steamship Rochelle, missing since Sunday night, in the water at Kingsley Dock, Hestley Avenue, leads to the belief that the man was drowned, and dragging operations in Burrard Inlet are being carried on. The missing man was a native of Montrose, Scotland, and had resided in Vancouver for several years.

ELECTION SETS MARK IN HISTORY OF GREAT BRITAIN

London, May 30.—This election day is a landmark in the political history of Great Britain. To-day, for the first time, the whole adult population of the United Kingdom is eligible to vote, as men, was entitled to go to the polls to make what Premier Baldwin describes as "the greatest experiment in democracy," namely, to select the kind of government under which it desired to live.

Man is no longer the sole arbiter of this great duty in Great Britain. It has become a woman's question, for women are in a great majority in the electorate.

As the voters went to the polls the middle of the election, as was popularly termed, depended on two factors. The first was the addition of some 5,000,000 new women voters to the electorate, and the second, the unprecedented number of three-cornered contests, which it was recognized might send victory to a number of candidates with minority votes. There were three or more candidates in no fewer than 489 constituencies. At the last general election in 1924 these triangular contests went mostly to the advantage of the Conservatives and against the Liberals, but that was not taken to mean the same thing would necessarily happen this year.

The voters' list for this year carry a total of close to 28,000,000 names.

HONEYMOONERS ARRIVE WITH SETTLER PARTY

Fatherless Girl Comes From Norway to Live With Canadian Family

Nearly Six Hundred Persons From Four Liners Will Take Up Land in Prairie Provinces

Winnipeg, Man., May 30.—Three honeymoon couples and a little fatherless girl were among the most interesting passengers on the special immigrants train which arrived here Wednesday night over the Canadian National Railways. All these are Scandinavians, and Scandinavians comprised the largest number of the party of 539 passengers from the liners Stavenger, Frederik VIII, Estonia and Regina. There were a total of 217 from Norway, Sweden and Denmark, 150 from Central Europe and 172 from Great Britain.

R. B. Thomson and his son Richard Thomson were both married the day before they left Denmark for Canada, the trip being a honeymoon. Thomson, Sr. rancher for fourteen years in South Dakota, but for the past eight years has been farmed in Denmark. Having abandoned his widowed state and taken a new lease on life, he is going to start ranching again somewhere in southern Alberta. Both father and son have large amount of capital, and will purchase land through the Canadian National Land Settlement Association. The third honeymoon couple is Geo. Jacobson and Dagmar Page of Oslo, Norway, who intended to wait until they arrived in Winnipeg to make sure they could find work together on a farm, but the ocean voyage must have stimulated their love, and they were married on their arrival at Halifax.

TRAVELS ALONE

Little Miss Ingrid Redning, aged five, who is fatherless, is traveling all the way from Norway to Provost, Alberta, alone. When Mrs. H. P. Paulsgaard of Provost, Alberta, was visiting Norway last year, they met Ingrid and were so taken by the little girl's charm and saw the mother's happy circumstances of her widowed mother, they decided to adopt the girl. Arrangements were completed this spring, but the little girl had to come alone. However, with the kind and gentle care of the officials of the Norwegian-American line and the Colonization Department of the Canadian National Railways, the wee tot arrived in Winnipeg Wednesday night very tired, but happy. She left yesterday to complete the remainder of her trip to her new home and new parents at Provost.

It Does Not Stand Alone

This building, hospitable in appearance, is typical of the smaller telephone exchanges in our system. It does not stand alone, for down the street go the copper wires that bind this office to the sixty-four other exchanges in the system of the B. C. Telephone Company and its associated companies.

And the union of this exchange with others is not simply a matter of wires, for there are invisible lines of organization that give this small office the advantage of the knowledge and equipment which we have concentrated together for the efficient operation of 111,000 telephones by 2,200 employees. Association with a group such as ours is valuable.

ENGINEERS SEEK SALARY INCREASE

Urge Immediate Action By Government on Royal Commission Report

Seeking immediate action by the Canadian Parliament on the question of raising the salaries of professional and technical men employed by the Government, the Victoria branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada has joined with other branches in communicating to several ministers the following message:

"Professional engineers throughout Canada would view with alarm any action by the Government at this time, which indicates a reluctance to provide an equitable remuneration to the technical and professional employees whom the Government has for some time recognized as underpaid. It is important that the Federal Government avoid delay in recognizing the value of engineering service of its employees who in a country of immense natural resources must play an important part in the direction and conversion of these resources into material prosperity. It is strongly urged that Parliament should, before prorogation, grant to the Government the authority necessary to insure that payment of any increase in salaries recommended by the Royal Commission be made immediately."

This has been forwarded to Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, Hon. J. A. Robb, Hon. J. H. King, Hon. C. A. Dunning, Hon. J. E. Elliott, Hon. E. Lapointe and Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the Opposition, and D. B. Plunkett, member for Victoria.

It is further urged in a second message that in case the report of the Royal Commission is not placed before Parliament at its present session, the Government should be authorized to follow its recommendations in regard to salary increases and use consolidated revenue for granting such, when the report is handed down at a later date.

SEEK POWER IN STEWART AREA

Two Applications For Use of American Creek to Be Decided By Minister

Claims of two applicants for water in American Creek, tributary to Bear River, near Stewart, was heard by the Water Board yesterday with the Northern B.C. Power Company Limited and Samuel Deschamps seeking rights.

The Northern B.C. Power Company operates at Stewart and Hyder. Mr. Deschamps, representing the Vancouver Mines, holds a number of claims along American Creek for which he desires to utilize water. He does not desire to dispose of power as a general vendor and his application was therefore heard by Major J. C. MacDonald, Water Comptroller. The application of the power company, which went before the Water Board with Major MacDonald as chairman, is to develop power and supply it to all seeking it, including mining and other operations. The creek is capable of developing 2,000 horsepower.

Recommendations will be made to the Minister of Lands, Hon. F. P. Burden.

How Mrs. Carey cured my washday backaches!

OH, how I used to dread washday! Every Monday it was scrub, scrub, scrub all day long. At night I'd be just about dead.

Then that awful backache. I'd just be getting over it when another washday would be on top of me.

One Monday morning when I wasn't even half through my washing I looked out of the window—and what a surprise I got. There was my new next-door neighbor Mrs. Carey hanging out a lovely white wash.

"How in the world does she do it?" I asked myself for I knew she couldn't have started earlier than I did. I determined to find out right then.

Mrs. Carey's advice

My surprise was even greater when I saw Mrs. Carey herself. She was just as bright and fresh as a daisy yet her wash was bigger than mine.

"How did you do it?" I asked.

"It's no secret," she replied. "I just got tired of doing my wash the old-fashioned rub and scrub way. Now I just soak and rinse. I never touch a washboard, and I don't even boil!"

"But how do you get your wash so lovely and white?" I said to her.

"Haven't you been reading in the papers," she asked, "how women all over town wash clothes a new way—how a new kind of soap, Rinso, soaks clothes whiter than you can scrub them?" That very day I bought Rinso.

No Washday "blues" now

You can imagine how glad I am. Washday is one of my easiest days now. And backache? I haven't had one since the first time I used Rinso.

I wish you women who read this would please take my advice. Don't do another wash the old-fashioned "scrub" way. Try Rinso. Just once—that's all I ask. You'll say, as thousands of other women have, that it's the easiest—quickest—and safest way to wash clothes snowy white.

Australians Attend Last Tour Banquet

Mayor Ansonb Extends Welcome to Members of Y.A.L. at Civic Dinner

Speakers Look For More Cooperation Between Canada and Australia

Gathering for their last formal function before leaving North America for their home the party of the 160 members of the Young Australia League, attended the civic banquet in the Empress Hotel last night.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mayor Herbert Ansonb expressed his pleasure at being able to entertain the young men of the antipodes and stated that he hoped the party would visit Canada again.

Alderman James Adam expressed his enjoyment at being able to reciprocate in some measure for the courtesy which had been extended to him during his tour of Australia and New Zealand with the all-Canadian football team two years ago.

Informed that he was speaking to a gathering containing the future premier of Australia, Alderman H. O.
Litchfield spoke of the heritage of the future which would fall to the lot of the visitors. Theirs would be the task of welding together the commonwealth and co-operating with its sister dominions, he added.

CANADIAN-AUSTRALIAN TREATY
After extending the city's welcome to its visitors, Mayor Ansonb referred to the Canadian-Australian treaty. It had not developed as well for Australia as it had for Canada, he stated. But, he added, it was not enough for nations to sign a treaty to promote trade between the dominions. It was up to the Australian business men to come into Canada and develop commerce along channels opened by the treaty as the Canadians had done in the Antipodes.

The benefit to be derived from such to tour as the visitors had almost completed was stressed by the Mayor.
He spoke of the value of making contacts in North America both from the point of view of business and cultural development.

Particularly effective was their visit at the present time, the Mayor continued. Since Victoria was promoting an "Empire Shopping Week" he considered the advertising potentialities of the Young Australia League, tremendous in popularizing the sale of goods from their land.

SOLIDIFIED EMPIRE
Moreover, such visits tended to solidify the Empire and unify the ideals of the sister dominions who had fought side by side a few years ago.

In closing, he congratulated Mayor
J. J. Simons on the successful tour he was concluding.
Following the mayor, Alderman James Adam added his tribute to the excellent standard of youth which the party represented. He referred to his trip to Australia, noting the courtesy and hospitality with which he and his party of footballers had been received, and hoped that the visitors would carry away as pleasant memories from their last port of call as he had from the antipodes.

PRESENTATION MADE
During the evening Mayor Ansonb called upon young Norman Law, one of the smallest boys in the party, to stand upon his chair. When the little fellow had mounted his stand, the mayor explained to the gathering that he had had the pleasure of driving Norman to Butchart's Gardens on the previous day. His worship was struck by the gentility of the young visitor and appreciated his value in creating good feeling between his hosts and his friends.

As a slight remembrance of Victoria, the mayor then presented his guest with a small token, telling him to write to his Victoria friend when he became twenty-one and to say what he was doing and why he was doing it.

Expressing the hope that the link forged by Captain Vancouver's explorations of Australia and Vancouver Island would ever exist between their country and Canada, Alderman Litchfield urged the visitors to retain the memory of this land when they returned home.

SIMILAR IDEALS
He spoke of the similar ideals which the dominions shared, stressing the Anglo-Saxon love for liberty, justice and constitutional law enjoyed by both and hoped that the two lands would stand together in upholding the best British traditions.

Major J. J. Simons then thanked the city's representatives for their courtesy during his party's visit and voiced his appreciation of all that had been done for the visitors.
Proceeding the dinner the youths sang the Australian National Anthem and followed it heartily with "O Canada."
Following the banquet the boys were entertained at the Capitol Theatre.

Langford

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held in their hall on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. James L.
Brown, president, stated that cash prizes had been given children who exhibited at the recent spring flower show. Adults will receive awards later.
A small change will be made for use of the institutes' china-ware, when required for money making purposes.
A letter of thanks was received from the secretary of the Solatium War for frocks made by the L.W.I. members.
The institute renewed membership in the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association and reappointed Miss L.
M. A. Savory as representative. The competition of Guides and school children of pressing wild flowers, sponsored by Mrs. George Eldridge and the Women's Institute, will close the third week in June. C. E. Mitchell discussed improved methods of cooking vegetables to conserve the vitamin content. Tea was served by the directors.

Carne Rebecca Lodge entertained the sixty-six ladies at the Aged Women's Home on Wednesday afternoon at a dinner served in the dining hall of the home. The dinner was organized by Mesdames Isabella Hammond, Noble Grand; E. G. Youngs, Taylor and Livingston, aided by twenty-five members of the lodge.

The tables were decorated with sweet peas, iris, ferns and Maypoles with dancing kewpies.

Twenty-six of the aged ladies in residence were unable to attend the function and were served in their respective rooms.

An entertainment followed the dinner, the artists being: A. W. Trevel and John Doby, songs; Sybil Holyoak, Midget Fitzgerald, Dorothy Hay and Miss Ross, dances; Misses Marchant and Barr, solos; Jean Munroe, recitation; W. Bourke, conjuring act. Jesse Longfield accompanied the vocalists and the programme was under the co-sponsorship of Miss Phyllis Hogarth.

There will be a special public meeting in the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street, to-night at 8 o'clock. Adjutant Merrett will announce the total amounts collected by the different departments of the Victoria corps for this year's self-denial effort. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested.

A military button found on Rock Bay Road is at the office of the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion. The owner can obtain it by giving the number.

THE DRYDOCK

To the Editor:—Being a former resident of the Orient, and at present a resident of your fair city, I have been tempted to reply to a letter in the press signed by George E. Brooks, in which he says that this community as a whole should use its influence with the Canadian Pacific Railway to insure the ocean vessels of that company making use of the Esquimalt drydock, instead of the Hongkong drydock.

I presume that if Mr. Brooks happened to be a resident of Hongkong (instead of a resident of Victoria), he would not have written that letter, because he probably would have had different ideas. The Canadian Pacific Steamships carry as many passengers and as much freight from China as they do from Canada, and it was the Kowloon Dock in China that made it possible for such ships as the Empress of Canada, Empress of Russia and the Empress of Asia to operate on the Pacific. It is well known that until recently there was no place in western Canada where such ships could dock, and the Canadian Pacific has been dependent on the Kowloon Dock for the upkeep of these modern ships for many years.

Looking at it from an outsider's point of view, does it seem just or fair to rob Hongkong of the docking business that she has taken such good care of for so long, just because you have recently built a drydock here?

If the Canadian Pacific had waited to build her ships until you had a drydock large enough to accommodate them, these modern ships would have been built here.

The merchants of China are due some consideration, and if the Canadian Pacific treated them as Mr. Brooks would like them to, it would not be long before these fine ships would not be based on the Pacific, as the trade would be lost. There is another very small matter I might mention, and that is that docking a large ship here is about twice as costly as docking a large ship in Hongkong.

Failing to do the very much longer time it would take for the annual overhaul, and the consequent loss of time and revenue. Do not forget that the company is guardian of its shareholders' funds.

WHITNEY LETTER

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

New York, May 29.—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says today:

ADDITIONAL ADVANCE

"The line of demarcation between the rail and industrial groups is becoming drawn, and so clearly drawn that in yesterday's pre-holiday market the rail group recorded an advance approximately equal to the decline recorded by the industrial averages. Despite the fact that only one of the two groups recorded an advance for the day, the total market action must be considered satisfactory and indicative of further advance to-day, as there has been no cancellation of the indications that the market for the time being is out of trouble even though we are witnessing the final indication of decline, viz, the sharp rails against individual issues which spring lower prices to those issues, directly involved without affecting the balance of the list.

"We are passing over the end of the month not only without a flurry in call money, but with money offered and loaning at the lowest rate of the month, and banks which would make no commitments in time money ten days ago, soliciting bids for time accommodations, with the time rates slowly but surely weakening.

"With German marks again at a new top for 1927, I am rather positive that Friday, as the latest notification will be received, and it will be publicly announced that German reparations negotiations have been successfully concluded, a development which is regarded in banking quarters as the most constructive development since the European nations re-established their gold standard. No change in rediscunt rates is expected until those rates are revised downward, while the next brokers' loan statement should show a reduction in loans of approximately $200,000,000.

"Continue to concentrate on rails and public utilities taking oil stocks on any moderate reaction.

COMMENT

"Since New York Central continues available below 190, its purchase continues to be recommended in anticipation of a new record for the year around 220. The purchase of New Haven below 110 is recommended for an advance in the near term future to around 120.

"In the utility group continue the purchase of Canadian Pacific below 110, North American below 115, Electric Power and Light below 63, United Corporation below 63, and both for initial commitment and for averaging international Telephone and Telegraph around 80, as well as California Edison within the range of 57."

GEN. ESCOBAR IS HUNTED NOW IN THIS PROVINCE

Vancouver, May 30.—In the most luxurious suite of the Hotel Georgia surrounded by the most expensive flowers money could buy, a man believed to be a Mexican and answering to the general description of General Jesus Gonzalo Escobar, fleeing leader of the defunct Mexican revolution, lived for three days, May 15, 16 and 17.

The man who is thought to be the fugitive leader left the hotel on May 17, accompanied by a family of four and his secretary, who is believed to be Pedro Alvarez, chief aide. It is believed they left Vancouver by automobile, but there is no definite information on this point.

SECRET SERVICE MEN

In the last week four Mexicans have arrived in Vancouver and although they all deny any connection with the Government, it is believed they are secret service men on the trail of the former revolutionary leader.

The arrival of the mysterious Mexican at the Hotel Georgia was preceded by a visit from his secretary, who requested the best suite available. This reservation was changed once and his principal finally arrived May 15.

PLENTY OF MONEY

By arrangements made by the secretary, the rooms occupied by the Mexican visitor and his family were flooded with flowers, the most expensive obtainable. The party gave the general impression of having plenty of money.

When the secretary registered at the hotel for his principal he gave no address. The clerk asked for his address and the reply was: "On the last place we were in was Seattle." The clerk then filled in that address.

While this party was in Vancouver a party of Mexicans who said they were from Mexico inquired for information about British Columbia roads at the Automobile Club. They did not indicate in any way which direction they proposed to travel.

(Over R. P. Clark Leased Wire)

New York, May 30.—Our assertion yesterday that the stocks had reached bottom, and that the additional selling that would develop would be nothing more than the final wave of liquidation, was justified by yesterday's movement. The market absorbed all of the distress selling in good fashion. The subsequent rally, although not very large, is impressive nevertheless, because it shows definitely that the end of the break has been reached. A number of the traders, caught with impaired margins, will dispose of some of their holdings during rallies, thus preventing a broad advance.

The position of the market, however, is vastly better, and we do not hesitate in recommending a constructive attitude on the major body of stocks. Owing to the severity of the break, the recovery, after initial short covering is satisfied, will not be particularly big. As a rule, each reaction is followed by a period of inactivity, and we anticipate similar action in the market now.

Transactions have been dwindle to the lowest records of the past months. The only exceptions will be the rail and oil groups which are in remarkably strong positions and have been bought heavily during the last few days. A broader buying movement in these groups is looked for during next week with considerable strength displayed to-day also.

Individual issues, which lost considerable during the break, should show good recovery on the basis of technical position, and purchases for a turn should bring profits in a good many stocks to-day. The Federal Reserve meeting, scheduled for the afternoon, will have an influence in checking activity to-day, but the hope for a very substantial decline in brokers' loans, which will be reported Friday afternoon, will counteract all discount rumors which will undoubtedly be heard during the trading hours to-day.

NEW POWER LINE

Vernon, B.C., May 30.—The switch on June 15 will throw the Twilch which will set the mighty Shuswap River to work furnishing light and power for a whole string of Okanagan Valley cities. The dam, plant and transmission lines are complete and a trial run will be made on Saturday.

To serve the cities and communities of Vernon, Armstrong, Enderby, Salmon Arm, Lumby, Okanagan Landing, seventy-six miles of transmission line have been built. The development at the fall is 3,800 horsepower and the project cost a million dollars. Work on construction commenced December 28, 1927.

Dr. W. H. Sutherland to Practise in Vancouver

Vancouver, May 30.—Dr. W. H. Sutherland, M.P.P., will start as a medical practitioner in Vancouver June 1. The former Minister of Public Works of British Columbia will have his office at the Hotel Vancouver, where he has been appointed house physician.

Before entering the Cabinet Dr. Sutherland practiced in Revelstoke, where he was G.P.R. surgeon. He is a graduate of McGill and took post-graduate work in Vienna.

There has been no change in sentiment. Conservative observers are strongly advocating reducing long holdings, pointing out that this would increase the equities in margin accounts and protect them to such an extent if the reaction is resumed. Others are in favor of following the market with stop orders as a safeguard for long accounts.

Some scale buying has been reported in a number of railroad shares, but no attempt has been made to pick up these stocks in a way which might cause them to resist. The accumulation is referred to in many quarters as having been for the account of important interests.

As was expected, earnings of New Haven in April were substantially above the same month last year. The general market condition, however, prevented this showing from being reflected in the stock, but New England interests who often have been prominent in the issue insist that eventually the decided change in the road's affairs must become an important influence marketwise.

Steady progress is expected to be made toward improving conditions in the oil industry and naturally this should make itself felt in the stock market step by step, when conditions in securities are more normal.

VANCOUVER EARTHQUAKE FIGHTS NEW KILLS SCORE STOCK TAX

Vancouver, May 30.—Difference of opinion regarding the proposed tax on stock sales and share transfers appeared in the civic finance committee Wednesday, following presentation of a protest by A. N. Wolverson and A. E. Jukes in behalf of Vancouver Stock Exchange, which they sought the council's support.

A special committee of Aldermen W. H. Lemke, chairman, E. W. Dean, P. C. Gibbons, Warner, Leat and H. J. DeGraves will go into the question thoroughly at 4 p.m. to-day and report to a special meeting of the council set for 10.30 a.m. Friday.

Imposition of the tax passed by the House of Commons and now before the Senate for approval would practically drive the Stock Exchange out of Vancouver and mean a loss to the city in payroll alone of approximately $450,000 monthly, Mr. Wolverson declared. He pointed out that the city's exchange, which constituted probably the second largest mining exchange in the world, had grown till seats were now worth $50,000.

Calculated on a basis of taxes paid by the Vancouver Stock Exchange during the last four months, the system proposed would amount for the year to $960,000 or an advance of 2100 per cent, the delegation said.

To stress the tendency the tax would have to force business across the line, Mr. Wolverson said that if it was put into effect 23,000 shares of Bayview would pay a tax of $28.75 in Seattle and $75 in Vancouver, and other stocks proportionately.

Alderman H. J. DeGraves voiced his opinion the tax would materially affect the prosperity of the city, particularly from the construction point of view. Already he had heard of contemplated buildings being cancelled on account of the Federal Government's action seriously considering moving their entire organizations to Seattle or Spokane.

Alderman J. A. Paton and Alderman Warner Leat agreed the tax would undoubtedly throw much of Vancouver's financial business to the United States. The period of speculation through which the west had just passed might be the reason for this action on the part of the Dominion Parliament, suggested Alderman Angus MacInnis, who did not think it possible the Federal Government would make their living in that business, would jeopardize their own interests.

BIG DROP LIKELY IN BROKERS' LOANS; BEARS STILL URGE SELLING ON RALLIES

New York, May 30.—(By B.C. Bond)—Stockholders of Bethlehem Steel have approved the increase in authorized common stock to 5,000,000 no par shares from 2,700,000 shares. Stockholders are offered rights to subscribe to 600,000 shares in the ratio of one share at $85 to every three held. Rights expire June 18. Proceeds are to provide additional facilities for the present properties and to increase Bethlehem's capacity, which is now 8,000,000 tons of ingots a year.

Bethlehem's earnings in the second quarter will be as good as in the first, Eugene Grace, president, said.

New York, May 30.—A number of the bear traders were credited with holding to their short position, as the market closed yesterday for the Memorial Day holiday, because they insisted the market had not yet proved its ability to hold on upturns. Further strength might bring covering from these professionals on a heavy scale.

Call money holding at six per cent the last few days has been a surprise to some who had predicted a flurry this week in connection with preparations for the end-of-the-month distributions. The decline in the market has reduced the demand for funds to a considerable extent and this is one of the explanations made for the ease thus far in the call rate.

What optimists are around appear to be those who maintained a long position throughout the decline. There are reports this week of good scale buying, but they lack confirmation. Professionals and floor traders were purchasers on balance the last couple of days. These operators covered shorts during the early week's weakness, and were moderate sellers as the advance continued during the week.

As a result of the sharp declines which have been recorded in stocks and the substantial liquidation which has been in progress, a big decrease is expected in brokers' loans, estimates running as high as $250,000,000. A large volume of credit has been released because of the liquidation of loans, so there is a possibility that the stringency anticipated in call money in connection with month-end requirements will not be as drastic as predicted.

There has been no change in sentiment. Conservative observers are strongly advocating reducing long holdings, pointing out that this would increase the equities in margin accounts and protect them to such an extent if the reaction is resumed. Others are in favor of following the market with stop orders as a safeguard for long accounts.

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By
DAVID LYALL

"He was once a consul, but not when he married her," said Wally hardy. "She's in Germany, locked up somewhere, where we shan't hear of her. I expect, till the war is over. Beatrice has had one short letter, since she got there—a letter full of nothing. I read it this morning. It was so cleverly written that it was even impossible to read between the lines."

"Oh, poor thing! But perhaps she may be happy! We must hope so."

"Miss Brodie, the thing is clean impossible, for all the reasons there are. To begin with, she ought never to have married him. I'm all for folks marrying in their own country. I'm sure even it is better not to marry the English, and of course, vice versa. Then, as we're going to wipe the Germans off the face of the earth, I don't just see what's to be the end of it for her. It's an awful tragedy, that's what it is!"

Monica sighed, agreeing completely with every word he spoke. Then she got him to talk about New Zealand, but found him less enthusiastic than might have been expected. Wally rendered thanks to the land of the shine and caller air for his restoration to health, and nothing more. He would be scrupulously just, but New Zealand, or, rather, the people among whom his lot had been cast, who, after all, are the deciding factors in existence for most, had failed to win his heart. They were happy together, these two young creatures, for youth calls to youth all the world over. When Wally rose at last, thanking her simply for her kindness, and said he was going over to the little burying-ground in the corner of the park, by the ruined chapel, where his father and mother slept, her eyes filled up.

"They know, I'm sure, where they are to-day, that you have come back, and that we are still fighting and serving for Scotland," she whispered at the last.

Wally wrung her hand at parting, and after he had gone a few steps across the grass, walked back to the open door, where she stood, her grey form and white apron silhouetted against a dark background.

"Say, Miss Brodie, would you write to me sometimes, if I write to you when I'm in camp? It might be Gallies or Bedford, I don't know. I'm finding out to-morrow, I'm just getting my house in order first."

"Yes, of course, I should love to write, and I'll send you things from Linnorrie, flowers, as they come on in season—the primroses are the best. Across there in the little wood they are heavenly in April. I wish you'd come back to Linnorrie in primrose time."

"Why?" asked Wally, and his eyes glared to her face.

"They seem to belong somehow to us who are young. They are all for hope, and the things that belong to hope. When I see them I know the winter has really gone, and something bright in my heart."

"Something bright in your heart. I'll remember that," said Wally thickly. "And when I'm in France where I hope to be when primroses come, I'll look for some from Linnorrie. Thank you again."

She watched him, a lonely figure, walking a trifle awkwardly across the park, where the early November shadows were already falling, and all the pitiful heart of youth and love and longing was in her eyes, and presently something new had come, some vision of what life could be for happier men, the favorites of fortune, who have but to desire and attain. But he would have to fight for every inch of ground, and if ever he had a home, and a woman to love and to love him, they would be hardy, yet gloriously won. Meanwhile, his country's home and life were in his keeping, and presently by the side of the old, old graves of his race where the mother he had adored and the father of whom he had none but sweet memories slept together, life's fitful fever ever for ever, he consecrated himself. There he took his vow of service, to give clean, pure tribute to the name he bore, no quarter to the enemy, loyalty to his comrades, and, when the time was ripe and he should be free, perhaps, who knows, his feet might turn again to the home of his fathers, and find Monica on the steps.

But these were the dreams of youth, never to be realized this side of time. For Wally Heron there was a Better Country, where:

"E'en grown-up men secure
Better manhood by a brave leap
Through the chill mist of Death's thin sleep
Manhood that will endure."

CHAPTER XXVI

"Captain Grier's here, Miss Beatrice," said Lizzie Henderson, speaking down the tube with a queer thrill in her voice. "Can ye come up?"

Could she come up? Beatrice Heron's feet simply flew up the stairs, and with a lack of reserve which somewhat astonished Jimmy Grier, almost threw herself into his arms.

"Oh, Jimmy! And looking so splendid! Is it really you?"

Jimmy was looking both smart and fit. His brand new R.A.M.C. uniform fit him like a glove. His year of travel in all parts of the world, and six months active service on the fighting fronts had removed the last trace of awkwardness from his looks or bearing. He was very handsome, and Beatrice sighed inwardly for the "might-have-been."

He shook her hand warmly, noting that she looked pale, and that she had aged a good deal.

"When did you get home, and have you seen Donald and Allie?" she asked breathlessly. "They've left it terribly that you've never had leave. And how long do you get now?"

"Five days. And it takes one to come, and one to go! It is awfully good of you to look me up."

"I wanted to. We sat up till 3 o'clock this morning at the Manse, so I've got most of the news."

"But you'll sit down, won't you? You're the first one I really know that I've had a chance of speaking to—in the war, I mean. Wally writes letters, but of course they're all censored."

"Hasn't he got a commission yet?"

"He's not seeking it, Jimmy. Wally's splendid, I'm so proud of him. I don't know how to bear myself. But oh, I do want to see him! Leave gets scarcer and scarcer. But honestly, Jimmy, how are we getting on? How long do you think it will last yet?"

"Some years."

"Years? You mean months, Jimmy! We simply can't go on like this. I'm afraid to open the papers in the morning now. I suppose you know Edinburgh has lost thousands."

"So has Glasgow, and London, and everywhere else," he said gloomily. "And it's only the beginning."

"Oh, Jimmy, no, no! Surely not!"

For sat down and looked her very straight in the face.

"Honestly, Miss Heron, I see no prospect of the end, nor any reason why the war shouldn't go on without end. We're not ready, even yet. I could tell you things, even about the medical service, which would turn your hair grey. But we're getting ready, and when we are, why then, we'll bring it to an end, that's all. But don't let's talk about the war."

"There isn't anything else, Jimmy," she said, and he saw how her hands nervously locked themselves on her lap.

"Oh, yes, there are a few things left. I'm glad to find you here, but I don't honestly think you're looking very well. Go to your business getting on?"

"Don't ask me. I loathe it. I hate and despise myself for sticking to it."

"But can't you leave it?"

"Not very well. You see, I'm waiting for Madeleine Theodore to come back. If she would, I'd go out to France immediately. I'm dying to go. I can't sleep at night for it, nor attend to my business in the day."

"Then there's still business doing?"

Her strong, fine mouth expressed ineffable scorn.

PRESS CONFERENCE

Montreal, May 30.—J. H. Woods, editor of The Calgary Herald and chairman of the Canadian division of the British Empire Press Union, accompanied by his wife, sailed from this port yesterday en route to London, England, where he will make arrangements for the Canadian contingent of press delegates to the Imperial Press Conference next year. "Twenty delegates will represent the sixty members of the union in Canada," said Mr. Woods. "It will be the largest representation of any part of the Empire, with the exception of the British Isles."

Smart Doings of Animals

MOTHER TEACHES PUPPIES NOT TO BARK

An Englishman had a female terrier that delighted to bark and had a powerful set of lungs with which to do it. Presently she had a family of four puppies, all of whom took after her in this respect. The five of them raised a terrible din most of the time.

Their master decided on corrective measures. On hearing a bark he went to whip the offender. But here a difficulty arose. While he could recognize the mother's bark, he couldn't distinguish between the puppies. So, although he soon taught the old dog to act differently, he got no results with the little ones, because he often punished the wrong one.

He then hit on the expedient of punishing all four whenever one barked. When this had been done two or three times, he heard a puppy bark and next moment squeal in pain. He investigated and found the mother had it tight by the neck. She had taken matters in hand herself, and thereafter there was no barking.

When Peter the Great of Russia was a very small boy, his father gave him a drum for Christmas. Just like any other little boy, he was overjoyed. He put the strap of the drum around his neck, seized the drumsticks and beat on it loudly.

The noise he made did not please him. He beat again on his drum, and then he frowned. His father, seeing the boy was troubled about something, asked him what was wrong.

"I want to play like the soldier!" cried Peter. He wasn't satisfied just to make a noise. If he had a drum, he wanted to play it properly. So the father, pleased, called in a drummer of the palace guard, who taught the lad to play his Christmas drum "just like a soldier."

Peter the Great, one of the most famous rulers of history, was born 257 years ago to-day.

BEDTIME STORY

(Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

By HOWARD E. GARIS

For nearly a week the Fuzzy Fox had been keeping close watch over Uncle Wiggly. The Bad Chap had not tried to catch the rabbit. But early in the morning the Fox would get up before breakfast and hide himself in the high grass near Uncle Wiggly's hollow stump bungalow.

"What are you doing here?" a hopping black cricket once asked the Fox as the Bad Chap was hiding in the grass.

"I am watching to see what Uncle Wiggly does," was the answer.

"That's all the Fox said just then. But he had made up his mind that when he next tried to catch Uncle Wiggly there would be no fooling—he would surely get the rabbit."

"And to do that," said the Fox to himself, "I must watch Uncle Wiggly a few days and see just what he does and where he goes. He will not know I am watching and when I find out which path he takes I can easily follow and grab him."

So, for nearly a week, the Fox had hidden and watched the rabbit gentleman hop away, each day, from his bungalow. Each day Uncle Wiggly went the same way. He would hop out, look up at the sky, twinkle his pink nose and then go along a path through the woods.

He made up his mind to catch Uncle Wiggly.

"But the funny thing about it," said the Fox to his wife one night when he reached home after watching the rabbit hop away, "the funny thing about it is that Uncle Wiggly always wears his old clothes. He used to hop around all dressed up, but for the last week he has always worn an old, ragged suit. Once I stayed hidden in the grass until he came back, and he was all covered with mud. It must be queer adventures that Uncle Wiggly finds. I wonder what they can be?"

"Why don't you sneak along after him and find out?" asked Mrs. Fox.

"I will," said her husband, and he did.

The next day, while he was hiding in the high grass, the Fox once more saw Uncle Wiggly come out of his bungalow dressed in an old, ragged suit, covered with dried mud.

"Now I shall find out his secret," thought the Fox, sneaking along behind the bunny gentleman so softly that Uncle Wiggly never heard him at all. "I'll see where he goes."

It did not take the Fox long to find out, for Uncle Wiggly went to the secret slide where he had seen Oscar Otter and the two beaver boys, Toadie and Noodle Flat Tail, having fun one day. The slide was on a slippery mud hill leading down to a brook and, after seeing the otter and beavers sliding down the wet, muddy hill Uncle Wiggly had tried it himself. But first he put on his old clothes. He had lots of fun sliding.

Uncle Wiggly did not slide all the way down the muddy hill into the water. That was all right for a beaver or otter, as these animals live half the time under water. Near the end of the slide was a low-hanging tree, with strong branches. And, as he slid under these branches, in his mud coating, Uncle Wiggly caught hold of the tree limbs and so saved himself from going into the brook. Each time he slid down the rabbit did this, and he had been coming to the slide every day for a week.

"So this is his secret!" snickered the Fox as he saw Uncle Wiggly stop at the top of the slide and get ready to coast down. "This is where he has been coming in his old, muddy suit. No wonder he gets all dirt. But this will be his last slide. I'll catch him now."

Hiding in the bushes, the Fox watched Uncle Wiggly get ready for his first slide of the day. The rabbit was just crazy nappy over this secret slide. He thought no one knew about it except the two beavers, Oscar Otter and himself. But now the Fox had found it.

"As soon as he slides down!" chuckled the hidden Fox to himself. "I'll slide down after him. At the bottom he'll be so excited he won't be able to run and I'll get him. I'll slide right down after him."

The Fox didn't know about the deep brook at the bottom of the slide. "Well, here I go!" cried jolly Uncle Wiggly, and he started down the slippery slide.

"Yes, and here I come after you!" chuckled the Fox to himself. "Oh, how surprised you are going to be. Uncle Wiggly!"

Faster and faster Uncle Wiggly slid down the other slide. It was wet and muddy and slippery, for the beavers had been sliding on it earlier that morning. Down, down, down went the rabbit. After him, making not a sound, slid the Fuzzy Fox.

But, all of a sudden, as he passed under the low branches of the willow tree, Uncle Wiggly reached up and caught hold, lifting himself from the slide, and saving himself from going into the brook.

But the Fox didn't know enough to do that. On and on he slid, ker splash! Right into the water! It went over his head!

"Oh, bubble, gluggle, wuggle!" howled the Fox. "What happened?"

So everything happened for the best, and if the goldfish will sing a song while the canarybird goes roller skating, I will tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's sand sifter.

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1929

Astrologers read this as rather an unimportant day in planetary direction. It is well, nevertheless, to be conservative in business matters.

Temptation to speculate will be strong at this time when the stock market will present peculiar phases of fluctuation and new corporations will be formed to exploit late scientific discoveries of labor-saving inventions.

This is not a lucky day to seek employment and they who demand advance in compensation will be sorry they spoke.

Under this direction of the stars national heroes old and new may be severely criticized or even misrepresented. A strong iconoclastic spirit may be widely prevalent at this time.

Extremes of sentiment from that which is strongly patriotic to that colored by Bolshevik propaganda probably will be prevalent as the summer advances.

Warning is given that the common denominator of popular intelligence may be surprisingly low when revealed in the expression of opinion on important public questions.

This is a day when women should subordinate their ideas and should refrain from making any sort of initiative in public affairs.

The seers foretell that women are to lead in one of the most effective reform movements ever instituted in America, but the time for starting work has not yet arrived.

Those who read the stars announce that tremendous moral and intellectual forces are slowly working beneath the surface of national thought.

While the most tremendous achievements will be attained in professional and commercial fields there will be a corresponding advance in spiritual and intellectual activity, it is prophesied.

The children of the nation are now to be protected and trained as never before, astrologers forecast, and all who are unfortunate in their environment will be cared for after novel and effective plans.

Under this sway the instinct of motherhood will affect the nation in a manner that assures marvelous race development, occultists declare.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a prosperous year in which there may be unexpected fortune.

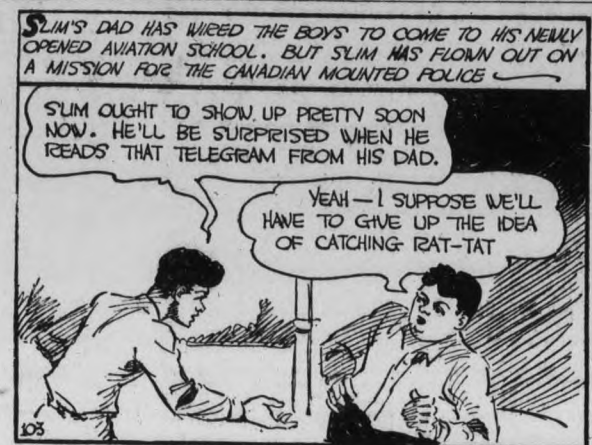

Children born on this day probably will be clever and endowed with fine talents. These subjects of Gemini are positive, intellectual and often extremely psychic.

DRAMA OF SWISS ALPS UNFOLDED IN "BETRAYAL"

Gorgeous scenery and novelty of theme add an unusual note to Emil Jannings' sixth masterpiece, "Betrayal," which opened at the Capitol Theatre to-day for a three-day run. Two leading Paramount featured players, Esther Ralston and Gary Cooper, carry important supporting roles in this powerful drama, set in the Swiss Alps.

Jannings' quick rise to fame on the American screen was marked by five epic pictures, including "The Way of All Flesh" and "The Patriot." The sixth in this great series, "Betrayal," places Jannings in an entirely new environment and offers him a story worthy of his great histrionic power.

On the stage at the Capitol are Mantell's Mannekins in a welcome return engagement, and presenting an entirely new show, along with Miss Dorothy Hartree, contralto soloist, who was awarded the medal as the most outstanding soloist of the late Victoria musical festival. Chris Wade and his stage band are also featured, and smiling Jack Medford officiates as master of ceremonies.

GREAT NAVAL STORY IS PORTRAYED ON COLISEUM SCREEN

One of the greatest naval stories ever filmed, "Carry On," is the screen offering at the Coliseum Theatre all this week. The picture is a splendid one, and all who have so far seen it declare it to be one of the finest ever shown at the Coliseum. The plot is a strong one, the direction excellent, and the acting by a cast of English stars is superb. Moore Marriott, one of England's foremost actors, has the leading role in the picture, and gives one of his finest performances. He is ably supported by Trilby Clark and an excellent cast. The picture is an all-British one, made in England.

The story portrays the love of two youths for each other and their swearing of eternal friendship. Their stations in life, however, are widely separated. One is the son of a fisherman while the other's father is an

HIS PARTY MAKES GREAT GAINS

RT. HON. RAMSAY MACDONALD

Chamberlain's Majority Is Only Fifty

London, May 30.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, was the fifth Cabinet Minister to gain re-election, gaining by a margin of just fifty votes over C. C. Willey, Labor opponent, in the Chamberlain stronghold of West Birmingham. Sir Austen, who defeated a Communist by over 7,000 votes in 1924, demanded a recount.

Return Rail Ticket Scheme Is Rejected

Ottawa, May 30.—The amendment to the Railway Act to make return tickets good on any other railway company lines run between the same terminals was rejected by the railways, telegraph and telephone lines committee of the House of Commons this forenoon. The measure was sponsored by S. W. Jacobs, Liberal, Carier Division of Montreal.

COMMUNIST DEFEATED

SHAPURJI SAKLATVALA

London, May 31 (C.P. Cable).—The Communist representation of one member, S. Saklatvala, who sat for North Battersea in the last House of Commons, was wiped out in the general election yesterday. He was defeated by W. S. Sanders of the Labor Party.

MINISTERS ARE DEFEATED AT BRITISH POLLS

First Cabinet Reverse Reported After Close of Voting Was Inskip

London, May 30 (C.P. Cable).—Right Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Minister of Health in the Baldwin Cabinet, was re-elected yesterday in Edgbaston, Birmingham, by an overwhelming majority. He polled 23,550 votes, almost twice as many as his two opponents. Major W. H. D. Capel, Labor, polled 8,590 votes and Reginald Young, Liberal, 4,720.

London, May 30.—Sir Thomas Inskip, Attorney-General, was the first Cabinet Minister to go down to defeat, failing before J. H. Alpass, Laborite, in Bristol Central, by a majority of 4,000 votes. The vote was 20,749 to 16,524.

In 1924 Sir Thomas had a majority of 3,159 over his Labor opponent. H. G. Williams, Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Trade, and Sir Vivian Henderson, Under-Secretary of the Home Office, went down to defeat. Dr. Somerville Hastings, Labor, captured Williams's seat in Reading. J. Kinley, Labor, gained the Government seat in Bootle from Sir Vivian Henderson.

London, May 30 (Canadian Press Cable).—Eve is going to the polls throughout London, and for that matter throughout Great Britain, to-day. Even before breakfast time women in hundreds had put their crosses on ballot papers and placed them in the boxes.

Domestic servants in the residential districts slipped out of their kitchens as soon as the booths were opened and then hurried back to prepare the morning meals and scrub the door-steps.

An early morning semi-tragedy occurred at Kensington, where a woman had come specially from Hampstead. She recorded her vote and might have been happy still if she had not insisted on talking to a policeman after leaving the booth. She mentioned she had put her initials on the ballot.

"I am one of the few who know how to do it properly," she said, but the policeman convinced her that by initialing the form she had spoiled the ballot and therefore lost her vote. She was on the verge of tears.

SAMUEL MEMBER OF NEW COMMONS

London, May 30 (C.P. Cable).—Rt. Hon. Sir Herbert Samuel, chief Liberal organizer, was elected in Darwen, Lancashire, and incidentally gained a seat for the Liberals from the Conservatives. He had a majority of 1,500 votes over the former Conservative member, Sir Frank Sanderson.

PARTY GAINS ARE LISTED

Labor Group Registers Advances in All Parts of Britain

London, May 31 (C.P. Cable).—At 1:40 a.m. the Labor Party had made twenty-eight gains, the Liberals seven and the Nationalists two. The Conservatives, who had thus far failed to gain a seat, had lost thirty-one seats, the Liberals four and Labor and Communists one each.

Some of the gains made were: Labor gains from Conservatives—Salford North, Salford South, Salford West, Wakefield Stockton-Durham, Warrington, Reading, Everton, Sheffield Central, Manchester-Hulme, Hackney, Eccles, Rossendale, Bristol Centre, Brightside, Bootle, Kirkdale, Newport, Bradford Central, Walsall, Sheffield Park.

Labor gains from Liberals—Accrington, Swansea West, Batley, Bradford East.

Liberal gains from Conservatives—Yarmouth, Manchester-Widening, Darwen, Manchester-Blackley, Preston.

London, May 30.—In the British general elections to-day Labor won a seat from the Government in Wakefield, Yorks, where G. H. Sherwood defeated R. C. Ellis (C) member of the last House.

In Hovey Capt. Ewan Wallace (C) retained his seat.

Labor candidates made gains from the Conservatives and Liberals in Stockton-on-Tees, Arlington, respectively. F. P. Riley defeated the ex-Conservative member in Stockton and Tom Snowden won Accrington from the ex-Liberal member, J. Hugh Edwards.

Sir Philip Sassoon, Under-Secretary for Air, retained in Hythe, Kent, and Sir Riley, one of the original members of the Independent Labor Party, and member of the council, was re-elected in Dewsbury.

WOMEN DEFEATED

Sir Philip Sassoon's Labor and Liberal opponents were both women. The Labor party made a clean sweep of Salford's three divisions, which were formerly in the Conservative ranks. In addition to Ben Tillett's victory in Salford North, J. Toole and A. W. Haycock were successful in capturing the South and West divisions from the Government.

Ben Tillett, the veteran secretary of the General Workers' Union of Great Britain, and a pioneer in the British Labor movement, defeated Dr. Haden Guest, Cons., who was nominated as Government candidate in place of S. Fingur, a member of the last House.

UNCHANGED
W. J. Womersley, Conservative, was re-elected in Grimsby, and Sir Robert Newman (Ind. Con.) was re-elected in Exeter. Farnsworth also was unchanged. Guy Rowson, Labor, being elected by more than 1,000 majority over Hon. Mary Pickford, the Conservative nominee and E. F. Dyer, Liberal.

The election of Derwent Hall Caine as the Conservative majority in that division was reduced to 630 in the 1924 election.

GUEST DEFEATED
Dr. L. Haden Guest, defeated by Ben Tillett in North Salford, was himself a Laborite until March, 1927, when he left the Labor Party, which he represented for North Salford and called himself an Independent Constitutionalist. He resigned from the Labor Party because of disagreement with the party's 1924 general strike policy. He became a Conservative last June.

This brought the total of Cabinet members re-elected up to four.

Lord Eustace Percy, Minister of Education, retained his seat in Hastings. Labor continued to gain at the expense of the Conservatives in Warrington, where C. Dukes was elected in a triangular contest. Another woman candidate, Miss Allison Garland, Liberal, was defeated in Warrington, losing her election deposit.

LABOR GAINS

Labor increased its gains from the Conservatives to nine when Labor candidates were victorious in Reading and Everton.

WINS FOR HIS PARTY

RT. HON. THOMAS SHAW, former Minister of Labor of Great Britain.

London, May 31.—In Preston Right Hon. Thomas Shaw, Labor, retained his seat in the general election yesterday, but W. A. Jowitt, Liberal, won the other seat from the Conservatives.

Lancashire's Course In Election Watched

London, May 31 (C.P. Cable).—"As Lancashire goes to-day, the country goes to-morrow," is an old political saying. As the election count proceeded shortly after midnight, Lancashire recorded four net gains for Labor, three from Conservatives in the Salford divisions, and one from the Liberals in Accrington. That was the most significant feature up to that time.

HERBERT MANSON WON HONOR WITH GREAT ADDRESS

Notable Oration at Toronto Finals Wins Honorable Mention; Returns To-day

Herbert Manson, champion boy orator of British Columbia, returned this afternoon from Toronto, where he was one of the leading contestants in the National Boys' Oratorical Competition sponsored by The Toronto Star.

Herbert Manson is eighteen years of age and a student at the Victoria High School. His address, "The Unification of Canada," which won him the championship of British Columbia at Vancouver, and was accorded honorable mention in the finals at Toronto, was as follows:

"The future of Canada is determined by the first, greatest and most comprehensive of all public interests—national unity. A unification which will be expressed not only in a bond of provinces under one name, but in the national sentiment of a people. "Canada stands to-day with an immense view of what is and what is past. The dawn of her history centered around the enterprise of a few heroic people—the parliament advance of their settlement slowly but surely conquering the wilderness, acquiring the vast territories that were later to call for union—their struggle to achieve freedom in the transition from non-representative to responsible self-government is essential as unity itself. From that image of progress to the force which united the scattered provinces, extended our borders from ocean to ocean, gave us a country and a name—Confederation."

"The tread of pioneers Of nations yet to be, The first slow wash of waves where soon Shall roll a human sea."

UNITY IDEAL BUILT NATIONS
"A century ago this land was a vast and lone wilderness. To-day, bounded by three oceans, with 3,690,000 square miles of territory, inhabited by a rich, vigorous and spirited nation of 9,000,000 people, one in its physical unity, one in its allegiance to the British Crown, stands a new Dominion. Could this have been possible without the compelling ideal of union? We cannot think so. Nor was Canada alone to benefit from that ideal, for her unity was instrumental in changing the old colonial imperialism, and out of that change grew the establishment of the British Empire on a basis of democracy. Three great commonwealths have since risen, each with its patriotic devotion to a national ideal, each with its faith in Empire solidarity! Can you doubt the influence of Confederation here?"

"There is nothing in Canada more vitally significant, more worthy of public attention than the advancement of our national consciousness. There is no nobler aspiration than to create in all things Canadian profounder national unity. "Visualize, then, a country of four distinct settlements separated by rugged natural barriers and subject to the inroads of diverse races. Here lies the danger of sectionalism, the conflicting ideals which would retard Canadian development. We admit that danger is lessened in the political and economic union effected by transcontinental railroads, that it yields slowly to the amazing versatility of our material growth. Yet we cannot believe that these are influences enough to make a single national life. It is public spirit which can alone make Canada safe and secure, renowned in the richness of true unification."

"Historic causes, the clash between two long-established cultures, Anglo-Saxon and Latin, have disturbed our racial tranquility. These are no longer evident; but to-day we have two races, two languages, and an almost equal division of the people between two great systems of religion demanding a finer synthesis of union. This diversity of race constitutes a problem much more national than provincial, and it is our duty to establish the basis of a common understanding."

EATS CABBAGE, FRIED POTATOES—NO GAS NOW

"Now I eat cabbage, fried potatoes, doughnuts and other foods I like. Adierika has ended distress after eating."—Mrs. O. E. Hytton.
Adierika relieves stomach gas and nervousness in TEN minutes. Acting on BOTH upper and lower bowels, it removes old waste matter you never thought was in your system. Let Adierika give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing and see how much better you feel. It will surprise you! At leading druggists. (Adv.)

standing, that we may find a new interpretation of the vital and inseparable dependence between French and English, that we may blend the culture of two great races into a corporate Canadianism, that we may bring forth the greatest voice in our national life—harmony in diversity!

MUCH DEMANDED
"Fifty years ago a Canadian statesman said to his country, 'Shall we live apart? Will we be content to preserve a mere provincial existence when united we may become a great nation?' What has justified the clearer vision of that man? What will justify still more his searching challenge to nationhood—but a unity cultivated in the mind and soul of the people. Such unification has need of more than material greatness, of industrial and economic advancement. It requires the efforts of the scholar, the ambition of the statesman, the pervasive influence of the press, the interchange of provincial leaders and the intercourse of provincial peoples. It demands a specific culture in harmony with a spiritual elevation, that by a virtuous genius in Canadian art, literature and science, we may exalt Canadian nationality; that by the supremacy of those moral and intellectual faculties, this northern half of the American continent shall lose its sectional, racial and religious difficulties in a vaster conception of interdependence, in a Canadianism, worthy of such a country."

BUILDS ROAD TO DESTINY

"Canada's supreme achievement? Is it told by constitutional advancement, by intimate alliance with the Empire, by representation in the Assembly of Nations and clearer conception of international relationships? Is it complete in her social and intellectual foundation, in the principles of civil and religious liberty, in the unbroken, enduring heritage of British traditions, in her gift of opportunity to every Canadian? Is her destiny all fulfilled? "Ladies and gentlemen, we are in the very morning of our country's life, the greatness of Canada's sixty years is but the rudiment of an evergrowing greatness—

M'GILL HONORS PREMIER KING

University Graduates' Opportunities Topic of Leader's Address in Montreal

Montreal, May 30.—The power and influence of the universities in the public life of the country, the opportunities of the university graduates in sharing that life and in guiding it along beneficent channels and a general survey of Canada's position in relation to other countries featured an address delivered by Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, before students of McGill University here yesterday. The occasion was the conferment on the Prime Minister of an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Touching on Canada's expansion, the Premier said there was a new field of opportunity for men of university training. There was a time when foreign countries were treated like strangers. Canada must now accept them as neighbors and be guided by a code of neighborliness in mutual dealings.

2,000 ARABS ARE KILLED IN FIGHT

London, May 30.—A Jerusalem dispatch to The London Daily Express says desert runners brought to Beirut word that 2,000 Arabs had been slain at El Sarar, Nejd, in a battle between the Ajmann and Jelawah tribes. The fight was attributed to a breach of desert hospitality.

The Sheikh of Ajmann visited and was entertained by the Sheikh of Jelawah, but no sooner had he left the tent of his host than he was slain. The Ajmann tribesmen promptly retaliated and in the following conflict both chiefs and a thousand tribesmen on each side were reported to have been killed.

NEW PLAN FOR REPARATIONS IS APPROVED

Paris, May 30.—The reparations experts at a session here to-day grappled with a number of knotty points among the German conditions and Allied reparations, any one of which if not satisfactorily disposed of might make final agreement impossible.

The discussion followed announcement last night that the German experts and the creditors had come to an agreement on reparations. The annuities as agreed upon average 2,050,000 gold marks (about $492,000,000) for thirty-seven years; 1,700,000,000 marks ($408,000,000) for twenty-one years; and 900,000,000 marks ($216,000,000) for the final year.

Under the agreement concluded these annuities will run from September next, instead of from April 1 last as originally calculated. The Dawes plan of payments will meanwhile continue in force.

The situation was explained last night by Thomas W. Lamont, United States alternative representative, as follows:

"Both the creditors and German experts have declared themselves willing to accept the annuity figures of 2,050,000,000 marks, as suggested by the chairman although a difference existed on the question of interpretation."

"This difference has now been removed and a common basis of interpretation acceptable to both the creditors and to Germany has been found. They still have, however, to agree on some conditions which still remain for discussion and settlement."

It was further explained this agreement was no one victory, for both Germany and the creditors had given way to make it possible.

NEW SOLO FLIGHT RECORD IS MADE

Los Angeles, May 30.—Herbert J. Fahy, test pilot for the Lockheed Aircraft Company, landed his Lockheed monoplane, the Metropolitan airport here, at 5:39 a.m. yesterday after breaking all official and unofficial solo endurance flight records with a continuous flight of 36 hours 56 minutes and 36 seconds.

The flier had started his record-breaking attempt Tuesday at 4:43 a.m. At 4:33 p.m. yesterday afternoon he broke, by the required one hour, the official record of 34 hours, 53 minutes, made by the late Royal Air Force pilot, Captain Geoffrey de Havilland, in 1927.

The unofficial solo flight record of Martin Jensen was surpassed by Fahy by 1 hour, 23 minutes and 15 seconds. Three gallons of gasoline were in the Lockheed plane's tanks when it landed. Fahy said he came down rather than take a chance of being forced to land in the dark with a dead stick due to lack of fuel.

CONSULATES RAIDED
Tokio, May 30.—Press dispatches from Harbin, Manchuria, said Chinese authorities had raided the Soviet consulates at Taitshair and Manchouli in addition to those at Harbin and Guelienko on Tuesday. It was said it had been established that the Chinese Nationalist Government at Nanking had ordered the raids, hoping to uncover a definite connection of the Soviet Government with Marshal Feng Yuhuang, who is leading a revolt in Central China.

PENSIONS ARE VOTED BY M.P.'S

National Health Estimates
Also Approved By House of Commons

Ottawa, May 30.—All estimates of the Department of Pensions and National Health, with three small exceptions, were passed by the Commons last night and yesterday afternoon, totaling upwards of $50,000,000.

A sum of $42,000,000 is provided for Great War and active militia pensions. An item of $194,550 for civil government in connection with the department is included.

RESULTS OF WAR

The difficulty of deciding whether a returned man's illness was due to war service or was contracted afterwards took up a great deal of the discussion on the pensions vote. Case after case was related where men, coming back from the Western Front, anxious to get home, paid no attention to what seemed then only trivial disabilities and were put down in the records as physically fit. Later they developed illnesses which might be difficult to prove attributable to the war, but nevertheless they really were. That these men should be entitled to be classed as suffering disabilities contracted in the war was the contention which came from various parts of the House.

Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Pensions and National Health, told the House his department had this matter under consideration and already had made considerable progress in meeting the situations described by various members.

RADIUM SUPPLY

The nationalizing of the radium supply in this country was urged by Dr. L. D. Colman, Conservative, North Renfrew, Ont., when the health estimates were before the House. He explained that at present the supply of this metal in Canada was owned for the most part by private persons. He suggested the Government take over the supply and place it in convenient centres under charge of experts and more sufferers could go for treatment.

ESTIMATES INTRODUCED

After the pensions vote Hon. W. D. Ruler, Minister of National Revenue, introduced his estimates, but no progress was made before adjournment. Yesterday afternoon the House gave first reading to a measure amending the Dominion Elections Act and third reading to the Supreme Court Act.

The House yesterday afternoon passed remaining estimates of the Immigration Department to the amount of $82,900, leaving the vote of the soldiers' land settlement board over for further consideration.

SEA WATER IS TO BE USED AS BROMINE SOURCE

New York, May 30.—A secret voyage of the steamship Ethyl, a huge floating laboratory equipped to produce bromine from sea water, has been revealed in an announcement from the American Chemical Society.

The motive public supplied the commercial need that inspired the unusual sea trip, for bromine is an important factor with tetraethyl lead in making anti-knock gasoline. Exhaustion of the known sources was considered possible and as in the United States these were being depleted, sea water research was undertaken.

The results are described by Charles H. A. Stine, chemical director of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company. This company, with others, including the General Motors research laboratories participated in the development.

The Ethyl, a lake-type cargo steamer, was converted into a floating chemical plant at the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation's Wilmington plant. The flier was installed with a pump tank of sea water, a minute quantity of acid were arranged for great rates of mixing of this great element. Compressed air supplied the energy.

It had been established before the trip, said Dr. Stine, that sea water contained the bromine, but the roving laboratory was needed to discover whether the concentration was sufficiently uniform throughout the ocean.

It is uniform, he said, to the extent of about one part in seventy in one million, which means that a plant "producing 100,000 pounds of bromine per month would require 392 tons to exhaust the bromine available in one cubic mile of sea water."

Now it is proposed to recover the sea bromine by "a continuous pipe-line process, a lake-type pump pumping huge volumes of water through the system at high velocities."

British Labor Leader Did Not Smoke For Month

Durham, Eng., May 30.—Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, chief of the Labor Party of Great Britain, smoked again in peace last night after a month of abstention from tobacco, as his cohorts prepared for the final struggle of the general election campaign.

Mr. MacDonald, making a whirlwind tour in his campaign for Labor in his own constituency here, revealed yesterday that in order to conserve his voice he had not smoked for a month, during which he had traveled 2,000 miles and addressed 250,000 electors.

PENITENTIARY DISCUSSION

Ottawa, May 30.—The retirement of Warden Cooper from the New West-

Oakland, Cal., May 30.—Accidentally touching a rectifier tube carrying an 18,000-volt current, Carl F. Scherer, Seattle salesman, was electrocuted last night in the operating room of the KGO broadcasting station here.

Scherer was leaning against a brass railing, watching the engineers at work, when he leaned over to view the rectifier tube. In some manner he came in contact with the tube casing and the current passed through his body.

The fire department inspector squad worked for two hours in an unsuccessful attempt to revive him.

AN AGREEMENT ON REPARATIONS

AFTER ABOUT SIXTEEN WEEKS OF discussion, the Allied and German reparations experts appear to have reached a conclusion in regard to what the debtor nation shall pay and how she shall pay it. The annuity for thirty-seven years will be $492,000,000; for twenty-one years it will be $408,000,000; and for the last year it will be $216,000,000. The total is $25,988,000,000.

The reparations experts of the Allied nations seem to be well satisfied with their lengthy deliberations. At times it looked as if deadlock after deadlock would produce complete disagreement and create a condition which would embarrass creditors and debtor alike. It was a foregone conclusion when the conference opened that Germany would use every device in her power to ease the burden which the Dawes plan imposed upon her. Her propagandists had been preparing the background for her case. The press had assisted in the development of a firm conviction in the public mind that nothing but irreparable disaster would overcome the country unless substantial reductions should be made.

In this mood her delegation, headed by Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, went to Paris. Nor was the atmosphere unsuitable for the purpose of the role it wanted to assume. The representatives of the Allies were divided on the amount and the manner of its payment. It required a good deal of tact to persuade France to retreat from the somewhat arbitrary position which she quite naturally had taken. While this atmosphere prevailed, Dr. Schacht and his colleagues were content to be patient listeners. It did not seem necessary for them to make any offers; nor did they make any. When proposals from the Allies came, therefore, they merely replied that the amounts and terms mentioned were wholly unsuitable. That attitude, of course, could be maintained only for a time. The day of reckoning had to come; but there have been a number of tense moments between the first meeting of the experts and the reaching of the agreement now announced.

It is an agreement, by the way, which once again reminds us how impossible it is to pay for a modern war of large proportions. Ten years ago we were hearing of reparations of $300,000,000,000 and $200,000,000,000. The present agreement of $25,988,000,000 is a far cry from these amounts.

AN AWFUL TOLL

ACCORDING TO STATISTICS PUBLISHED by the National Safety Council of the United States, 27,500 persons were killed in automobile accidents in the neighboring republic last year. This represents a total which is 6.3 per cent higher than in the preceding twelve months.

No doubt the accident toll will grow from year to year because of the increasing number of people who will be driving cars. Nor does there seem to be any way of cutting down the percentage save by continually preaching the gospel of "safety first." Propaganda no doubt is having its effect; but the craving for speed in this age of rush is difficult to deal with.

It would seem to the uninitiated that a time will come when some restriction will have to be placed upon the construction of engines so that they will develop a certain speed and no more. At present the main idea appears to be to turn out a machine and advertise its speed possibilities. If its limit shall be seventy miles an hour, we may be sure that, when he thinks it is safe, the owner will try to get that speed out of it. He may do it and not come to grief. But danger lurks in unexpected quarters. The slightest miscalculation, the development of the slightest mechanical defect, and one of a dozen things might happen.

The proper place for a speeding automobile is on a racetrack. The racer takes his own risk with his eyes open. He is not a menace to the public there.

THE SOCKEYE TREATY

INTIMATION COMES FROM WASHINGTON to the effect that the United States Senate may not ratify the Sockeye Salmon Treaty at this session of Congress because there is some dissatisfaction with certain provisions of the agreement. No doubt some of the senators are of the opinion that Canada would obtain greater benefits from its operation than the State of Washington would. But it was hardly to be expected that the Senate would deal with the matter at this session, since Congress was especially called to deal only with farm relief and other urgent domestic matters. At its regular session next September the agreement no doubt will be approved.

Such objection to the treaty as has developed at Washington, however, puts its opponents at Ottawa in an anomalous position. Their opposition, as far as they have made it public, is that the United States would not only get much the best of the bargain, but also that its operation would be tantamount to a surrender of certain rights by Canada to an international commission, obviously a wholly misleading interpretation—as all who have read the provisions of the pact clearly realize—and, of course, it is not the real basis of their antagonism.

The morning paper returns to a discussion of the subject with the statement that "twelve out of the fourteen members of Parliament for British Columbia at Ottawa are opposed to the treaty," and that "the people of this Province are with their members at Ottawa in their fight to have the treaty amended." This must sound strange to the readers of our morning contemporary, which repeatedly has told us that the Tolmie Government, by virtue of the support its policies received at the polls, none the less by reason of its understanding of what is in the best interests of the Province, must now be recognized as the mouthpiece of the people of British Columbia.

In this matter of the Sockeye Salmon Treaty the Tolmie Government speaks for the people of this Province. It is thoroughly familiar with the situation in the Fraser River system. It has accepted responsibility for the general formula embodied in the treaty under discussion. The Prime Minister himself has publicly announced his complete agreement with its provisions in a considered statement recently published. His Government commended the Government at Ottawa for authorizing Canada's signature of the pact. It has done all this in the interests of the people of British Columbia, with the full consent and approval of the fishermen and provincial canneries interests; but it has been confronted by the opposition of certain cannery stockholders in the east, who appear to have the Conservative members from British Columbia at Ottawa by the nose—whose one and only consideration is immediate profits at the expense of the future of a great industry.

In contrast with the attitude of The Colonist, however, is that of The Vancouver Daily Province, a newspaper enjoying by far the largest circulation in British Columbia, which notes that the restoration of the sockeye run to the Fraser River system to normal proportions should give this Province an annual revenue of $30,000,000, observing also "that the sooner this treaty is in operation, the better the people of British Columbia will like it."

EMPIRE'S CAR CENTRE

THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY IN Canada is comparatively young, but has developed in a remarkable manner. According to the last official return, it ranked fifth among Dominion industrial activities, and may now be fourth. At the time of this return there were eleven companies producing cars and trucks, all located in Ontario, the capital employed by these concerns being $88,831,668, and their production value $128,700,514. These figures have been steadily rising for some years and are without doubt higher to-day. The industry has expanded, largely under the stimulus of United States capital, which amounts to more than three-quarters of the total, to meet the rapidly increasing demands of the Canadian field, where the automobile has come to enter intimately into every phase of the nation's life, and also to engage in an ever-expanding export trade for which Canada possesses special advantages.

Canadian automobiles have found favor in practically every corner of the globe, and it is difficult to name a country to which some variety does not go. In particular, Canada has become the manufacturing centre for the outlying sections of the British Empire. Last year there was a substantial increase in the export of freight autos of one ton or less capacity, the principal customer for which is British India. About eight times as many freight trucks of more than one ton capacity were exported as in the previous year, these being widely distributed. Autos valued at $500 or less more than doubled in shipment, Australia being the first customer for these, followed by British India, New Zealand, Egypt, Argentina and British West Africa. There was a small increase in the export of automobiles worth between $500 and $1,000, the United Kingdom being first customer for these, followed by New Zealand, Australia, Ceylon and Argentina. Cars worth more than $1,000 were shipped to a smaller extent than in the previous year, the United Kingdom being the principal importer. The sale of auto parts showed a decline, these going mainly to Australia, New Zealand, British India and British South Africa.

In many ways the automobile industry occupies an important place in Canadian life such as it does in few other countries. Based on the increases of previous years, there must have been well over 1,000,000 automobiles owned in Canada in 1928, a high figure among a population of less than 10,000,000. Vigorously carried out programmes of good road construction in all parts of the country have made the automobile a vehicle of utility and pleasure to all classes. In particular it has revolutionized farm life in western Canada, facilitating farm operation and adding immeasurably to the recreation of farm dwellers. The wave of prosperity which has swept over the agricultural west has been attended by wholesale buying, not alone of automobiles, but trucks, which are coming into ever more general use for the transport of grain. In no country in the world is the automobile and auto truck in more general use than in Canada, while the Dominion is aiding in bringing about somewhat similar situations in other parts of the Empire.

Loose Ends

A Presidential idol shows his feet of clay—though not eight inches high—while the critics of civilization are confounded by the epic of the buffalo—and the tragic history of the caterpillar.

By H. B. W.

IT IS all very well for our neighbors to hail Mr. Hoover as a superhero. It is all very well for papers like The New York Times, ardently Democratic at the last election, to turn about suddenly and find that Mr. Hoover is the prophet of a new era; but there has come from Washington this last week news that none of them can explain away. Mind you, it does not surprise me. Ever since the day when I saw a photo of Mr. Hoover on a fishing trip out west, in a white stiff collar, I had lost my faith in the man. Even the persistent reports of his well-earned down in Virginia, and the eight trout he caught a week ago Sunday did not fool me. I suspected there would be worse things than the white collar before his term was finished. Well, there are. Mr. Hoover has established a permanent fishing camp down in Virginia and to the white collar he has added electric lighting in his tent.

IT IS quite proper for the President of the world's richest nation to have electric lighting in his tent if he wants to, but only as a mere president. Not as a fisherman. There is no use him posing as a fisherman before the admiring people of the United States while he basks luxuriously in an electrically-lighted camp. Every fisherman knows that you can't make a fishing camp unless you are dependent on an inch of wax candle which blows out in the wind. Nor can you go fishing unless generous proportions of sand and gravel get into the frying pan while nameless hush swim in the coffee, the bacon is burned to a black powder, and you are soothed to sleep by the mosquito's fierce tulla.

IT IS no wonder Mr. Hoover returns to Washington after a week-end in his electrically-lighted camp, in his white stiff collar, and has to admit that his luck was out. He has it no wonder that he is photographed with eight youthful minnows after two days in the woods. You can't take civilization into the woods and bring back the treasures which it reserves only for the uncivilized. You can't catch trout in a white collar, and you must cook your fish on the end of a stick before a smoky fire, not on an electric range. Mr. Hoover may be a great President, but as a fisherman he comes at the bottom of the poll. And what's the use of being a great president, if the trout disdain your fly?

I HAVE no patience for those who are forever deploring our civilization and casting doubts upon the progress of the human family. Almost every day comes some fresh evidence to confound them and prove that we are getting on. Recent additions to our magnificent zoological gardens at Beacon Hill Park serve as the latest witnesses to our moral growth. What a splendid chapter in our history do the newly-arrived buffalo recall! We found the buffalo roaming the great plains of the prairie in stark ignorance and brutality. They served no useful purpose. They had no better feelings. They only roamed and ate. Were we content to let them go on in their abandoned ways? Heaven forbid. We put an end to their misery. We slaughtered them down to a few which somehow escaped our Christian zeal, we fed our many builders on their flesh; we turned their useless hides into excellent fur coats and their bleached bones provided freight for the C.P.R. while it was waiting for the prairies to produce wheat. Then we found that a few of these unhappy creatures had escaped our kindly ministrations and were living in their original barbarity down in Montana. We had no use for buffalo coats, meat or bones at that time, so we took these survivors and put them in a great park around Wainwright and there we started to rebuild the race we had all but destroyed.

NOW, AS a final act of brotherly service to the species which we have rescued from its original misery, we place them in happy pairs in our public parks where they may bask in the smiles of admiring visitors all day long and never worry where their next meal is coming from. And so remarkably successful has this splendid campaign been from the beginning that the buffalo now has become a refined and civilized being who never bothers anyone, but blinks at the pop-eyed visitor without brutality, without embarrassment, without the slightest interest in life whatever.

WHEN YOU recall this epic story and when you think how we have taken Ursus Kermodei, the little white bear, away from his brutal companions and put him all by himself in a cement cell, where he may contemplate the eternal verities all day long, then you appreciate how human nature is improving.

THESE THINGS make it all the more remarkable that the kindly heart of man seems to turn to stone when caterpillar season arrives. Earnest correspondents of this newspaper have been writing feverish exhortations to our citizenry to arise and smite the gentle caterpillar, "ere it leaves its faecal tent to nourish itself on the leaves which Nature has provided for its enjoyment. The fierce arrogance of these people almost makes one doubt the lesson of the buffalo. One gentleman writes to this column to state in language of cold, calculating ferocity, that the proper way to attack the caterpillar is to wait until he has gone unsuspectingly to bed in the evening, to crawl up on him in the dark and then to cremate him with a gasoline-soaked rag on the end of a stick. Another proposes that the embattled backyard gardeners of the city march forth in battalions, pluck the

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, May 30, 1904

Nanaimo, May 30—Fire last night destroyed No. 1 pit head, the property of the Western Fuel Company of San Francisco, the finest and most modern equipped on the Pacific Coast. The loss amounted to $80,000, partly covered by insurance.

Victoria and Vicinity—Moderate to fresh winds, generally fair, and not much change in temperature.

The first Sunday senior baseball game played in Victoria yesterday was won by the local team when it defeated the Manuel Lopez nine by 8 to 5 runs.

To-day the Sisterhood of St. Ann's Convent and St. Joseph's Hospital mourn the loss of Sister Mary Providence, who passed away shortly after 11 o'clock last evening.

The Victoria Sealing Company has received advices that the schooner E. B. Marvin, one of the Victoria sealers sent to the Falkland Islands, has arrived at Halifax, N.S., with a catch of something like 900 seals, taken on the southern hunting grounds. The schooner reports all well.

A sealing voyage, replete with thrilling adventure, was ended by the schooner Umbria, Captain Blackstad, which arrived home on Saturday evening, after a season that will never be forgotten by the skipper or any of his faithful crew.

EDUCATIONAL WORK OF ORDER IS REVIEWED

Hundreds of Ex-Service Men's Children Helped By I.O.D.E., Report Shows

Fine Pictures and Libraries Placed in Public Schools of Dominion

Living up to its traditions of service, the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire is carrying on a magnificent work in educating the children of ex-service men, placing patriotic books and pictures in the schools, according to the able and comprehensive report presented to the National Chapter I.O.D.E. by Miss W. Gordon, the national educational secretary.

The most popular of the British and historical portraits being placed in Canadian schools by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire are those of the royal family, and especially of the Prince of Wales, it was noted in the report. Great progress was made throughout the Dominion with the placing of these pictures in the library sets of varying size, and many other useful gifts in the schools, and especially in the rural schools where they are needed most.

Concerning help with the education of soldiers' children, the report said: "The work seems to be carried on by the Municipal Chapters of Hamilton, London, Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec, St. John, Toronto, and Victoria, or by primary chapters under their jurisdiction. Some of these municipal chapters have a central fund, to which the various primary chapters contribute; in St. John each chapter gives forty cents a week. From this central fund help is given to various boys and girls whose cases are reported to a central committee, and who are visited by representatives of primary chapters. In other places individual chapters take charge of individual cases as 'wards of the chapter'."

SOLDIERS' CHILDREN

"Hamilton has helped to send fourteen children to school at a cost of $100 each, six to the Collegiate Institute, five to the High School of Commerce, two to business college, one to the technical school. The Municipal Chapter of London gave ten dollars a month to each of two girls at the Collegiate Institute. In the report from the Province of Quebec all the soldiers' children helped, most of whom are looked after by the Montreal chapters, are grouped together. During the year thirty-nine soldiers' children were helped to go to high school, at an average cost of $265.82; at business college, at an average cost of $41.75; one at Shawbridge, learning a trade, at a cost of $100; one at McGill University, at a cost of $150.

"In Ottawa twenty-one children have been helped during the year; the cost is not stated; formerly a certain amount was given each year to each child; now the assistance varies. In St. John money from the central fund kept the same boy, Angus Cameron, at high school, where he has led the class for the city. In Toronto forty-nine children were helped, twelve at collegiate institutes, at an average cost of about $60, nine at technical school at an average cost of about $30, five at business college at an average cost of $80, eight at commercial schools at an average cost of $43; there are also three at public school at an average cost of $60, and one at a cost of $100, while one chapter pays for its 'ward' at the College Hospital, looking after her completely at a cost of $373. In Victoria ten soldiers' children have been helped, seven attending high school, one in normal school, one business college, one the university summer school; the average cost is about $70," it was noted.

COURSES GIVEN

"In addition to these, a number of chapters have given amounts varying from $11.50 to $250, and the help given has varied from providing books and transportation to school, to paying fees at night school, or giving courses in music, painting, nursing, occupational therapy.

"In three provinces no action has been necessary on the part of the chapters in Saskatchewan the Provincial Government educates soldiers' children at a cost of $240 a year; in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island no need to present for chapters revealed the convener.

OTHER CHILDREN HELPED

"Helping to educate the children of soldiers has led various chapters to help other children. The largest reported gift to an individual was the gift of $250 given annually by the St. Dunstan's Chapter, which gave $200 for a boy's musical education. Other help ranges from an allowance of $12 monthly to clothing, Five New Brunswick chapters, by gifts of shoes and other clothing, made it possible for the children in forty-eight families to go to school. The most specific provincial report of money spent in this work comes from Quebec, where eleven boys and girls were helped in high schools at an average of $44, one child at business college at a cost of $100, and twenty-four children at various kinds of schools or in other training at an average cost of $50.

"The largest of scholarships is one of $300 given by a Toronto chapter and that of $250 given annually by the Tan-nis-uk Chapter to the best student in grade eleven or twelve in Calgary whose father served overseas; this year it was won by Thomas Baker. Three other scholarships of $50 are reported. In Manitoba the Teck Chapter gives the Ethel M. Kerr Memorial Scholarship in grade eleven, of the value of $25. In New Brunswick three scholarships of $50 are given, among others.

"In Ontario, besides the $300 scholarship already mentioned, a $25 scholarship is reported as given by a Toronto chapter and bursaries in occupational therapy to soldiers at a total of $675. Twenty-five dollar scholarships are reported from St. Catharines and London, and eight other chapters in the province are reported as giving scholarships ranging from $20 to $80. In Quebec four scholarships have been given, of the value of $15, $50, $275 and $187 respectively.

Mrs. Gertrude Lloyd, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a pale green crepe de Chine gown. Her bouquet was of pink snapdragons and sweet peas. The groom was supported by Mr. Billy Lloyd, brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a reception was held at Hampton Hall, where the bride's mother received their many friends. CHAPTER PRESENTS LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Presentation of a national life membership to Mrs. A. E. Beck of Vancouver in recognition of her years of splendid leadership at the head of the Connaught Chapter of that city, and ratification of life memberships given to Mrs. D. M. Balfour of St. John's, Saskatchewan, Mrs. J. M. C. Muir, Montreal, and Miss F. E. Currie of Montreal, formed an interesting feature of yesterday afternoon's session of the National Chapter I.O.D.E.

The bestowal of the life membership on Mrs. Beck by Mrs. J. A. Stewart was accompanied by a beautiful basket of flowers, the gift of the Connaught Chapter with which Mrs. Beck has been for so long associated. Mrs. Beck has also been on the provincial executive for a number of years.

The chapter also moved a vote of appreciation to Miss A. Stewart Galt of Toronto for her excellent organization of the tour of the English schoolgirls, and the chapter will present her with a national life membership as a token of appreciation.

SCHOOL GIRLS' TOUR

The report of the schoolgirls' tour, presented by Miss Joan Arnoldi, led to an interesting discussion in which the resolution from the Ganges Chapter, Salt Spring Island, was brought to the attention of the meeting. This chapter suggested the arranging of reciprocal tours of Canadian schoolgirls to Great Britain, a suggestion which was enthusiastically endorsed by the meeting. The matter will be looked into and a later report presented to the chapters.

Mrs. H. F. Griffin presented the provincial report for Ontario, which comprises 270 chapters. Saskatchewan's Mrs. J. H. Holmes, provincial president, spoke of the problem of Canadianizing the children of the foreign-born population, particularly in those districts where British-born settlers are very few.

DELEGATES FROM FAR-AWAY YUKON

Mrs. Isaac Taylor, Mrs. Galpin, Mrs. C. J. McLennan and Mrs. W. C. Copland who are representing I.O.D.E. chapters in the Yukon at the National Chapter meeting here. They were photographed at the Empress Hotel yesterday. Mrs. Taylor presented the report of the Yukon Chapters at this morning's session, showing the wonderful spirit of service of these women of the far north.

SIR PERCY LAKE TELLS AIMS OF SERVICE LEAGUE

National I.O.D.E. Hear Comprehensive Review of Ex-Service Men's Organization

Something of the vision of the British Empire Service League, the world-wide organization of ex-service men, was brought to the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire by Sir Percy Lake, L.C.B., E.C.M.G., in an address given at the Empress Hotel last evening.

The members of the Provincial Chapter of British Columbia were the hostesses, and the guests included the officers and delegates of the National Chapter, other distinguished guests included Sir Percy Lake and Lady Lake, Premier Tolmie and Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mayor Anson and Mrs. Anson, and Frederick Brand, the first recipient in British Columbia of an I.O.D.E. scholarship.

FLORAL REPLICA OF BADGE

Mrs. Curtis Sampson, provincial president, presided at the gathering in the Empress Hotel. A brilliant note of color was struck by the presence of the badge of the president's chair of a very beautiful replica of the badge of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, carried out in flowers in the exact tones of the emblem with scarlet and white rhododendron blossoms, blue violas, white lilac and golden calceolarias. This charming decoration, the design and handiwork of Mrs. L. A. Genge, municipal vice-regent of Victoria and her able committee, was flanked on either side by the silver standards of the National and Provincial Chapters. Mrs. Genge's committee included Mrs. F. E. Corby, Mrs. W. Ellis, Mrs. H. P. Bagley, Mrs. G. Lillie, Mrs. Musket and Miss Pitts.

After the toasts to the King and Queen, Mrs. J. A. Stewart, national president, proposed the toast to "The Empire." The toast to "Our Guests," was briefly spoken to by Mrs. M. S. Morrow for Nova Scotia; Mrs. McLeod, New Brunswick; Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, Quebec; Mrs. A. J. Hughes, Manitoba; Mrs. W. B. Holmes, Saskatchewan; Mrs. R. C. Marshall, Alberta; Mrs. Taylor, Yukon Territory; Miss Nita Hensley for Prince Edward Island; Mrs. Curtis Sampson acknowledging the joint meetings on behalf of British Columbia.

MRS. STEWART SPEAKS

Mrs. Stewart, in her address, outlined the growth of the British Empire from the earliest days when men sought new lands in the search for religious and political freedom, when adventurers, voyaging across the then largely unknown seas, discovered new lands and added them to British territory.

Reference was also made to the beginnings of New Zealand, Australia, Cape Colony, and other parts of the Empire. As a brilliant Scandinavian had remarked: "British statesmen had no aims, but they generally had principles." Cabot, Sir Humphrey Gilbert, Sir Walter Raleigh, Vancouver, MacKenzie and others of the early adventurers and colonizers who came to this continent were recalled. It had only been when they lost the United States that the British sought to add these more northern lands so that they might have somewhere to colonize. Reference was also made to the beginnings of New Zealand, Australia, Cape Colony, and other parts of the Empire.

SIR PERCY LAKE

Sir Percy Lake recalled that the British Empire Service League was intended as a great unifying organization aimed at the uniting in one great comradeship for maintenance of Empire of ex-service men and women throughout the Empire—men and women who had served and done their duty in the forces of the Empire in war or peace.

Its ideals were summed up in those of the Canadian Legion, the Dominion branch of the league, namely: loyalty, comradeship and peace, loyalty to King, country and Empire, "recognizing duties to be performed as well as rights to maintain, bound up in standing up for honor, duty and public service, for a united national spirit and good government in Canada, for the bringing up of our children as good citizens and upholders of the principles for which the recognition by our country that our fathers fought, and lastly for it must take its full share in the responsibilities of Empire."

ATTITUDE TOWARDS PEACE

After reviewing the steps leading to the formation of the league, Sir Percy defined its attitude towards peace. "The British Empire Service League is not for peace at any price. Where we have pledged our national honor to defend the peace or protect minorities we are bound to keep our word. Some of our pacifist peace-at-any-price friends are insistent for immediate total disarmament. They forget, or conveniently ignore, such facts as that India has tribes on her frontiers whose warriors number hundreds of thousands, who are only kept from raiding the peaceful peasants on the plains by the ability of the Indian army to maintain the Pax Britannica; Palestine and Iraq until they can undertake their own defence. On the ocean, too, pirates still exist and ply their trade, and only need immunity to multiply. Instances can be easily multiplied to demonstrate that total disarmament can at present be only a dream."

REHABILITATION WORK

The speaker also told of the rehabilitation work of the league, of its care for disabled ex-service men and for the dependents of fallen and ex-service men. The part of the legion in watching the administration of pensions was also touched upon. While guarding the interest of the ex-service men they tried to see that the interests of the state were not suffered.

Mrs. Graham Thompson of Toronto and Hon. S. F. Tolmie voiced the thanks of the gathering to Sir Percy Lake.

During the dinner Mrs. A. F. Griffiths, on behalf of the provincial executive of the order, presented Mrs. Sampson with a beautiful colonial bouquet. Each of the guests, the head table also received a charming little bouquet, the handiwork of Mrs. Mrs. S. Wood, and a place card in the shape of a colored totem pole, made by Mrs. L. A. Genge.

"I want," said the house-hunter, "a house in an isolated position—at least five miles from any other house."
"I see," said the agent, with an understanding smile, "you want to practice the simple life?"
"No," answered the house-hunter, grimly, "I want to practice the cornet."

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

DAILY AIRINGS AN INSURANCE AGAINST ILLNESS

This is the time of year when pale and puny little houseplants are set out in the sun and show clearly the effects of their long months in warm and badly-aired rooms. There is a daily plaint from mothers that marks their recognition of the effects of the babies' long session indoors, and they should realize that about all that is necessary to render that pesty skin start Patty's hair to growing and cure Bud of his inclination to take cold is to give over-doses of just this same air and sun.

Now that conditions are favorable for daily airing for babies past two weeks of age, mothers should make it a stern and unalterable duty to get out for at least two hours every day. No, it isn't a bit of fun to wheel a baby out in the sun. The housework is bound to suffer. But just putting him in a well-aired room isn't quite enough. And sometimes putting him out in front of the house, if he has to be close to the street and sleep in dust and motor car fumes, isn't enough either. He needs to be directly in the sun and breathe fresh, clean air. One young mother said to me, "Oh, I hate this daily parade of baby carriages and dragging the child to the park." Well, it just has to be done. It's part of the duty of caring for a baby in the proper manner. Sunlight and fresh air are, next to food,

LET DIET FURNISH TONIC

The older child needs it just as surely. The little runabout who can't be trusted to stay in the yard needs his daily airing as surely as his baby sister. Spring used to mean doses of thick, pasty sulphur and molasses, or worm medicines, or cream of tartar to thin the blood! Mother felt that housecleaning wasn't finished until the family had been housecleaned, too. Now we furnish the children with red blood that puts color in their cheeks and deposits bundles of oxygen in every cell in their bodies by the much more agreeable method of filling their plates with every kind of vegetable, using stewed or raw fruit for their desserts and sending them out in the sun to draw their spring tonic from its rays.

These are such pleasant tonics that mothers can't possibly believe them even more efficacious than the old-time nostrums. If vegetable and fruit juices came in expensive bottles and tasted just a bit nasty, mothers would feel so much more as if they were really spring tonics.

So we have to conscientiously administer the vegetables, milk and fruits and the daily airing and sunbathing as though they were in truth medicines. They are the children's positive insurance against summer illnesses, for there are no more perfect seasons for building bodies than these bright, spring months.

Bachelor Uncle—Marry her, my boy.

Really, old top, this is distressing—and so unnecessary. You ought to know better. It isn't that the fast workers—in business or at play—won't admit that the pace has got 'em and turn down a perfectly good breakfast. Fact is, this new stunt of a refreshing morning dental pick-me-up has just put the no-breakfast complex out of our systems. You'll enjoy your morning toast and coffee after a refreshing brush with

No OTHER DENTIFRICE so entirely deserves your preference. It is compounded with scientific accuracy. It cleans the teeth thoroughly without the destructive action of abrasives. You'll enjoy the cooling, antiseptic spearmint flavor. Tests show 92 3/10% of people do.

Spearmint Tooth Paste is the most economical dentifrice. Pure alcohol takes the place of useless water in the formula—giving this dentifrice an important stimulating and antiseptic character.

Spearmint Tooth Paste lasts four times as long as any other. One-quarter inch, laid across the brush, is sufficient for a thorough cleansing. Use Spearmint Tooth Paste and you will save three-fourths of the money you now spend for dentifrices.

Pirates Subdue Cubs In First Clash For Lead

Pittsburgh Continues Great Pace in National League by Victory Over Chicago to Take League Leadership; Cubs Must Win Two Remaining Games of Series to Get Back on to Even Terms; New York Giants' Winning Streak Broken by Brooklyn; Washington Takes Yankees Into Camp.

The Pittsburgh Pirate charge has broken through into open territory with nothing to halt it. General McCarthy reformed broken Chicago Cub lines near Forbes Field to-day for a rearguard action designed to prevent the Pirates from maintaining their advanced position, but the Chicago forces faced the necessity of winning both battles if they were to hurl back the troops of Donie Bush.

The last Cub line gave way at Pittsburgh yesterday under the pressure of Pirate bats, and the blinding cross-fire of Young Steve Swetonic.

The Pirates won by 7-2, thereby moving into the league leadership by margin of one game. The defeat pushed the Cubs back into a tie with the St. Louis Cardinals, who were unkind enough to snatch two games from the Cincinnati Reds at St. Louis, 4-3 and 6-2.

Dudley broke the winning streak of the New York Giants when Brooklyn won by 4-1. The Phillies incurably addicted to the habit of mistreating the Boston Braves, repeated yesterday by 12-2.

The Washington Senators' record was looking up again yesterday when Washington won easily by 8-0 over the New York Yankees.

The Philadelphia Athletics won over the Boston Red Sox 7-1, behind Earnshaw's smart pitching.

The Detroit Tigers were thoughtful enough to halt the St. Louis Browns by 7-6. George E. H. Ruggles, the Cincinnati Reds' ace pitcher, won his ninth successive victory of the season.

The Cleveland Indians ambushed the White Sox in Chicago by 11-1.

HAGEN HAS DECIDED TO PLAY BRITON

After Attempting to Cancel Matches With Compston He Changes His Mind

Quickly Smooths Ruffled Feelings of British; Badly in Need of Rest

London, May 30.—Walter Hagen, with the gesture of a diplomat, quickly smoothed the ruffled feelings of the British on his arrival from Berlin this morning. There was a threat of an international incident when the open golf champion tried to cancel his scheduled golf matches with Archie Compston.

"I'm just in time to vote," said Hagen, as he left the train at the Liverpool Street station. "I don't know how to vote for even if I had a vote, for as far as I can see, whatever party is in power, Britain is a good place to be in and I love it."

With that said Hagen did not find it difficult to explain to the crowd of reporters why he needed rest more than a match with the giant Compston. However, when he learned that the British public would be greatly disappointed if forced to forego the pleasure of seeing the exhibitions, he decided to play.

Hagen said that he was in fine condition and would make Compston play the best golf he is capable of producing.

FISH'S GOAL GIVES BAYS SOCCER TITLE

Defeat Rennie's 1-0 in Deciding Match For Wednesday League Honors

Teams Put Up Great Exhibition; Bakers Have Held Title For Three Years

Don Fish's fast ground shot to the corner of the net, half-way through the first half spell victory to the fast-moving Hudson's Bay over their old rivals, the Rennie and Taylor team, in the finals of the Wednesday League football played at Beacon Hill Park yesterday.

Both teams played good football and it was only an excellent piece of combination work by the Bay forwards that enabled Fish to score what proved to be the winning goal. A strong wind blowing across the field made the ball at times hard to handle, but, apart from this, the conditions were ideal and the large crowd that was present were treated to a real exhibition of soccer.

RAY'S SCORE
The Bays were having the edge of the play and were awarded a foul kick just outside the penalty area. Kerch's kick was perfect and Hamer tried hard to reach the ball to head, but could not quite make it. The Bays were not to be daunted, however, and sent across a perfect centre to Hamer who in turn passed to Fish, who made no mistake when he beat Geddes for the only goal of the match.

Following the centre Rennie's tried hard, but the Bays were out to win and were letting nothing slip by with their airplay. Up till this period of the game the ball had hardly been outside the field, only two corners having been awarded. The bakers tried hard and their Geddes saved easily, and then Geddes saved a beauty from Obee and Hamer both had shots on goal, but Geddes was right on his job and let nothing by. Tuppman cleared a dangerous rush, and right after that the whistle for half-time blew.

On resumption of play Rennie's seemed a new team. Wright had a good chance, but headed over the bar. Shrimpton saved two hot ones from Hester and Stewart that looked like sure goals. Woodley took a free kick and placed the ball right in the goal mouth.

George Davis just missed the goal with a sizzler and right after this Purdy, youthful forward of the Rennie's, put in a shot that just sailed over the bar with Percy Shrimpton. Hester, who is in charge of all arrangements, is requested to forward the names of any members of their clubs who would like to make the trip, to the secretary of the British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association.

After short stops at Honolulu and Suva the party will land at Auckland on December 30. The tour will start from there, a visit being paid to all important points in the Dominion. This tour will continue until early in February when the party will divide, those who desire, will continue on to Australia for a month's tour, while those who cannot extend their holiday will return home.

Local bowlers will recall with a great deal of pleasure the visit here a year ago of the lawn bowlers from New Zealand. They proved to be excellent players and no doubt a great number of players throughout Canada will take advantage of the opportunity of paying a return visit.

Albie Davies Wins Decision Over Portlander
Bellingham, Wash., May 30.—Russell Dockstater, Vancouver, B.C., lightweight, won on a technical knockout over Buck Morris of Wichita, Kas. in the fourth round when the referee stopped their six-round go here last night. Dockstater weighed 172 pounds and Morris 175.

DeWolf, 200-pound Bellingham slugger, knocked out Joe Reeves of Vancouver, in the third round of the semi-final.

Hard Slugging Champ —By Jimmy Thompson

Malcolm Matheson is the newest fistic sensation in the Canadian amateur field.

Malcolm first jumped into the limelight by beating Hutchinson for the Ontario amateur title and topped off this feat by capturing the Dominion title at Winnipeg this spring.

In a recent bout in the Queen City under the direction of Charles Ring, he showed up as one of the greatest fistic sensations to enter the ring in this country in a long while.

The boy makes good use of both his hands and has a fine variety of punches. He seems to have plenty of ability and when he gets to work again this autumn he should give the fans thrills without the frills.

WELSH FOOTBALL Team to Reach Quebec Friday
Montreal, May 30.—The Welsh Football Association team, which will tour Canada, will arrive in Quebec on Friday on the Canadian Pacific steamship, Duchess of Atholl. The players will be in Montreal on Friday afternoon and will play their first game on Saturday.

LAWN BOWLERS TO MAKE TOUR
Canadian Party Will Leave Vancouver in December to Visit New Zealand
Arrangements have been completed for a party of Canadian lawn bowlers to make a tour of New Zealand and Australia, according to word received in the city this morning by David Dewar, secretary of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club. The party will sail on the R.M.S. Aorangi from Vancouver on December 11.

The tour is being arranged under the auspices of the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association. A. A. Langford of London, Ont., is in charge of all arrangements. Secretaries of all local clubs are requested to forward the names of any members of their clubs who would like to make the trip, to the secretary of the British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association.

After short stops at Honolulu and Suva the party will land at Auckland on December 30. The tour will start from there, a visit being paid to all important points in the Dominion. This tour will continue until early in February when the party will divide, those who desire, will continue on to Australia for a month's tour, while those who cannot extend their holiday will return home.

Local bowlers will recall with a great deal of pleasure the visit here a year ago of the lawn bowlers from New Zealand. They proved to be excellent players and no doubt a great number of players throughout Canada will take advantage of the opportunity of paying a return visit.

Albie Davies Wins Decision Over Portlander
Bellingham, Wash., May 30.—Russell Dockstater, Vancouver, B.C., lightweight, won on a technical knockout over Buck Morris of Wichita, Kas. in the fourth round when the referee stopped their six-round go here last night. Dockstater weighed 172 pounds and Morris 175.

DeWolf, 200-pound Bellingham slugger, knocked out Joe Reeves of Vancouver, in the third round of the semi-final.

VICTORIA LOSES FIRST RANKING SWIMMING STAR

T. Wellburn, B.C. and Canadian Record Holder Will Leave City For Up-Island

Has Been Winning Championships Since 1922; Helped Develop Aquatic Sports Here

Tom Wellburn, Victoria's premier swimmer, holder of British Columbia and Canadian championship records and present president of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, will leave his familiar haunts, the Crystal Garden and the Gorge, to take up his residence near Shawnigan Lake on Monday.

With Tom's leaving, Victoria will lose the second of the city's two swimmers who were able to defend her laurels against outside competition so successfully. Audrey Griffin, the outstanding local lady swimmer, succumbed to Dan Cupid's bow two months ago and left for Calgary. Although Wellburn will not be absolutely separated from Victoria, he will be able to come down only for the more important meets.

OVER FIFTY VICTORIES

Tom first broke into the swimming world about ten years ago, when he successfully competed with the best talent the Province could send against him. Since then he has been swimming for the V.A.S.C. and has added laurels after laurels to his collection. Now he has a box full of medals that number well over half a hundred.

For many years he has been one of the foremost competitors in The Times Through-Victoria Swim and last summer led a fast field over the course to capture the long swim trophy. Fifty yards to 100 he has his specialties. Last year he established a Canadian record for the former distance and has frequently come within split seconds of others.

HELPING DEVELOP CLUB
Although not one of the founders of the club, Tom has played a big part in the development of the V.A.S.C. and has been one of the foremost to encourage young swimmers.

He was a constant thorn in the flesh to Vancouver aquatic stars, who could not match his stamina and frequently sent Terminal City stars down to defeat in galas here and on the mainland.

All Wellburn's achievements in the swimming world are purely the result of his own initiative. He has trained himself and with the aid of a coach has gained sufficient skill to meet any man in British Columbia in sprints and short distance races.

MANY CHAMPIONSHIPS
Although he came first in the inter-city races in 1919, the first year in which he entered competitive swimming, his first championship was won in 1921. In that year he broke the British Columbia record for 440 yards. For the following two years he retained the championship, breaking his own mark twice. In 1922 he took the Canadian half-mile championship in a fast race at the Gorge. The following year he carried off N.E.A. titles for fifty and 100 yards. In this race he not only met and defeated British Columbia talent, but outswam stars from Washington and Oregon.

In 1924 Tom clipped three seconds off the British Columbia 100-yard record to win the title. The following summer he bettered his own time for this distance and won the Canadian championship. Still improving his speed, he captured the provincial fifty and 100-yard championships and retained the latter again a fast field in 1927.

ALBERTA TITLES
Going to the winter carnival at Banff in 1927, Tom sent prairie swimmers to defeat in three championship events. He won the 100 and 200 yards, 100 and 220 yards. Besides winning these events in the same afternoon, he swam on the local relay team which carried off first honors in its section.

Last year, in addition to lowering the Canadian record for fifty yards, he won the three-mile swim and several other straight races.

MESTON SERVICE CLUB CHAMPION Wins First Honors in Golf Tourney Held By Clubmen at Uplands
Kiwanian Vic Meston won the interservice club golf championship at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday when he toured the course in eighty-eight, which his handicap of sixteen lowered to a net seventy-two.

Three Rotarians, President Dan Evans, Bill Wilson and Tommy Angus, finished in a tie for second place, each scoring net seventy-five.

Besides winning the club championship, Kiwanian Meston also took the honors for the lowest score of the day. As a result of his brilliant play he received a cup, the gold button donated by T. O. Mackay and a dozen golf balls.

TIE FOR HIDDEN HOLE
In the hidden hole contest Rotarians T. O. Mackay and Andy Sheret tied for first honors with "twenty-fives." The worst score in this competition was made by Gyro Bert Sibbald, who finished with a "thirty-eight."

HEENEY IS WINNER IN SLOW BOUT

Canadian Fighter Holds and Clinches; Tom Does All the Leading

Montreal, May 30.—Tom Heenev, New Zealand heavyweight, defeated Elsear Rioux, Montreal heavyweight, here last night in the eighth round of their scheduled ten-round bout, when Rioux was disqualified for striking a foul blow.

It was an unsatisfactory match throughout, Rioux's holding tactics and the low blows marring the fight.

DID ALL THE LEADING
Heenev did all the leading, but found trouble in getting at close quarters with Rioux, owing to the latter's long arms and holding in the clinches. In addition, Rioux hit more than ten low blows during the fight, but Referee McParland let these pass unnoticed because they were of the light variety and mostly harmless. The New York arbiter warned Rioux upon four occasions to go in and help Heenev make a fight of it, but the French-Canadian evidently did not like the looks of the battling Anzac, and kept as far away from him as he could. Finally, in the eighth round, McParland caught Rioux hitting another of his low blows during one of the numerous clinches and immediately waved the Montrealer to his corner and awarded the fight to Heenev.

POPULAR DECISION
McParland's action was popular with the vast majority of the crowd of 10,000 persons that witnessed the fight. Following the bout, one judge declared that he had scored fifteen fouls against Rioux, while the other judge stated that he had counted eleven foul blows against the former lumberjack.

With the exception of the first round, which showed both fighters at poor advantage and which was about even, Heenev won every one of the remaining rounds. He was the aggressor throughout, and the times that he did break through Rioux's armour, he made things uncomfortable for his opponent.

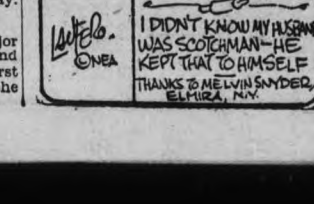

Rioux seldom did anything but attempt to keep out of Tom's way, and struck only about four or five clean blows in the eight rounds.

RIOX LOSES MONEY
Rioux, in addition to being disqualified, lost part of his stipulated earnings. The Montreal Athletic Commission decided that, in view of his stalling, $700 would be deducted from the $5,000 that he was to have received as his share of the bout.

Heenev had a weight advantage, weighing 208, and Rioux 178½ pounds.

The New York Yankees recorded the fewest assists ever made in a major league game when only five were made in a game in 1921.

Jockey R. Russell Rides Three Winners in Succession at Churchill

New York, May 30.—Canaan, the five-year-old runner from the Lamar Stock Farm, has been endeavoring to win a race since last October, and yesterday he finally succeeded in the Dearborn Purse at Washington Park.

The aging son of Hourias won his last race October 20, 1928, at Latonia. Since that time he has campaigned at Bowie, Lexington and Churchill Downs, but with no luck. Yesterday was his fourth time out since last October, and the first time he has finished in the money.

Over a fast mile track the Lamar Stock Farm color-bearer whipped a field of seven veterans, leading the Royal Stable's four-year-old Bleasfield to the wire by a length and a half. J. J. Greeley's Devon was third, closing up a big gap in the stretch run. Canaan's time for the mile was 1:39.

The Sagamore Stable Coln Collector, backed down from ten to one to nine to one, was an easy winner of the Harlem Claiming Stakes, a mile gallop for three-year-olds, and up at Belmont Park, Sun Forward, carrying the colors of Mrs. V. Emanuel, got a poor ride from A. McKechnie, but managed to get the place with S. Ross's Verdi third.

Sanford and Juggler, which were coupled as the Rosedale Stable entries and the favorites, finished at the end of the field. Coln Collector jumped away to the lead, stepping the first six furlongs in 1:11, with the result the field had to drive hard to keep within striking distance. Coln Collector, the stretch Robertson, who had the mount, looked back at the field, easing up near the finish in going under the wire. The winner wound up two lengths ahead.

WISDOM WINNER
R. S. Clark's Wisdom was first home in the feature at Churchill Downs—the Argonne Hotel Handicap—but honors of the day went to Jockey R. Russell, who rode three winners in succession. He was up astride Colocatura in the second, Polly Wog in the third and Virago in the fourth. He was astride Marconi in the feature event, but the best he could do with Mr. Goldblatt's seven-year-old horse was third.

Emery, the nine-year-old runner from the Parkville Stable, finished second to Wisdom in the handicap. The Audley Farm scored another victory at Fairmount as the four-year-old filly by Man of War—Sister Ship—won the fifth race which topped yesterday's card—W. J. Henfling sent out the place winner, False Pride, while D. L. Keiffer's Ben Marshall took down the short end of the purse. Sister Ship's time for the five and one-half furlongs was 1:05 3-5.

CHEMAINUS TO PERFORM HERE

Will Oppose Victoria Capitals in Island League Ball Game Saturday

Victoria Capitals, champions of the Vancouver Island Baseball League, will seek revenge for their defeat at Chemainus last Sunday when they oppose the Up-Islanders in a league game at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon. The game is expected to get under way at 6 o'clock. Allie McGregor and Frank Moore will be the umpires.

Norm Forbes will most likely take the mound for the Caps, while Tommy Bowden will complete the battery. McGinnis, elongated southpaw, who turned back the Caps with only five hits in Chemainus, will occupy the mound for them. Out of their three games played the Caps have won two and lost one and are leading their section, although Duncan are close behind.

The Capitals will hold a general meeting to-night at 8 o'clock, commencing at 8 o'clock. All players and officials of the club are asked to be in attendance.

Old Country Cricket
London, May 30.—Terrific scoring took place in three English county cricket matches yesterday. Playing against Middlesex, Essex made 511 for seven wickets. Warwickshire put together, by a coincidence, the same total against Kent, while the champion county, Lancashire, piled up 481 for only two wickets against Worcester. A great stand was made for the second wicket for Lancashire, Watson scoring 297 and Tydale 155, not out. Cambridge University failed badly against South Africa, Merkel and Oches, the tourists' bowlers, dismissing the students for 98 in their first innings.

Scores at close of play yesterday:
Surrey 197, Northants 126 for three wickets.
Essex vs. Middlesex, at Leyton—Essex 421 for seven wickets.
Warwick vs. Kent, at Birmingham—Warwick 421.
Hampshire 62, Derbyshire 247 for four wickets.
Notts 255, Somerset 33 for five wickets.

Lancashire vs. Worcester, at Worcester—Lancashire 491 for two wickets.
Cambridge University 88, South Africa 236 for five wickets.
Leicester vs. Oxford University, at Oxford—Leicester 347 for eight wickets.

Overcomes Salo's Lead By Winning Lap From Las Cruces to Deming

Deming, N.M., May 30.—Pete Gavuzzi, bewiskered Italian, of Southampton, England, stepped back into his former position as leader of C. C. Pyle's "bunion" derby yesterday, when he sped sixty-three miles over the desert country in the sixtieth lap of the "bunion" derby between Las Cruces, N.M., and Deming, N.M., in 8:14.30. The Italian overcame the lead of 42 minutes and 30 seconds, held by Johnny Salo, and stepped to the front by 21 minutes and 10 seconds. Salo was third yesterday in 9:18.10, 1 hour 3 minutes and 40 seconds behind Gavuzzi. Giusto Umek of Trieste, Italy, third in elapsed time, finished second in the lap in 8:43.30, and added almost two hours to his margin over Sam Richman, New York Legionaire, who holds fourth place. Richman finished in a triple tie for fifth place yesterday, with Philip Cranville, Hamilton, Ont., and M. B. McNamara of Australia. Herbert Hedeman of New York, oldest man in the field, was fourth.

Brentwood First Team Wins From University Boys

Overwhelming University School with a 146-48 score, Brentwood College first cricket eleven carried off senior honors in the inter-school games yesterday. University School second team came back strong in their division to defeat Brentwood juniors with five wickets to spare.

Hambury and Robertson, both of Brentwood, were high scorers in the senior match, the former carrying his bat for fifty-two runs, while the latter made fifty-five.

Star First Baseman a Real Clown

CHARLEY GRIMM

THEY HAVEN'T SEEN A BETTER FIELDING FIRST SACKER SINCE "HALL CHASE"

One of the men upon whom Joe McCarthy is placing a hope that his Chicago Cubs will win the pennant is Charley Grimm, who is regarded by the ball players as the best fielding first baseman since the days of Hal Chase. Grimm always has been a fine fielder. In fact, it was his skill on the defensive that kept him with the Pittsburgh Pirates when his hitting wasn't the size of his hat. But in recent years he has become a hitter. He hasn't led the league or anything like that, but he is respected by all the opposing pitchers as a dangerous batter in a pinch.

Early in his career Grimm was light-hearted and gay. He was a clown and he didn't take his baseball seriously. It has been said that he and Rabbit Maranville laughed the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the National League pennant in 1924, and Barney Dreyfuss, the Pirate chief, sent him on to the Cubs. Grimm is still somewhat of a clown on the ball field, but he has learned when to do his clowning. Off the field he is the life of the Cub family. He has a 4000 banjo and he can play it. He also plays the harmonica, the trombone, the mandolin, the guitar, the piano and the xylophone. He is a swell tenor singer in a quartette and an amateur magician of ability. He carries a magician's outfit around with him and can pull rabbits out of a hat or talk the German folk songs and dances. And he can tear off a wicked shoe tap dance. And during the winter he makes toys in his home for the kids.

One-time Playboy Plays Star Role With Lowly Phils

Philadelphia—It now seems that "Lefty" O'Doul is beginning to take his baseball seriously. When O'Doul first arrived in the big leagues as a member of the New York Yankees his playboy antics soon won him a ticket back to the minors. He was a pitcher then, but he turned to outfielding and returned to the big leagues as a member of the New York Giants. McGraw, however, couldn't stand the way he had to wind up every time he threw a ball from the outfield. He traded him during the winter to the Phils. As a member of the Phils this season O'Doul is earning his spurs as a star in the majors. His hitting has been one of the sensations of the season so far.

Golf Goat Getters

This poor duffer politely went up and held the pin for his partner, who was in the trap short of the green—see what happened? Now, what is the rule? What's the penalty, if any—and who receives it?

The rulings are rather involved, but this: "In stroke competition, when a ball lying within twenty yards (sixty feet) of the hole is 'laid, and strikes, or is stopped by the flag stick or the person standing at the hole, the penalty shall be two strokes. In match play the penalty is the loss of the hole. If the distance is greater than twenty yards there shall be no penalty."

If the ball hits your caddy or your partner in match play the penalty stands, but if it should hit your opponent's caddy that is just a rub of the green. The reason for this is that it is within the realm of possibility that your caddy might purposely allow himself to be hit to cause the ball to stop near the pin. The ramifications of the rule make it seem rather involved and hard to understand, but it should be rather easy to remember the simple rule. It means if the ball hits the flag stick from within twenty yards there is a penalty of two strokes in medal play and loss of the hole in match play. If you are called upon to make an explosion shot within twenty yards of the pin, send the caddy up to take the pin out and then have him get off the green and out of the way, so that if the ball is hit too hard and goes sailing across the green there will be no one standing by the pin to get hit.

It Does Not Stand Alone

This building, hospitable in appearance, is typical of the smaller telephone exchanges in our system. It does not stand alone, for down the street go the copper wires that bind this office to the sixty-four other exchanges in the system of the B. C. Telephone Company and its associated companies.

And the union of this exchange with others is not simply a matter of wires, for there are invisible lines of organization that give this small office the advantage of the knowledge and equipment which we have concentrated together for the efficient operation of 111,000 telephones by 2,200 employees. Association with a group such as ours is valuable.

ENGINEERS SEEK SALARY INCREASE

Urge Immediate Action By Government on Royal Commission Report

Seeking immediate action by the Canadian Parliament on the question of raising the salaries of professional and technical men employed by the Government, the Victoria branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada has joined with other branches in communicating to several ministers the following message:

"Professional engineers throughout Canada would view with alarm any action by the Government at this time, which indicates a reluctance to provide an equitable remuneration to the technical and professional employees whom the Government has for some time recognized as underpaid. It is important that the Federal Government avoid delay in recognizing the value of engineering service of its employees who in a country of immense natural resources must play an important part in the direction and conversion of these resources into material prosperity. It is strongly urged that Parliament should, before prorogation, grant to the Government the authority necessary to insure that payment of any increases in salaries recommended by the Royal Commission be made immediately."

This has been forwarded to Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, Hon. J. A. Robb, Hon. J. H. King, Hon. C. A. Dunning, Hon. J. E. Elliott, Hon. E. Lapointe and Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the Opposition, and D. B. Plunkett, member for Victoria. It is further urged in a second message that in case the report of the Royal Commission is not placed before Parliament at its present session, the Government should be authorized to follow its recommendations in regard to salary increases and use consolidated revenue for granting such, when the report is handed down at a later date.

Ganges, May 30.—At the Empire Day celebration held at Fulford Harbor, Miss Edna Morris was May queen, her maids of honor being Miss Nancy Elliott and Miss Jean Mout. The parade was a great success, first prize being awarded to the Girl Guides' float, and second place to the Girls' Guild float. Billy Peter won first prize for comic decorated car, as a baby buggy. First and second for decorated cars went to "Fulford Athletic Sports" and "Support the Hospital," respectively. First for decorated bicycles went to Leslie Mollett, second to Kenneth Egan.

Races and tug-of-war were held on the sports ground, where ice cream stalls, fish ponds, spinning jenny and lucky dips did good business. The tug-of-war between the ladies, married vs. single, was won by the married ladies, and the married men proved their superiority over the bachelors.

The running race for "old-timers" was won by Leon King. Mrs. David Maxwell was in charge of the band, where the small children kept her busy.

Ladies in charge of tea tables were Mrs. C. Mollett, Mrs. J. H. Lee, Mrs. R. Maxwell, Mrs. J. Mollett and Mrs. T. Reid.

The judges were: Mrs. H. Johnson, Mrs. D. Tweedhope and Mrs. Mulcahy. The Misses Norma and Patricia Fulford are guests of their grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. G. Dean.

How Mrs. Carey cured my washday backaches!

OH, how I used to dread washday! Every Monday it was scrub, scrub, scrub all day long. At night I'd be just about dead.

Then that awful backache. I'd just be getting over it when another washday would be on top of me.

One Monday morning when I wasn't even half through my washing I looked out of the window—and what a surprise I got. There was my new next-door neighbor Mrs. Carey hanging out a lovely white wash.

"How in the world does she do it?" I asked myself for I knew she couldn't have started earlier than I did. I determined to find out right then.

Mrs. Carey's advice

My surprise was even greater when I saw Mrs. Carey herself. She was just as bright and fresh as a daisy yet her wash was bigger than mine.

"How did you do it?" I asked.

"It's no secret," she replied. "I just got tired of doing my wash the old-fashioned rub and scrub way. Now I just soak and rinse. I never touch a washboard, and I don't even boil!"

"But how do you get your wash so lovely and white?" I said to her.

"Haven't you been reading in the papers," she asked, "how women all over town wash clothes a new way—how a new kind of soap, Rinso, soaks clothes whiter than you can scrub them?" That very day I bought Rinso.

No Washday "blues" now

You can imagine how glad I am. Washday is one of my easiest days now. And backache? I haven't had one since the first time I used Rinso.

I wish you women who read this would please take my advice. Don't do another wash the old-fashioned "scrub" way. Try Rinso. Just once—that's all I ask. You'll say, as thousands of other women have, that it's the easiest—quickest—and safest way to wash clothes snowy white.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 80 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 80 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist. (Adv.)

Australians Attend Last Tour Banquet

Mayor Ansoncomb Extends Welcome to Members of Y.A.L. at Civic Dinner

Speakers Look For More Co-operation Between Canada and Australia

Gathering for their last formal function before leaving North America for their home the party of the 160 members of the Young Australia League, attended the civic banquet in the Empress Hotel last night.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mayor Herbert Ansoncomb expressed his pleasure at being able to entertain the young men of the antipodes and stated that he hoped the party would visit Canada again.

Alderman James Adam expressed his enjoyment at being able to reciprocate in some measure for the courtesy which had been extended to him during his tour of Australia and New Zealand with the all-Canadian football team two years ago.

Informing that he was speaking to a gathering containing the future premier of Australia, Alderman H. O. Litchfield spoke of the future of the visitors. Theirs would be the task of welding together the commonwealth and co-operating with its sister dominions, he added.

After extending the city's welcome to its visitors, Mayor Ansoncomb referred to the Canadian-Australian treaty. It had not developed as well for Australia as it had for Canada, he stated. But, he added, it was not enough for nations to sign a treaty to promote trade between the dominions. It was up to the Australian business men to come into Canada and develop commerce along channels opened by the treaty as the Canadians had done in the Antipodes.

The benefit to be derived from such a tour as the visitors had almost completed was stressed by the Mayor. He spoke of the value of making contacts in North America both from the point of view of business and cultural development.

Particularly effective was their visit at the present time the Mayor continued. Since Victoria was promoting an "Empire Shopping Week" he considered the advertising potentialities of the Young Australia League tremendous in popularizing the sale of goods from their land.

Moreover, such visits tended to solidify the Empire and unify the ideals of the sister dominions who had fought side by side in the world wars.

In closing, he congratulated Mayor J. J. Simons on the successful tour he was concluding.

Following the mayor, Alderman James Adam added his tribute to the excellent standard of youth which the party represented. He referred to his trip to Australia, noting the courtesy and hospitality with which he and his party of footballers had been received, and hoped that the visitors would carry away as pleasant memories from their last port of call as he had from the antipodes.

As a slight remembrance of Victoria, the mayor then presented his guest with a small token, telling him to write to his Victoria friend when he became twenty-one and to say what he was doing and why he was doing it.

Expressing the hope that the link forged by Captain Vancouver's explorations of Australia and Vancouver Island would ever exist between their country and Canada, Alderman Litchfield urged the visitors to retain the memory of this land when they returned home.

He spoke of the similar ideals which the dominions shared, stressing the Anglo-Saxon love for liberty, justice and constitutional law enjoyed by both and hoped that the two lands would stand together in upholding the best British traditions.

Major J. J. Simons then thanked the city's representatives for their courtesy during his party's visit and voiced his appreciation of all that had been done for the visitors.

Proceeding the dinner the youths sang the Australian National Anthem and followed it heartily with "O Canada."

Following the banquet the boys were entertained at the Capitol Theatre.

Came Rebecca Lodge entertained the sixty-six ladies at the Aged Women's Home on Wednesday afternoon at a dinner served in the dining hall of the home. The dinner was organized by Mesdames Isabella Hammond, Noble Grand; E. G. Youngs, Taylor and Livingston, aided by twenty-five members of the lodge.

The tables were decorated with sweet peas, iris, ferns and Maypoles with dancing kewpies.

Twenty-six of the aged ladies in residence were unable to attend the function and were served in their respective rooms.

An entertainment followed the dinner, the artists being: A. W. Trevett and John Doby, songs; Sybil Holyoak, Midget Fitzgerald, Dorothy May and Miss Ross, dances; Misses Marchant and Barr, solo; Jean Munroe, recitation; W. Bourke, conjuring act. Jesse Longfield accompanied the vocalists and the programme was under the co-sponsorship of Miss Phyllis Hoggarth.

There will be a special public meeting in the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street, to-night at 8 o'clock. Adjutant Morrett will announce the total amounts collected by the different departments of the Victoria corps for this year's self-denial effort.

A military button found on Rock Bay Road is at the office of the Post Patria Branch Canadian Legion. The owner can obtain it by giving the number.

THE DRYDOCK

To the Editor:—Being a former resident of the Orient, and at present a resident of your fair city, I have been tempted to reply to a letter in the press signed by George E. Brooks, in which he says that this community as a whole should use its influence with the Canadian Pacific Railway to insure the ocean vessels of that company making use of the Esquimalt drydock, instead of the Hongkong drydock.

I presume that if Mr. Brooks happened to be a resident of Hongkong (instead of a resident of Victoria), he would not have written that letter, because he probably would have had different ideas. The Canadian Pacific Steamships carry as many passengers and as much freight from China as they do from Canada, and it was the Kowloon Dock in China that made it possible for such ships as the Empress of Canada, Empress of Russia and Empress of Asia to operate on the Pacific. It is well known that until recently there was no place in western Canada where such ships could dock, and the Canadian Pacific has been dependent on the Kowloon Dock for the upkeep of these modern ships for many years.

Looking at it from an outsider's point of view, does it seem just or fair to rob Hongkong of the docking business that she has taken such good care recently built a drydock here?

If the Canadian Pacific had waited to build her ships until you had a drydock large enough to accommodate them, these enough to have been built yet.

The merchants of China are due some consideration, and if the Canadian Pacific treated them as Mr. Brooks would like them to, it would not be long before these fine ships would not be needed on the Pacific, as the trade would be lost. There is another very small matter I might mention, and that is that a large ship here is about twice as costly as docking a large ship in Hongkong, to say nothing of the very much larger one it would take for the annual overhead and the consequent loss of time and revenue. Do not forget that the company is guardian of its shareholders funds.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Wheat Market Cracks Again

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, May 30.—Wheat. Wheat has a few friends after the opening this morning, prices started to slip from the start after, quite a weak opening and the market soon ran into stop loss orders and general liquidation of long wheat. Liverpool closed 2½ to 2½ lower. This was discouraging to holders and the weather map showed conditions very favorable in both winter and spring country.

There were heavy rains in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and the weather south is mild and for the most part dry. Reports indicate that the winter wheat crop is making good progress and harvest has already started in the extreme south.

There were reports of fairly large export sales, a late dispatch from New York to-day stated about 1,000,000 had been worked on the break, but this had no effect on the market. The only support in evidence was in the buying by holders of bids or short covering.

The wheat market is in a demoralized condition and a large carry-over seems inevitable. Rallies on oversold conditions are to be expected, but the general opinion is that yet lower prices must be expected. Advice caution in selling except on strong rallies.

Coarse grains: There was quite active trade in oats and barley. Very little doing in rye. There is continued demand for barley for export and the domestic demand for feed oats is well maintained.

INVESTMENT BONDS SEEN AS BARGAINS; MONTREAL QUIET WITH N.Y. CLOSED

Montreal, May 30 (By B.C. Bond)

—Due to the protracted period of declining markets, millions of dollars of bonds that were used as collateral have been thrown into the market, with the result that to-day good investment bonds can be obtained at real bargain rates.

This condition usually follows a break in the market, but has become more accentuated in the present one on account of its drastic nature.

Ultimate earning power is the criterion of value of any stock and although buying enthusiasm may create a market high above a fair valuation on an earning basis, prices always come back to their true levels.

As has been pointed out on a number of previous occasions, Financial Service says purchasers of stocks should study the merits of their investments and only then can they rest assured.

Montreal, May 30.—With the New York board closed to-day for Memorial Day, there was little activity on the local board.

Credit developments in New York were reported more satisfactory and a large reduction in broken loans is expected to be announced after the close Friday.

Because the action of International Nickel in the past few months has brought about a very considerable improvement in its technical position and because information reaching the street from the company's developments indicates results up to expectations, a great deal of market activity is turning in the direction of this issue.

Brazilian came second again to-day in volume of sales. The very alarming few weeks ago seem to have been down presumably because of the reassessing statements concerning conditions in the republic that have emanated not only from well posted officials of the utility company, but also from the British Chamber of Commerce of Sao Paulo and Southern Brazil. More attention is now being given to the earning record of the company, which in the past two years has shown an almost spectacular climb and current buying of the stock appears to be of a confident sort.

Winnipeg Electric was again firm. Now that the Seven Sisters Pulp and Paper Company has been ratified, work on the construction of the plant of the Northern Power Company, the subsidiary created to look after the development, is going forward. For April the company reported gross earnings of $200,000, an increase of $20,000 over April of last year, while the net showed an increase of $10,000 by the same comparison.

WHITNEY LETTER

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

New York, May 29.—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says today:

ADDITIONAL ADVANCE

"The line of demarcation between the rail and industrial groups is becoming drawn, and so clearly drawn that in yesterday's pre-holiday market the rail group recorded an advance approximately equal to the decline recorded by the industrial averages. Despite the fact that only one of the two groups recorded an advance for the day, the total market action must be considered satisfactory and indicative of further advance to-day, as there has been no cancellation of the indications that the market for the time being is out of trouble even though we are witnessing the final indication of decline, viz., the sharp rally against individual issues which spring lower prices to those issues directly involved without affecting the balance of the list.

"We are passing over the end of the month not only without a flurry in call money, but with money offered and loaning at the lowest rate of the month, and banks which would make no commitments in time money ten days ago, soliciting bids for time accommodations, with the time rates slowly but surely weakening.

"With German marks again at a new top for 1927, I am rather positive that Friday, at the latest, notification will be received, and it will be publicly announced that German reparations negotiations have been successfully concluded, a development which is regarded in banking quarters as the most constructive development since the European nations re-established their gold standard. No change in discount rates is expected until those rates are revised downward, while the next brokers' loan statement should show a reduction in loans of approximately $200,000,000.

"Continue to concentrate on rails and public utilities taking oil stocks on any moderate reaction.

"Since New York Central continues available below 190, its purchase continues to be recommended in anticipation of a new record for the year around 220. The purchase of New Haven below 105 is recommended for an advance in the near term future to around 120.

"In the utility group continue the purchase of Consolidated Gas below 110, North American below 115, Electric Power and Light below 63, Union Corporation below 63, and both for initial commitments and for a new international Telephone and Telegraph around 80, as well as California Edison within the range of 57."

GEN. ESCOBAR IS HUNTED NOW IN THIS PROVINCE

Vancouver, May 30.—In the most luxurious suite of the Hotel Georgia surrounded by the most expensive flowers money could buy, a man believed to be a Mexican and answering to the general description of General Jesus Gonzalo Escobar, fleeing leader of the defunct Mexican revolution, lived for three days, May 15, 16 and 17.

The man who is thought to be the fugitive leader left the hotel on May 17, accompanied by a family of four and his secretary, who is believed to be Pedro Alvarez, chief aide. It is believed they left Vancouver by automobile, but there is no definite information on this point.

SECRET SERVICE MEN

In the last week four Mexicans have arrived in Vancouver and although they all deny any connection with the Government, it is believed they are secret service men on the trail of the former revolutionary leader.

The arrival of the mysterious Mexican at the Hotel Georgia was preceded by a visit from his secretary, who reserved the best suite available. This reservation was changed once and his principal finally arrived May 15.

PLENTY OF MONEY

By arrangements made by the secretary, the rooms occupied by the Mexican visitor and his family were flooded with flowers, the most expensive obtainable. The party gave the general impression of having plenty of money. When the secretary registered at the hotel for himself and his principal he gave no address. The clerk asked for his address and the reply was: "Oh, the last place we were in was Seattle." The clerk then filled in that address. While this party was in Vancouver a party of Mexicans who said they were from Mexico inquired for information about British Columbia roads at the Automobile Club. They did not indicate in any way which direction they proposed to travel.

New York, May 30.—Our assertion yesterday that the stocks had reached bottom, and that the additional selling that would develop would be nothing more than the final wave of liquidation, was justified by yesterday's movement. The market absorbed all of the distress selling in good fashion. The subsequent rally, although not very large, is impressive evidence that the market is beginning to feel the end of the break has been reached. A number of the traders, caught with impaired margins, will dispose of some of their holdings during the rally, thus preventing a broad advance.

The position of the market, however, is vastly better, and we do not believe in recommending a constructive attitude on the major body of stocks. Owing to the severity of the break, the recovery, after initial short covering is satisfied, will not be particularly big. As a rule, each reaction is followed by a period of inactivity, and we anticipate similar action in the market now. Transactions should dwindle to the lowest records of the past months. The only exceptions will be the rail and oil groups which are in remarkably strong positions and have been bought heavily during the last few days. A broader buying movement in these groups is looked for during next week with considerable strength displayed to-day also.

Individual issues, which lost considerably during the break, should show good recovery on the basis of their technical position, and purchases for a turn should bring profits in a good many stocks to-day. The Federal Reserve meeting, scheduled for the afternoon, will have an influence in checking activity to-day, but the hope for a very substantial decline in brokers' loans, which will be reported Friday afternoon, will counteract all discount rumors which will undoubtedly be heard during the trading hours to-day.

NEW POWER LINE

Vernon, B.C., May 30.—Premier Tolmie on June 15 will throw the switch which will set the mighty Shuswap River to work furnishing light and power for a whole string of Okanagan Valley cities. The dam, plant and transmission lines are complete and a trial run will be made on Saturday.

The development at the fall is 3,800 horsepower and the project cost a million dollars. Work on construction commenced December 28, 1927.

Before entering the Cabinet Dr. Sutherland practised in Revelstoke, where he was C.P.R. surgeon. He is a graduate of McGill and took post-graduate work in Vienna.

VANCOUVER STOCK TAX

Vancouver, May 30.—Difference of opinion regarding the proposed tax on stock transfers appeared in the civic finance committee Wednesday, following presentation of a protest by A. N. Wolverson and A. E. Jukes in behalf of Vancouver Stock Exchange, for which they sought the council's support.

A special committee of Aldermen W. H. Lemke, chairman, E. W. Dean, P. C. Gibbons, Warner Loan and H. J. DeGraeve will go into the question thoroughly at 4 p.m. to-day and report to a special meeting of the council set for 10.30 a.m. Friday.

Imposition of the tax passed by the House of Commons and now before the Senate for approval would practically drive the Stock Exchange out of Vancouver and mean a loss to the city in payroll alone of approximately $450,000 monthly, Mr. Wolverson declared. He pointed out that the city's exchange, which constituted probably the second largest mining exchange in the world, had grown till seats were now worth $50,000.

Calculated on a basis of taxes paid by the Vancouver Stock Exchange during the last four months, amounting to $15,187.97, this amount under the system proposed would amount for the year to $960,000 or an advance of 2100 per cent, the delegation said.

To stress the tendency the tax would have to force business across the line, Mr. Wolverson said that if it was put into effect 23,000 shares of Bayview would pay a tax of $28.75 in Seattle and $75 in Vancouver, and other stocks proportionately.

Alderman H. J. DeGraeve voiced his opinion the tax would materially affect the prosperity of the city, particularly from the construction point of view. Already he had heard of contemplated buildings being cancelled on account and he understood firms now were seriously considering moving their entire organizations to Seattle or Spokane.

Alderman J. A. Paton and Alderman Warner Loan agreed the tax would undoubtedly throw much of Vancouver's financial business to the United States.

The period of speculation through which the west had just passed might be the reason for this action on the part of the Dominion Parliament, suggested Alderman Angus MacInnis, who did not think it possible the Federal Government of whom make their living in that business, would jeopardize their own interests.

New York, May 30.—(By B.C. Bond)—Stockholders of Bethlehem Steel have approved the increase in authorized common stock to 5,000,000 no par shares from 2,700,000 shares. Stockholders are offered rights to subscribe to 400,000 shares in the ratio of one share at $85 to every three held. Rights expire June 18. Proceeds are to provide additional facilities for the present properties to increase Bethlehem's capacity, which is now 8,000,000 tons of ingots a year.

Bethlehem's earnings in the second quarter will be as good as in the first, Eugene Grace, president, said.

New York, May 30.—A number of the bear traders were credited with holding to their short position, as the market closed yesterday for the Memorial Day holiday, because they insisted the market had not yet proved its ability to hold on upturns. Further strength might bring covering from these professionals on a heavy scale.

Call money holding at six per cent the last few days has been a surprise to some who had predicted a flurry this week in connection with preparations for the end-of-the-month distributions. The decline in the market has reduced the demand for funds to a considerable extent and this is one of the explanations made for the ease thus far in the call rate.

What optimists are around appear to be those who maintained a long position throughout the decline. There are reports this week of good scale buying, but they lack confirmation. Professionals and floor traders were purchasers on balance the last couple of days. These operators covered shorts during the early week's weakness, and were moderate sellers as the advance continued during the week.

As a result of the sharp declines which have been recorded in stocks and the substantial liquidation which has been in progress, a big decrease is expected in brokers' loans, estimates running as high as $250,000,000. A large volume of credit has been released because of the liquidation of loans, so there is a possibility that the stringency anticipated in call money in connection with month-end requirements will not be as drastic as predicted.

There has been no change in sentiment. Conservative observers are strongly advocating reducing long holdings, pointing out that this would increase the equities in margin accounts and protect them to such an extent if the reaction is resumed. Others are in favor of following the upturn, with stop orders as a safeguard for long accounts.

Some scale buying has been reported in a number of railroad shares, but no attempt has been made to pick up these stocks in a way which might cause them to resist. The accumulation is referred to in many quarters as having been for the account of important interests.

As was expected, earnings of New Haven in April were substantially above the same month last year. The general market condition has prevented this showing from being reflected in the stock, but New England interests who often have been prominent in the issue insist that eventually the decided change in the road's affairs must become an important influence marketwise.

Steady progress is expected to be made toward improving conditions in the oil industry and naturally this should make itself felt in the stock market step by step, when conditions in securities are more normal.

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By
DAVID LYALL

"He was once a consul, but not when he married her," said Wally hardy. "She's in Germany, locked up somewhere, where we shan't hear of her, I expect, till the war is over. Beatrice has had one short letter, since she got there—a letter full of nothing. I read it this morning. It was so cleverly written that it was even impossible to read between the lines."

"Oh, poor thing! But perhaps she may be happy! We must hope so." "Miss Brodie, the thing is clean impossible, for all the reasons there are. To begin with, she ought never to have married him. I'm all for folks marrying in their own country. I'm sure even it is better not to marry the English, and of course, vice versa. Then, as we're going to wipe the Germans of the face of the earth, I don't just see what's to be the end of it for her. It's an awful tragedy, that's what it is!"

Monica sighed, agreeing completely with every word he spoke. Then she got him to talk about New Zealand, but found him less enthusiastic than might have been expected. Wally rendered thanks to the land of sunshine and cooler air for his return to health, and nothing more. He would be scrupulously just, but New Zealand, or, rather, the people among whom his lot had been cast, who, after all, are the deciding factors in existence for most, had failed to win his heart. They were happy together, these two young creatures, for youth calls to youth all the world over. When Wally rose at last, thanking her simply for her kindness, and said he was going over to the little burying-ground in the corner of the park, by the ruined chapel, where his father and mother slept, her eyes filled up.

"They know, I'm sure, where they are to-day, that you have come back, and that we are still fighting and serving for Scotland," she whispered at the last.

Wally wrung her hand at parting, and after he had gone a few steps across the grass, walked back to the open door, where she stood, her grey form and white apron silhouetted against a dark background.

"Say, Miss Brodie, would you write to me sometimes, if I write to you when I'm in camp? It might be Gales or Redford, I don't know. I'm finding out to-morrow, I'm just getting my house in order."

"Yes, of course, I should love to write, and I'll send you things from Linnorrie, flowers, as they come on in season—the primroses are the best. Across there in the little wood they are heavenly in April. I wish you'd come back to Linnorrie in primrose time."

"Why?" asked Wally, and his eyes glared to her face.

"They seem to belong somehow to us who are young. They are all for hope, and the things that belong to hope. When I see them I know the winter has really gone, and something sings in my heart."

"Something sings in your heart. I'll remember that," said Wally thickly. "And when I'm in France, where I hope to be when primroses come, I'll look for some from Linnorrie. Thank you again."

She watched him, a lonely figure, walking a trifle awkwardly across the park, where the early November shadows were already falling, and all the pitiful heart of youth and love and longing was in her eyes. To Wally something new had come, some vision of what life could be for happier men, the favorites of fortune, who have but to desire and attain. But he would have to fight for every inch of ground, and if ever he had a home, and a woman to love and to love him, they would be hardy, yet gloriously won. Meanwhile, his country's honor and life were in his keeping, and presently, by the side of the old, old graves of his race where the mother he had adored and the father of whom he had none but sweet memories slept together, life's fitful fever over for ever, he consecrated himself. There he took his vow of service, to give clean, pure tribute to the name he bore, no quarter to the enemy, loyalty to his comrades, and, when the time was ripe and he should be free, perhaps, who knows, his feet might turn again to the home of his fathers, and find Monica on the steps.

But these were the dreams of youth, never to be realised this side of time. For Wally Heron there was a Better Country, where:

"E'en grown-up men secure
Better manhood by a brave leap
Through the chill mist of Death's
thin sleep
Manhood that will endure."

CHAPTER XXVI

"Captain Grier's here, Miss Beatrice," said Lizzie Henderson, speaking down the tube with a queer thrill in her voice. "Can you come up?"

Could she come up? Beatrice Heron's feet simply flew up the stairs, and with a lack of reserve which somewhat astonished Jimmy Grier, almost threw herself into his arms.

"Oh, Jimmy! And looking so splendid! Is it really you?"

Jimmy was looking both smart and fit. His brand new R.A.M.C. uniform fitted him like a glove. His year of travel in all parts of the world, and six months active service on the fighting fronts had removed the last trace of awkwardness from his looks or bearing. He was very handsome, and Beatrice sighed inwardly for the "might-have-been."

He shook her hand warmly, noting that she looked pale, and that she had aged a good deal.

"When did you get home, and have you seen Donald and Allie?" she asked breathlessly. "They've felt it terribly, that you've never had leave. And how long do you get now?"

"Five days. And it takes one to come, and one to go! It is awfully good of you to look me up."

"I wanted to. We sat up till 3 o'clock this morning at the Manse, so I've got most of the news."

"But you sit down, won't you? You're the first one I really know of. I've had a chance of speaking to you in the war, I mean. Wally writes letters, but of course they're all censored."

"Hasn't he got a commission yet?"

"He's not seeking it, Jimmy. Wally's splendid, I'm so proud of him. I don't know how to bear myself. But oh, I do want to see him! Leave gets scarcer and scarcer. But honestly, Jimmy, how are we getting on? How long do you think it will last yet?"

"Years, you mean months, Jimmy! We simply can't go on like this. I'm afraid to open the papers in the morning now. I suppose you know Edinburgh has lost thousands."

"So has Glasgow, and London, and everywhere else," he said gloomily. "And it's only the beginning."

"Oh, Jimmy, no, no! Surely not!"

He sat down and looked her very straight in the face.

"Honestly, Miss Heron, I see no prospect of the end, nor any reason why the war should go on without end. We're not ready, even yet. I could tell you things, even about the medical service, which would turn your hair grey. But we're getting ready. And when we are, why then, we'll bring it to an end, that's all. But don't let's talk about the war."

"Isn't anything else, Jimmy?"

"Oh, yes, there are a few things left. I'm glad to find you here, but I don't honestly think you're looking very well. How's your business getting on?"

"Don't ask me. I loathe it. I hate and despise myself for sticking to it."

"Can't you leave it?"

"Not yet, I'm sure. I'm waiting for Madame Theodore to come back. If she would, I'd go out to France immediately, I'm dying to go. I can't sleep at night for it, nor attend to my business in the day."

"Then there's still business doing?"

Uncle Wiggily Fools the Fox

(Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)
 By HOWARD R. GARIS

For nearly a week the Fuzzy Fox had been keeping close watch over Uncle Wiggily. The Bad Chap had not tried to catch the rabbit. But early in the morning the Fox would get up before breakfast and hide himself in the high grass near Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"What are you doing here?" a hopping black cricket once asked the Fox as the Bad Chap was hiding in the grass.

"I am watching to see what Uncle Wiggily does," was the answer.

"That's all the Fox said just then. But he had made up his mind that when he next tried to catch Uncle Wiggily there would be no fooling—he would surely get the rabbit.

"And to get that," said the Fox to himself, "I must watch Uncle Wiggily a few days and see just what he does and where he goes. He will not know I am watching and when I find out which path he takes I can easily follow and grab him."

So, for nearly a week, the Fox had hidden and watched the rabbit gentleman hop away, each day, from his bungalow. Each day Uncle Wiggily went the same way. He would hop out, look up at the sky, twinkle his pink nose and then go along a path through the woods.

He made up his mind to catch Uncle Wiggily.

"But the funny thing about it," said the Fox to his wife one night when he reached home after watching the rabbit hop away, "the funny thing about it is that Uncle Wiggily always wears his old clothes. He used to hop around all dressed up, but for the last week he has always worn an old, ragged suit. Once I stayed hidden in the grass until he came back, and he was all covered with mud. It must be queer adventures that Uncle Wiggily finds. I wonder what they can be?"

"Why don't you sneak along after him and find out?" asked Mrs. Fox.

"I will," said her husband, and he did.

The next day, while he was hiding in the high grass, the Fox once more saw Uncle Wiggily come out of his bungalow dressed in an old, ragged suit, covered with dried mud.

"Now I shall find out his secret," thought the Fox, sneaking along behind the bunny gentleman so softly that Uncle Wiggily never heard him at all. "I'll see where he goes."

It did not take the Fox long to find out, for Uncle Wiggily went to the secret slide where he had seen Oscar Otter and the two beaver boys, Tootie and Noodle Flat Tail, having fun one day. The slide was on a slippery mud hill leading down to a brook and, after seeing the otter and beavers sliding down the wet, muddy hill Uncle Wiggily had tried it himself. But first he put on his old clothes. He had lots of fun sliding.

Uncle Wiggily did not slide all the way down the muddy hill into the water. That was all right for a beaver or otter, as these animals live half the time under water. Near the end of the slide was a low-hanging tree, with

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1929

Astrologers read this as rather an unimportant day in planetary direction. It is well, nevertheless, to be conservative in business matters.

Temptation to speculate will be strong at this time when the stock market will present peculiar phases of fluctuation and new corporations will be formed to exploit late scientific discoveries of labor-saving inventions.

This is not a lucky day to seek employment and they who demand advance in compensation will be sorry they spoke.

Under the direction of the stars national heroes old and new may be severely criticized or even misrepresented. A strong iconoclastic spirit may be widely prevalent at this time.

Extremes of sentiment from that which is strongly patriotic to that colored by Bolshevistic propaganda probably will be prevalent as the summer advances.

Warnings are given that the common denominator of popular intelligence may be surprisingly low when revealed in the expression of opinion on important public questions.

This is a day when women should subordinate their ideas and should refrain from making any sort of initiative in public affairs.

The seers foretell that women are to lead in one of the most effective reform movements ever instituted in America, but the time for starting work has not yet arrived.

Those who read the stars announce that tremendous moral and intellectual forces are slowly working beneath the surface of national thought.

While the most tremendous achievements will be attained in professional and commercial fields there will be a corresponding advance in spiritual and intellectual activity, it is prophesied.

The children of the nation are now to be protected and trained as never before, astrologers forecast, and all who are unfortunate in their environment will be cared for after novel and effective plans.

Under this way the instinct of motherhood will affect the nation in a manner that assures marvelous race development, occultists declare.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a prosperous year in which there may be unexpected journeys.

FAMOUS TRAGEDIAN'S GREAT GRAND NIECE PLAYS IN "BONDSMAN"

Renee Macready, great-grandniece of the famous Irish tragedian, William Charles Macready, whose feud with Edwin Forrest caused the bloody Astor Place riots in New York City, has a prominent part in "The Bondsman," Sir Hall Caine's celebrated story, which is at the Playhouse Theatre.

To obtain the realistic scenes depicted in Sir Hall Caine's novel, a company of thirty players journeyed to the Isle of Man and to Sicily. With them went Norman Kerry, the star, who made a trip to England just to make this picture.

RENEE ADOREE IS STARRED IN FILM NOW AT COLUMBIA

Renee Adoree, who was born and reared in the tent of a traveling circus in France, was borrowed by Pathe from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play the role of a carnival high diver in "The Spieler," a dramatic and thrilling photoplay showing at the Columbia Theatre.

The signing of Miss Adoree for the leading feminine role in this picture of carnival life augments an imposing cast that includes Alan Hale, Fred Kohler and Clyde Cook. Tay Garnett directed "The Spieler" from an original story by Hal Conklin, on which Garnett has collaborated.

Through her performance of Melisande in "The Big Parade," Miss Adoree became one of the screen's outstanding personalities and it is said that her role in "The Spieler" is the most important she has essayed since that memorable production.

DRAMA OF SWISS ALPS UNFOLDED IN "BETRAYAL"

Gorgeous scenery and novelty of theme add an unusual note to Emil Jannings' sixth masterpiece, "Betrayal," which opened at the Capitol Theatre to-day for a three-day run. Two leading Paramount featured players, Esther Ralston and Gary Cooper, carry important supporting roles in this powerful drama set in the Swiss Alps. Jannings' quick rise to fame on the American screen was marked by five epic pictures, including "The Way of All Flesh" and "The Patriot." The sixth in this great series, "Betrayal," places Jannings in an entirely new environment and offers him a story worthy of his great histrionic power.

On the stage at the Capitol are Mantell's Mannikins in a welcome return engagement, and presenting an entirely new show, along with Miss Dorothy Hartree, contralto soloist, who was awarded the medal as the most outstanding soloist of the late Victoria musical festival. Chris Wade and his band are also being featured, and smiling Jack Medford officiates as master of ceremonies.

GREAT NAVAL STORY IS PORTRAYED ON COLISEUM SCREEN

One of the greatest naval stories ever filmed, "Carry On," is the screen offering at the Coliseum Theatre all this week. The picture is a splendid one, and all who have so far seen it declare it to be one of the finest ever shown at the Coliseum. The plot is a strong one, the direction excellent, and the acting by the cast of English stars is superb. Moore Marriott, one of England's foremost actors, has the leading role in the picture, and gives one of his finest performances. He is ably supported by Tribby Clark and an excellent cast. The picture is an all-British one, made in England.

The story portrays the love of two youths for each other and their swearing of eternal friendship. Their stations in life, however, are widely separated. One is the son of a fisherman while the other's father is an
